LB 954 is the Biometric Autonomy Liberty Law.

Sections 2 and 3 provide Legislative findings and definitions.

LB 954 declares that biometric data is the property of the individual from whom the data is collected and the individual may sell the right to use the data. Any entity that collects or possesses biometric data shall do so in a manner that is secure and portable.

The bill prohibits individuals from being required or coerced to wear or be subject to a device of any kind that collects biometric data. Similarly, individuals shall not be required to provide or submit to the collection of biometric data. These provisions do not apply to law enforcement agencies.

Section 10 prohibits entities in possession of biometric data from selling, leasing, trading, or directly profiting from biometric data. Furthermore, entities in possession of biometric data shall not disclose that data unless certain conditions are met, such as the individual's consent.

No fiscal impact.
