to present that argument to the body and I think it was well presented. I am going to support Senator Bereuter's move. I also won't say that I support every move of this kind. I would want to hear the arguments and I will tell you why I would support it. The merits of the bill have been discussed by practically everybody who has spoken thus far. I am not going to take very long. I have got to keep my promise. I may have a totally different view of land-use than anybody on the Agriculture Committee. Maybe I feel that counties should not be the basis because a problem in land-use is not going to respect a county boundary. Perhaps what happens in one county is going to be detrimental to the county which is right across the line so there has to be a broader overseership, a final authority in a body other than the county, and maybe everybody disagrees with that. So the bill must, I think, be assured of coming on the floor of the Legislature. If there are members of the Legis--of the Agriculture Committee who have pride of ownership in this particular type of legislation, perhaps a professional type of jealousy could emerge which would result in the killing of this bill on that basis and I think that would not be proper. So if Senator Schmit will guarantee that this bill will come on the floor, he can change my vote.

PRESIDENT: The chair recognizes Senator George.

SENATOR GEORGE: Mr. President, I do have a question of Senator Bereuter. Would the Senator yield.

PRESIDENT: Well, he has nothing to yield, but is this a point of information.

SENATOR GEORGE: Yes.

SENATOR BEREUTER: I will answer a point of information.

SENATOR GEORGE: Since we are most likely going to have three or four bills relating to land-use in this session, don't you think that all of those bills should be handled by one committee.

SENATOR BEREUTER: No, I don't because I happen to think that land-use transcends committee boundaries. It is an issue that effects every one of us every day whether we realize it or not. If, in fact, this bill ever sees the light of day, the one we are talking about, 357, I can very well see it having ramifications that will affect every one of us. It will affect every committee chairman here. Basic responsibility for changes that are traditionally considered to be land-use are undoubtedly going to come out of Agriculture and Environment as long as that is the committee that receives such--that has been classified as the committee to receive such legislation. I would welcome joint hearings, however, where there is--where the Agriculture Committee happens to feel that it like Health and Welfare, for instance, might have a direct interest. That would be one way of handling this particular situation, if it is really a critical bill.

PRESIDENT: The chair recognizes Senator Kennedy.

SENATOR KENNEDY: Mr. President, fellow members, very briefly, I would hope that some of you might have read in the news last night and it could have been yesterday or the day before. I apologize for not having more information. I definitely read an article in the University of Nebraska is holding hearings
