PRESIDENT: Senator Clark, for what purpose do you arise?

SENATOR CLARK: I have an announcement, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT: Proceed, Senator.

SENATOR CLARK: All right. If anyone in the body has not been out to the penitentiary or reformatory and would like to go, if you would just either tell me or my secretary, I'll set the trip up for you.

PRESIDENT: That's a voluntary trip, not involuntary?

SENATOR CLARK: It's voluntary. I'll set the trip anytime you want unless the President orders you out there otherwise.

PRESIDENT: Fine. Mr. Speaker, do you have your motion to adjourn?

CLERK: Mr. President, I move we adjourn. Signed J. W. Burbach, Speaker.

PRESIDENT: There is a motion to adjourn. All in favor signify by saying aye. If a time certain isn't spelled out, it's nine. Contrary. We are adjourned until 9 o'clock.
