LB 533

SENATOR MOREHEAD: Thank you, Mr. President, I am back. I wore my boots today, Senator Lamb, for a good reason because I knew what kind of stuff we were going to be wading through and we sure are. There is no doubt about it. Now, Senator Kahle, I also know what happens when you get in too deep with those boots, and as this goes along, I am prepared to wear my breast waders in here next time so I don't pull out of my boots...I know, I will get an extension, elevators. Senator Kahle gave a very moving speech about the good ship Nebraska and being at the helm of the good ship Nebraska and I realize that a lot of us are staying in there pitching right now for our opposition to this and down on the farm you pitch a lot of different things but we are going to keep at it in opposition, and I suggest to those of you who consider yourselves fiscally prudent or fiscally conservative with an intellectual outlook on this that Senator Kahle's good ship Nebraska is going along dragging an anchor and you are making a long term commitment and you are making that commitment in dollars for the generations ahead also. And, again, I ask you to consider that. Thank you.

SENATOR V. JOHNSON: Senator Morehead, you have left me perplexed. Where did you leave off?

SENATOR MOREHEAD: I said for all of those of you who are fiscally conservative out there, and I think possibly some of you are going to be voting for the advancement of this, that your good ship Nebraska is going to be dragging an anchor.

SENATOR V. JOHNSON: And had you concluded your remarks?

SENATOR MOREHEAD: That is right. That is my conclusion. You can't tell. Think, please think.

SENATOR V. JOHNSON: I am a little slow. Senator Sam Cullan.

SENATOR SAM CULLAN: Mr. President, members of the Legislature, I don't want to prolong this serious debate only to say that I am sure Senator Chronister, and Senator Sieck, and I would be much more likely and enthusiastic about supporting this bill if we could have one wing of it to train chiropractors. Thank you.

SENATOR V. JOHNSON: Senator Steve Wiitala please.

SENATOR WIITALA: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Members of the Legislature, some of you that are new to the body, I would like to refresh your memory by going back to the original
