

they can cite one case where this type of thing has happened that maybe the elevator goes broke first and then the bank is...they are going to find out the bank has no funds. I think this is a very unrealistic situation that they are picturing, something that is...I don't know what the odds would be that ever happened...but I'd say again we can pursue consumer protection to the extent that we protect the small businesses clear out of business and I think this type of bill is inclined to do that and I would urge you to support this amendment.
