SENATOR LANDIS: And on Select File I might well be persuaded to bring in my amendment a second time and to tell you why I think it is the most reasonable approach. At this time, however, neither side buys it. They want the dog fight and they have got it. We will see what happens.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Okay, Mr. Clerk, do you have something there?

CLERK: Mr. President, just some items for the Journal. Senator Pappas would like to print amendments to 280. (See pages 1443-44 of the Legislative Journal.)

Judiciary reports 464 to General File with amendments and 612 to General File with amendments, both signed by Senator Hoagland. (See pages 1444-45 of the Legislative Journal.)

Senator Withem would like to add his name to 372 as co-introducer.

Enrollment and Review reports 117 engrossed; 132, 132A, 359, 578, 578A, all correctly engrossed.

Mr. President, Senator Vard Johnson would offer a motion to reconsider the indefinite postponement of 190.

Mr. President, Judiciary Committee will be holding Executive Session upon adjournment in Room 1113. Judiciary upon adjournment in Room 1113. And Appropriations Committee will meet upon adjournment in 1003.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Higgins.

SENATOR HIGGINS: Thank you, Mr. President. In regards to this amendment, and I won't speak to the bill but strictly to the amendment, I can understand the confession of judgment and the jury instructions that Senator Hannibal explained. The interest rate at 10 percent, both sides made the argument that if you spend $20.00 today and you get it back a year from now, you may be only getting back $19.50 in purchasing power. Both sides are assuming inflation is going to take your money value away. Nobody has considered with our great leader in Washington we may have deflation. I see Senator Lowell Johnson smiling. So maybe when you get your money back you are going to get $20.00 plus 50 cents if you have deflation. But I think what both sides have missed
