

they're saying about standing up. You all know better on this one but you're going to do it and hope that people have told the truth when they say it will not amount to a hill of beans. But when have you ever seen anything that didn't amount to a hill of beans result in this much pressure being brought to bear? If this resolution is just a resolution, they should have adopted every amendment that would reassure the members of the Legislature, because we're going to be voted down...

PRESIDENT ROBAK: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...anyway when you get out there. They're not going to be bound by anything in the resolution. But, again, it will be a statement of what this Legislature believes its role ought to be. And you ought to listen to your better mind now. And I think a lot of people, at this hour, feel like Senator Beutler does, that we've been here a long time, we have discussed this issue and people would rather be someplace else. There are occasions when I'm discussing things on the floor and I would rather be someplace else. But there are some times when my obligations and responsibility require me to be right here doing exactly what I am doing, and I will be as glad six months from now that I'm doing what I'm doing as I am now. I wonder now the rest of you will feel. Some may really know what this is all about, this resolution, and...

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...what the unseen agenda is, and they are glad.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator Chambers. Seeing no further lights, Senator Chambers, do you wish to close on your motion?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Yes, I do, Madam President. Members of the Legislature, Senator Kristensen, the vote is going to be taken. No matter which way the vote on this motion goes, there will be another vote on it because there are not enough people who would vote to kill this resolution. There is too much at stake. And if there was not a hidden agenda, why is so much pressure being brought to bear on senators to make sure they vote for this thing? When has that ever happened on any other mere resolution? It hasn't. This is not a mere resolution. If this were a Micron bill and somebody raised a question, wouldn't they
