

SENATOR CROSBY: Senator McKenzie.

SENATOR ROBINSON: How much money do we spend on the birth to 3-year-old program?

SENATOR MCKENZIE: Senator Robinson, most of that money comes from the federal level, it is...many...I can't give you the exact numbers.

SENATOR ROBINSON: You mean it's not the 90 percent thing?

SENATOR MCKENZIE: No.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Schools don't pay any of it?

SENATOR MCKENZIE: I will have to check on that, but most of it is...

SENATOR ROBINSON: Could you do that and let me know?

SENATOR MCKENZIE: Fight (inaudible)...

SENATOR ROBINSON: How about the 18 to 21-year-old program?

SENATOR MCKENZIE: Well that's constitutionally required, and again I'll have to look up those (inaudible).

SENATOR ROBINSON: Do we have to do that?

SENATOR MCKENZIE: It's constitutionally required, yes.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Oh, I thought in some comments made earlier we didn't have to do that. Okay. You know what the administrative cost is of special education?

SENATOR MCKENZIE: Senator Robinson, no, I do not.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Could we get that figure? I think we should have that figure to visit about. I've been trying to get it, I can't get it, but hopefully we can. I want to go back to the one thing I was talking about this morning where we have the Chapter 1 programs, I want to talk to you, Senator McKenzie. You're using my time, come on. (Laugh.) I'm urging you back to your mike.
