to have doesn't mean it's yours to spend. We're still supposed to have some discretion as to what we can afford as taxpayers that we are supposed to be here representing. And this is definitely something that I see as something that either needs to be paid for.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: One minute.

SENATOR WITEK: ...all of those taxpayers across the state or none of them. Thank you.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator Witek. Senator Robinson.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Madam President, members of the body, you know, I hear my colleague that sits behind me, she gets up here and she sputters off and gets off on a tangent a lot and she's complaining that the people, as I gather, the people from Lincoln and Omaha are getting cheated. Now I gathered that from her comments. Now when the constituents of my district, the 16th Legislative District, when they come to Omaha and when they come to Lincoln, you know what happens, don't you? We have to pay their sales tax. Did you ever think about that? We have to pay their sales tax. And I know they love to do that. They love to help out Lincoln and Omaha. Isn't it funny how that works out? All those bad people out west, that's what Senator Witek was talking about, all those bad people out west. I hope all you hear that. Now, Jim, Senator Jones, all those bad people in your district and I think your district is as large as some states, just think about that, those bad people out...they come to Omaha and they come to Lincoln. Did you ever think about on a football day how it is? Man, can you imagine, boy, the coffers in Lincoln? Barry's down there, they just make a ton of money, you know. Boy, it's really something, isn't it, how that happens? All the people outstate come in and they fill up the coffers in Omaha and Lincoln. Did you ever think about that, Senator Witek? It happens all the time. Life is not even. I found out that one thing and I found that out in my lifetime. I've lived a few more years than you, but life is not even. Just think about that. It is not even. Thank you.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator Robinson. Senator Hillman announces some very special guests visiting the Legislature.
