license or a suspension, that I know of. What you've got yesterday in the public record is two violations, serious fines, and enforcement. So let's not throw in the towel here that says kids are getting away with things and nobody's making an attempt. This is the most recent evidence I've got on that score, and it doesn't look like people are laying down on these kids here.

SENATOR VRTISKA: Okay. Well, I appreciate...I appreciate your bringing that to the attention of the body. I think it's important that we understand. I was led to believe that none of these are being assessed at any degree. I don't know how many attempted to buy, or how many did buy that weren't...obviously, we don't know that. But that's not the issue right now. The issue that you're saying is, there are people being penalized for the...for buying liquor illegally when they're caught. Correct?

SENATOR LANDIS: Yes.

SENATOR VRTISKA: That's what I'm hearing you saying.

SENATOR LANDIS: That's right.

SENATOR VRTISKA: You're also saying that the people who sold it to them didn't get touched. Is that correct?

SENATOR LANDIS: It's not in the paper.

SENATOR VRTISKA: It's not in the paper. Okay. Well, we're assuming then, probably, that there was not much of a penalty placed on the person or persons who sold...who allowed those young people to buy that alcohol.

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: One minute.

SENATOR VRTISKA: So it is a two-sided measure that needs to be addressed, I suspect, from both sides. I understand the retailer doesn't want to be held responsible if his employee illegally sells alcohol to an underage kid. At the same time, where do we start and where do we stop? It is a difficult issue. I think that we have...I brought the issue up because I
