(b) Immediately following chairmanship and Committee on Committees membership elections, the Committee shall meet and, by a majority vote of all its members, submit to the Legislature a preliminary report of appointments to the remaining standing and select committees, each with the number of members as hereinafter set forth, unless otherwise provided for by rule or by statute. On the following day the Committee on Committees shall meet and, by a majority vote of all its members, submit to the Legislature a final report for its approval, appointments to the standing and select committees, each with a number of members as hereinafter set forth, unless otherwise provided for by rule or by statute.

Once the final report is presented to the Legislature, no amendments shall be considered. If the Legislature, by majority of the elected members, fails to adopt the final report of the Committee on Committees, such report shall be returned to Committee for further action.

(c) The membership of all standing and select committees shall be appointed at the beginning of each session beginning in odd-numbered years and shall continue until the regular session in the next subsequent odd-numbered year.

(d) During session, all vacancies on standing or select committees created by the death or resignation of a member shall be filled by a majority vote of all members of the Committee on Committees unless otherwise provided for by rule or statute. A vacancy within the Committee on Committees shall be filled by a meeting of the caucus established pursuant to Rule 3, Section 2(a).

During the interim, all vacancies on standing or select committees created by the death or resignation of a member shall be filled by a majority vote of all members of the Executive Board.

RULE 3

(b) The Speaker of the Legislature shall serve as one of the six members and shall be an ex officio member of the Rules Committee. Select committees shall be subject to the same procedural rules as standing committees insofar as they are applicable. In addition, the following provisions shall apply:

(c) Committee on Committees.

(i) The Committee on Committees shall have authority to call before it a committee chairperson and discuss the workload of said committee. It shall hear and dispose of all written complaints filed with said committee by a senator against any committee chairperson. The Committee on Committees shall conduct said hearing in accordance with its own rules.

(d) Enrollment and Review.

(i) The Chairperson of Enrollment and Review shall report bills which have been engrossed for Final Reading and passage. In the absence of the Chairperson, the Vice Chairperson of the Judiciary Committee shall assume the duties of the Chairperson of the Enrollment and Review Committee.

(ii) The bill drafting service shall have supervision of and provide legal services for Enrollment and Review Committee.

(iii) The Chairperson of Enrollment and Review shall have authority, without being required to include the same specifically in his or her reports and recommendations to the Legislature, in accord with accepted usage:

- (A) To correct the spelling of words, to correct erroneous division and hyphenation of words, to capitalize or decapitalize words, to convert masculine or feminine referents to neutral gender when appropriate, and to change numbers from words to figures or from figures to words, in new and independent acts, in the new matter of amendatory acts, in standing committee reports, and in General File, Select File, and specific amendments.
- (B) To underscore or remove underscoring, as the case requires, in standing committee reports and in General File, Select File, and specific amendments.
- (C) When an amendment to add the emergency clause, the severability clause, or provide an operative date is adopted on Select File which does not spell out the standard clause or section and make the necessary change in the title, the Chairperson of Enrollment and Review shall also have the authority to add to the engrossed bill the standard clause or section, assigning to it the appropriate section number, and make the necessary change in the title as a matter of course without including such action in his or her reports and recommendations to the Legislature or making any special record thereof.

RULE 3

- (D) To add and/or delete names of introducers to reflect action on the bill while the bill remains in the possession of the Legislature at any stage of consideration.
- (E) To reflect votes on Final Reading as they may occur pursuant to Rule 6, Section 10 and Rule 6, Section 15.

(e) Reference Committee.

(i) The Executive Board shall constitute the Reference Committee. The Reference Committee shall review each bill and resolution and either refer the matter to the appropriate committee or to General File. The appropriate committee is that committee which has subject-matter jurisdiction over the issue or which has traditionally handled the issue.

(ii) All nominations made to the Legislature by the Governor, requiring confirmation by the Legislature shall be referred to the appropriate standing committee and the same procedure shall be followed as governs the handling of other matters before standing committees, unless the Legislature shall otherwise direct by unanimous vote.

(iii) The Clerk of the Legislature's office shall be responsible for the collection of pertinent information on gubernatorial appointments. That information will be distributed to the appropriate standing committee prior to the time of the confirmation hearing. The Clerk's office shall be the "depository" for background information on the individual, a statement of financial interests if applicable, and other biographical information that the committee chair feels is appropriate for the committee to have before it during the confirmation process.

(iv) The committees to which a gubernatorial appointee has been referred for confirmation shall conduct a confirmation hearing. Each appointee shall be required to appear in person before the committee conducting the confirmation hearing. The appearance of the appointee may be waived for good cause shown by a majority vote of the members assigned to the committee conducting the hearing.

The committee shall prepare a report either approving or rejecting the appointment. Said report shall be filed with the Clerk of the Legislature. The Legislature shall then have the opportunity to accept or reject the report of the committee.

(v) Any appointment letter received by the Clerk of the Legislature during the last eight calendar days of any regular legislative session shall not be acted upon. Acknowledgment of receipt of the appointment shall be deferred until the next regular or special session of the Legislature.

(f) Rules Committee.

All proposed rules changes shall be set for public hearing within five legislative days after their referral to the committee. The hearing shall take place within fifteen legislative days after the referral, and the committee shall take final action on the proposal within ten legislative days after the hearing.

(g) Investigating Committees.

The Committee on Committees may appoint other select committees when authorized by the Legislature. No investigating committee of the Legislature shall be created except by resolution which shall set forth, with supporting statements, the reasons for and the purposes of the investigation, and no committee thus established shall function except during the interim between legislative sessions.

Sec. 5. Special Committees. (a) Special committees shall include all authorized committees other than standing and select committees. Unless otherwise specifically provided, special committees shall not have jurisdiction over legislative bills, but shall be subject to the same procedural rules as standing committees, insofar as they are applicable.

(b) The special committees authorized by statute as of January 1, 1980 are as follows:

| Building Maintenance. RRS 81-185 | 6 members |

(c) The following special provisions shall be in force with regard to the following special committees:

(i) Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee.

In addition to the members of the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee chosen in accordance with Section 81-816, the Executive Board may appoint temporary members to serve on such assignments as the chairperson shall direct.

(ii) The Executive Board is authorized to exercise jurisdiction over legislative bills and resolutions and hold hearings regarding such legislation when the issue presented by the legislative bill or resolution is one of general import to the Legislature and its operations as a whole. Such legislative hearings shall comply with the provisions in Rule 3, Sec. 13.

(iii) The Legislative Program Evaluation Committee is authorized to hold hearings, at the committee's discretion, to receive testimony regarding topics it has selected for review. Such hearings shall comply with the provisions in Rule 3, Sec. 13.

Sec. 6. Redistricting Committee. A special committee, to be known as the Redistricting Committee, is hereby created. During the 2001 redistricting process, the Redistricting Committee is authorized to introduce bills relating to redistricting, exercise jurisdiction over all bills relating to redistricting, hold hearings on all redistricting bills, and oversee the redistricting process.

The committee shall be comprised of nine members of the Legislature, appointed by the Executive Board, with three members from each congressional district. No more than five members of the committee shall be affiliated with the same political party. Any subsequent vacancy on the committee shall be filled by the Executive Board.

The chairperson of the committee shall be appointed by the Executive Board. The vice chairperson shall be elected by the members of the committee, and he or she shall not be a member of the same political party as the chairperson.

The committee shall adopt administrative guidelines governing its affairs and activities and guiding the 2001 redistricting process. The committee shall continue in existence until all redistricting bills for which the Legislature has responsibility are passed and signed by the Governor. In the event of a successful legal challenge to any part of a redistricting plan, the committee shall be reconstituted according to this rule for the purpose of reformulating the plan so challenged.

Sec. 7. Meeting Times. (a) After consultation with the Speaker, the Committee on Committees shall publish a schedule of standing committee meetings, in such manner as to avoid, as far as possible, conflicts in the assignment of members to committees. Standing committees shall meet at 1:30 p.m. on weekdays, unless otherwise approved by the Legislature, except for the Nebraska Retirement Systems Committee, which shall meet as called by the chairperson.

(b) A standing committee which decides not to hold meetings on the appointed day shall report that decision to the Clerk of the Legislature.

(c) Any legislative committee shall be subject to the call of its chairperson or to the call of a majority of its members, in accordance with the notice and procedural requirements set forth in its committee rules.

Sec. 8. Chairperson, Vice Chairperson. (a) The chairperson of each standing and select committee shall be selected by secret ballot on the floor of the Legislature.

(b) The chairperson of a special committee shall be selected in the manner provided by the act authorizing the committee, or if not specified, by the Executive Board.

(c) Each committee shall elect from its membership a vice chairperson to serve in the absence of the chairperson.

RULE 3

Sec. 9. Committee Quorum. A majority of the members of a committee shall constitute a quorum. A quorum must be present for the transaction of any committee business except a public hearing.

Sec. 10. Quorum at Committee Hearings. A quorum of committee members should be maintained throughout all committee hearings.

Sec. 11. Conduct During Committee Hearing. (a) The use of any mobile, portable, or wireless communication device, other than those authorized by the Legislative Council or used by licensed medical persons on duty, is prohibited in legislative hearing rooms during a meeting of a legislative committee.

Sec. 12. Temporary Appointments. (a) When a member is unable to serve, the chairperson of the committee, after a majority vote of the remaining members, shall request that such vacancy be filled by the Committee on Committees.

(b) A temporary appointment may be made by the Chairperson of the Committee on Committees for only one day when requested by a chairperson of a standing committee which lacks a quorum. When a member is appointed from an eight-member committee, the consent of the member to be appointed shall first be obtained. The temporary appointee shall have the right to vote only on the bill or bills that actually have been heard by the appointee and provided that the vote is taken on such bills on the day the bill or bills are heard. When such appointment is made in case of an incapacitated member, such appointee shall cease to be a member of such committee upon the return of the incapacitated member for whom he or she was appointed.

Sec. 13. Consideration and Correlation of Bills and Resolutions. (a) Committees shall consider and report without unnecessary delay all bills and resolutions referred to them. Committees shall be authorized to combine and to correlate the provisions of different bills and resolutions referred to them and related to the subject matter jurisdiction of the committee. Committees may, before taking final action on any bill or resolution, adopt amendments thereto, for the consideration of the Legislature.

(b) The chairperson of each committee shall set for hearing all bills and resolutions referred to the committee, except as provided for in Rule 1, Section 17.

Sec. 14. Public Hearing, Notice. Before taking final action on a bill, resolution, or gubernatorial appointment, a committee shall hold a public hearing thereon and shall give at least seven calendar days' notice, after the bill or pronouncement of the appointee shall have been printed, by publication in the Legislative Journal. No bill or resolution having been set for public hearing shall be withdrawn nor the hearing canceled within seven calendar days of the date set for said public hearing.

Sec. 15. State Officials Appearing Before Committees. State officials and department heads or their designees and state employees are encouraged to appear before any legislative committee to comment upon bills having an impact on the operations of the administrative agency or department for which they work.

Sec. 16. Executive Sessions and Closed Meetings. (a) Executive session shall mean any meeting or portion of a meeting which is closed to the general public, and the proceedings of which are not electronically recorded and transcribed, unless the committee so provides, but the records of which shall be available for public inspection. Executive sessions shall be open to members of the news media who may report on action taken and on all discussions in executive session.

(b) All other meetings of a committee shall be public unless the committee, by a majority vote of all of its members, determines that a meeting should not be open to the public, including members of the news media, in a particular instance, due to rare and extraordinary circumstances. The meeting shall be reconvened in open session before any formal action may be taken.

Sec. 17. Report of Bill to Legislature. (a) In reporting a bill to the Legislature, whether with or without amendments, a committee shall by vote of a majority of its members, recommend that the bill be placed on General File or that the bill be indefinitely postponed.

(b) A report on a bill or resolution must be made to the Legislature within eight calendar days after the committee has taken final action upon the particular measure. Final action shall mean an affirmative vote of a majority of the committee members to advance a bill to General File with or without committee amendments or an affirmative vote of a majority of the committee members to indefinitely postpone the bill. A committee may reconsider any final action prior to the committee making a report on the bill or resolution to the Legislature, provided the reconsideration takes place within eight calendar days of the final action.

(c) No bill shall be reported by the committee to be placed on General File unless the amendments, if any, are approved as to form and draftsmanship by the Bill Drafter.

Sec. 18. Indefinitely Postponed Bills. If the committee action on a bill be to postpone indefinitely, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed; except that such bill may be placed on General File or referred back to the committee by a three-fifths vote of the elected members upon motion made within three legislative days after the committee makes its report to the Legislature, or by a two-thirds vote of the elected members upon motion made more than three legislative days after such committee report. Not more than one bill shall be raised from committee on any one motion. A motion to raise cannot be amended to include any other bill or subject matter. A motion to raise must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after the motion is available for consideration or it shall be deemed defeated.

Sec. 19. Committee Statement. (a) The chairperson of each committee with the assistance of the legislative staff shall, when reporting a bill, submit with such bill a committee statement which shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following information:

- (1) the one-line title and number of the bill;
- (2) a roll call vote of final committee action taken on the bill;
- (3) the date of the public hearing on the bill;
- (4) a list of all individuals testifying for and against the bill and any organization they represent;
- (5) a summary of the bill's purpose and a description of all major provisions for change in the bill as written and as amended by the committee;
- (6) if committee amendments are to be introduced, a copy of the amendments and an explanation thereof.

(b) A copy of the proposed statement shall be distributed to each committee member within five days after final action on the bill has been taken by the committee. A minority or concurring statement bearing the signature or signatures of its proponents and setting forth objections to the bill, to proposed amendments, or to the majority statement may be filed by its author(s) with the Clerk of the Legislature at any time prior to the first hearing of the bill on General File.

(c) A copy of the committee statement and any minority statements submitted shall be distributed to each senator after filing with the Clerk of the Legislature. Copies of such statements shall be made available to the public.

Sec. 20. Request From Committee, Bills Held. (a) Except for the general appropriation bills necessary for the support of the state government for the biennium, the Legislature may, by vote of a majority of the elected members, request a status report from any committee at any time after said committee shall have been in possession of a bill or resolution for twenty legislative days.

(b) Any senator may move that a bill be placed on General File twenty calendar days or more after the committee hearing, if the committee has not taken final action on the bill, and by a vote of a majority of the elected members, said bill shall be placed on General File. Final action taken by the committee following a motion filed pursuant to this subsection, and prior to when debate is initiated on the motion by the Legislature, shall take precedence over such motion. If, at the expiration of eight calendar days from the date final action was taken, the chairperson has not reported the bill, any senator may file with the Speaker a motion that the chairperson be compelled to submit a report. After determining that final action on the bill has been taken at least eight calendar days prior to the date the motion was submitted, the Speaker shall accept the motion and compel the chairperson to file the committee's report on the matter.

(c) Any time any member attempts to take a bill from committee to be placed on General File, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed and shall not be subject to reconsideration if the motion fails to receive a majority vote of the members elected to the Legislature. The introducer of the bill must concur with any motion offered under this rule.

Sec. 21. Subpoena Procedure. It is within the inherent power of any legislative committee to gather information pursuant to its regular functions, and to conduct investigations of matters within its subject-matter jurisdiction.

A committee's power of subpoena should not be exercised unless the committee has determined that no other method of securing the desired information would be successful or practicable, and that the matter is of primary importance to the welfare of the State of Nebraska.

A committee of the Legislature conducting an investigation and gathering information, whether pursuant to legislative direction or pursuant to its regular functions of oversight and bill preparation, shall observe the following procedures in addition to regular committee procedures whenever subpoenas are issued:

(A) Issuance of Subpoenas.

(i) A committee may, by a majority vote of all of its members taken at a meeting properly called, issue a subpoena requiring a person to appear before the committee and be examined in reference to any matter within the scope of the inquiry or investigation being conducted by the committee, but only when the committee has received prior approval by a majority vote of the Executive Board to issue subpoenas in connection with the specific inquiry or investigation in question.

(ii) The committee may, in the same manner, issue a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum requiring any person to appear before the committee and bring with him or her any books, papers, or other documents pertinent thereto.

(iii) While the Legislature is in session, a committee deciding to issue subpoenas must promptly report each issuance to the Legislature. A record shall be made in the Journal reflecting the date the subpoena was issued, to whom it was issued, for what purpose it was issued, and the date on which testimony or production of documents is to take place. Under extraordinary circumstances, the identity of the person subpoenaed may be withheld from publication if necessary to protect the safety of an individual or the confidentiality of the matters to be heard.

(iv) A person subpoenaed to attend a hearing of a committee shall receive the same fees and allowances as a person subpoenaed to give testimony in an action pending in a court of record.

(B) Notice to Witnesses.

(i) Service of a subpoena requiring the attendance of a person at a hearing of a committee shall be made in the manner provided by law for the service of subpoenas in civil actions at least seven days prior to the date of the hearing unless a shorter period of time is authorized by a majority vote of all of the members of the committee in a particular instance when, in their opinion, the giving of seven days' notice is not practicable; but if a shorter period of time is authorized, the person subpoenaed shall be given reasonable notice of the hearing, consistent with the particular circumstances involved.

(ii) Any person who is served with a subpoena to attend a hearing of a committee shall also be served with a copy of the act defining the purpose of the committee, a copy of the rules under which the committee functions, a general statement informing him or her of the subject matter of the committee's investigation or inquiry, and a notice that he or she may be accompanied at the hearing by counsel of his or her own choosing.

(C) Conduct of the Hearing.

(i) No committee which has issued a subpoena directing a witness to appear at a hearing shall question the witness unless a quorum is present throughout the questioning.

(ii) The hearing shall be public unless the committee, by a majority vote of all of its members, determines that a hearing should not be open to the public in a particular instance, due to rare and extraordinary circumstances consistent with Legislative Rule 3, Section 15(b) regarding closed meetings.

(iii) The chairperson of the committee shall preside at all hearings and shall conduct the examination of witnesses himself or herself or supervise the examination by other members of the committee. The committee may, by a majority vote of all its members, authorize the questioning of a witness by the committee's counsel or by special counsel.

(D) Right to Counsel and Submission of Questions.

(i) Every witness at the hearing may be accompanied by counsel of his or her own choosing, who may advise the witness of his or her rights, subject to reasonable limitations which the committee may prescribe to prevent obstruction of or interference with the orderly conduct of the hearing.

(ii) Any witness at the hearing, or a witness' counsel, may submit to the committee proposed questions to be asked of the witness or any other witness relevant to the matters upon which there has been any questioning or submission of evidence, and the committee shall ask such of the questions as it deems appropriate and relevant to the subject matter of the hearing.

(E) Testimony.

(i) The committee shall cause a verbatim record to be made of all proceedings in which testimony or other evidence is demanded or offered, which record shall include rulings of the chair, questions of the committee and its counsel, the testimony or responses of witnesses, sworn written statements submitted to the committee and read into the record, and such other matters as the committee or its chair may direct.

(ii) All testimony given or offered at the hearing shall be under oath or affirmation if the witness has been subpoenaed, and in other cases if a majority of the committee members present at the hearing so decide.

(iii) The presiding member at the hearing may direct a witness to answer any relevant question or furnish any relevant book, paper, or other document, the production of which has been required by subpoena duces tecum. Unless the direction is overruled by a majority vote of the committee members present, disobedience shall constitute a contempt.

(iv) A witness at the hearing or his or her counsel, with the consent of a majority of the committee's members present at the hearing, may file with the committee for incorporation into the record of the hearing sworn written statements relevant to the purpose, subject matter, and scope of the committee's investigation or inquiry.

(v) Testimony and other evidence given or offered at a hearing closed to the public shall not be made public unless authorized by a majority vote of all of the members of the committee, which authorization shall also specify the form and manner in which the testimony or other evidence may be released.

(vi) A witness at a closed hearing, upon request and at his or her own expense, shall be furnished a transcript of his or her testimony at the hearing.

(F) Interested Persons.

(i) Any person whose name is mentioned or who is otherwise identified during the hearing and who, in the opinion of the committee, may be adversely affected thereby, may, upon his or her request or upon the request of any member of the committee, appear personally before the committee and testify in his or her own behalf, or, with the committee's consent, may file a sworn written statement of facts or other documentary evidence for incorporation into the record thereof.

(ii) Upon the consent of a majority of its members, a committee may invite any other person to appear at a hearing or submit a sworn written statement of facts or other documentary evidence for incorporation into the record thereof. No invitation to appear, and no request to appear, appearance, or submission of evidence shall limit in any way the committee's power of subpoena.

(iii) Any person who appears before a committee pursuant to this section shall have all the rights, privileges, and responsibilities of a witness provided to all other witnesses.

(G) Contempt.

A person shall be in contempt if he or she:

(i) Fails or refuses to appear in compliance with a subpoena or, having appeared, fails or refuses to testify under oath or affirmation;

(ii) Fails or refuses to answer any relevant question or fails or refuses to furnish any relevant book, paper, or other document subpoenaed by or on behalf of a committee; or

(iii) Commits any other act or offense against a committee which, if committed against the Legislature, would constitute a contempt.

The chairperson of a committee may apply to the Legislature or, during the interim, to the district court of any county to compel obedience by proceedings for contempt.

(H) Penalties.

(i) A person guilty of contempt under the provision of these rules shall be subject to punishment pursuant to RRS 50-105 and 50-106 during the session, or to RRS 50-407 when the Legislature is not in session.

(ii) If a committee fails in any material respect to comply with the requirements of these rules, any person subject to a subpoena or a subpoena duces tecum who is injured by such failure shall be relieved of any requirement to attend the hearing for which the subpoena was issued or, if present, to testify or produce evidence therein; and such failure shall be a complete defense in any proceeding against such person for contempt or other punishment.

(iii) Any member or employee of the Legislature, other than the witness concerned or his or her counsel who knowingly violates subsections of these rules concerning the publication of testimony taken at a closed hearing, shall be in contempt of the Legislature or, if a member of the Legislature, shall be subject to sanction or suspension according to the statutes governing the Legislature. The Speaker on his or her own motion or on the application of any person claiming to have been injured or prejudiced by an unauthorized disclosure may institute proceedings for the determination of the issue and for the imposition of penalties provided herein. Nothing in this subsection shall limit any power which the Legislature may have to discipline a member or employee or to impose a penalty in the absence of action by a prosecuting officer or court.

(I) Limitation of Rules.

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit or prohibit the acquisition of evidence or information by any committee by any lawful means not provided for herein.

RULE 4--RESOLUTIONS

Section 1. Identification. A resolution shall be designated as Legislative Resolution _____. All resolutions shall be numbered consecutively for each Legislature. All resolutions shall be introduced and read by the Clerk upon introduction and shall be printed in the Legislative Journal. Individual members shall be limited to eight resolutions per session. This limitation shall not apply to resolutions proposing an amendment to the Nebraska Constitution or to resolutions proposing interim studies.

73-74 Attorney General Opinion No. 13--Resolutions must be printed and read before a vote is taken.

Sec. 2. When Considered as a Bill. Resolutions which propose amendments to the state constitution, propose the ratification or rejection of amendments to the federal Constitution, or memorialize the Congress with regard to amendments to the U.S. Constitution, shall be considered and adopted in the same manner as bills.

*Const. Art. III, Secs. 13, 14; Art. IV, Sec. 15; Art. XVI, Sec. 1.
Cannot appropriate funds by resolution. Const. Art. III, Sec. 25.*

Sec. 3. Study Resolutions: Introduction; Referral; Standing Committees; Select Committees; Results. (a) Any senator or committee may introduce resolutions proposing interim studies. The resolutions shall be submitted to the Clerk of the Legislature on a form prescribed by the Clerk, printed in the Journal, and referred to the Executive Board.

(b) Study resolutions may be introduced up to and including the 80th legislative day in odd number years and the 50th legislative day in even number years. However, each standing committee may introduce one additional study resolution prior to adjournment sine die. The Executive Board shall refer the study resolutions to the appropriate standing committees or to select interim committees created by it to conduct such studies.

(c) Study resolutions shall be prioritized by the chairperson of the committee to which they are referred, and a report on those priorities shall be filed with the Clerk, on a form prescribed by the Clerk, prior to adjournment sine die. Also, the chairperson of each committee shall file with the Clerk, on a form prescribed by the Clerk, his or her committee's study plan for the highest prioritized interim studies referenced to such committee. This study plan shall be filed no later than thirty days after adjournment sine die. Unless otherwise agreed to, staff to interim studies conducted by standing committees shall be headed by the respective committee counsels. Legislative aides whose senators serve on such standing committees and legislative aides of other interested senators may be invited by the respective committee counsels to participate as staff in the conduct of the interim studies. The provisions of this section shall in no way limit the standing committees in their traditional prerogatives to conduct hearings and oversee matters and agencies that are within their subject matter jurisdiction.

(d) The Executive Board may, on its own behalf, conduct interim studies or create select interim committees to do so. Before creating a select interim committee, the Board shall consider whether the subject matter proposed for study by such a committee lies within the jurisdiction of one or more standing committee. To the extent possible, the jurisdiction of a select interim committee created by the Board shall be limited to subject matters that do not lie wholly within the jurisdiction of one or another standing committee. Membership on a select interim committee shall, to the extent possible, include senators who are both interested in serving on such a committee and are from the standing committees that have the most direct concern with the subject matter proposed for study. Select interim committees shall meet no later than five legislative days prior to adjournment sine die to organize and to review study plans. Staff to select interim committees shall be drawn from the Legislature's division staffs (e.g., fiscal, research, bill drafting), be based upon a joint plan submitted to the Executive Board by the division directors, may include other interested legislative staff, and shall be coordinated by the Legislative Research Division, and the chairpersons of the standing committees involved with the select interim committee.

(e) The Executive Board shall retain its traditional prerogatives to consider and refer study proposals arising from extraordinary circumstances after the deadlines established in this section.

(f) The chief sponsor of a study resolution, if not otherwise a member of the committee to which the resolution is referred, shall be an ex officio member of the committee during and only for the conduct of the study.

(g) On or before December 1 of each year, each standing and select interim committee shall file a report, on a form prescribed by the Clerk, with the Executive Board on the disposition of the study resolutions referred to them. These reports shall be printed in the Journal at the beginning of the next session of the Legislature.

(h) The results or final reports of studies conducted by standing committees may be prepared in a format of their choosing. Nine copies of each completed standing committee report shall be filed with the Legislative Reference Library. The results or final reports of studies conducted by select interim committees shall be prepared and published in a format prescribed by the Legislative Research Division, and copies of such studies will be indexed and filed with the Legislative Reference Library.

RRS 50-404.

Sec. 4. Enrollment and Review, Amended Resolutions. All resolutions, if amended, shall pass through the process of Enrollment and Review in the regular course of their consideration.

Sec. 5. Vote Required for Adoption. (a) All resolutions shall be adopted, individually or in groups as determined by the Speaker, by an affirmative vote of a majority of the members present and voting except for those specified in Section 2; Provided, upon the request by any member prior to the commencement of the vote, a resolution shall require an affirmative vote of a majority of the elected members. Resolutions specified in Section 2 shall be considered and adopted in the same manner as bills.

(b) Any resolution which is congratulatory or ceremonial in nature or which expresses the condolences of the Legislature shall be presumed adopted if, after five calendar days, following its being listed once on the daily agenda with a notation that such resolution is eligible for adoption pursuant to this rule, no member has requested that the resolution be scheduled for debate on the Speaker's agenda.

Sec. 6. Resolutions, Lay Over Requirement. Resolutions shall not be considered on the same day as introduction.

Sec. 7. Engrossed Resolutions. Only those resolutions specified in Sections 2 and 3 of this rule shall be engrossed unless otherwise ordered by the Legislature or unless the Clerk determines the nature of the resolution is such that upon its adoption it must be engrossed to properly achieve the purpose for which it was presented. All resolutions which are engrossed shall be enrolled and signed by the Lieutenant Governor or Speaker and certified to by the Clerk as to the date of final passage.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 14.

No bills or major amendments shall be introduced or considered unless the same has been approved as to form and draftsmanship by the Bill Drafter. In order to shorten the length of sections, the Bill Drafter shall, in the drafting of new sections, make each paragraph a separate section except when to do so would be contrary to sound bill drafting practice. The Bill Drafter shall make available a continuing compilation of sections to which amendments are proposed so as to reduce unnecessary duplication of bills. This section index of bills drafted shall be available to all senators, newly elected senators, and other persons entitled to have bills drafted. After January 1 of each year no bill shall be drafted by the Bill Drafter unless requested or authorized by a member of the Legislature.

The Clerk of the Legislature shall number these bills consecutively beginning with number 1 and shall show the committee reference to be General File. The Clerk of the Legislature shall have these bills printed before the convening of the next regular session.

(b) In addition to causing to be printed the revisor bills, the Clerk shall number and cause to be printed all bills delivered to him or her by the Executive Board, provided said Board has referred said bills to a standing committee. No bill so printed shall be withdrawn until after the Legislature convenes.

Sec. 4. Introducers Signing Bills. (a) Members shall introduce only such bills as they are willing to endorse and support personally. The last name and district shall be used, unless an initial or name is necessary to identify the introducer. Any member may request to have his or her name added as cointroducer of a bill but only if the principal introducer has concurred, in writing, to that request.

(b) A standing committee or special committee may introduce a bill for any purpose, including at the request of another senator, provided said bill receives the endorsement of a majority of the committee members whose names shall be on the bill.

(c) No bill shall be introduced after the tenth legislative day of any session, except:

1. "A" bills, appropriation bills, and bills introduced at the request of the Governor may be introduced at any time;

A vote of three-fifths of the elected members of the Legislature shall be required for such bill to be introduced, and a copy of the statement of intent for such bill must be placed on each member's desk before introduction of the bill is voted upon.

3. With the approval of a majority of its members, the Redistricting Committee established pursuant to Rule 3, Sec. 6, may introduce bills at any time during the course of the 2001 legislative session.

(d) Individual members shall not be limited as to bill introduction. Each committee shall be limited to 8 bills each session. Bills introduced as a result of an interim study of the Legislative Council shall be included within the limitations prescribed by this section. Special committees created as a result of an interim study resolution and as authorized by the Executive Board shall be considered as separate committees for purposes of the limitations prescribed by this section. Bills introduced under Rule 5, Section 3(a) and bills introduced at the request of the Governor will not be included in the limitation.

(e) The introducers of all bills must submit a statement of intent for each bill to the appropriate committee chairperson at least 24 hours prior to the bill's hearing. The statement of intent should discuss clearly and completely the purposes and effects of the bill.

Sec. 5. Scheduling of Bills, Priority Bills. (a) Each senator may designate one bill as a priority bill. Such priority bill need not be the designator's bill, but the principal introducer must concur with the designation as a priority bill and with the withdrawal of the designation once made.

(b) Each chairperson of those committees which are authorized to hold public hearings on bills may designate as priority bills two of the bills referenced to that committee and on which the committee has held a public hearing, but the principal introducer must concur with the designation as a priority bill and with the withdrawal of the designation once made.

(c) The Speaker may designate up to 25 additional priority bills.

(d) Priority bill designations may be made at any time prior to the annual designation deadline which shall be set each year by the Speaker. The designation deadline shall be prior to the 45th legislative day in the ninety day session and prior to the 30th legislative day in the sixty day session.

(e) A senator or committee may withdraw a priority designation at any time, but will not be allowed to designate another bill as a priority bill in its place. The Speaker may withdraw a priority designation made by the Speaker.

(f) All committees shall schedule priority bills for public hearing ahead of all unscheduled, nonpriority bills unless the person or committee making the priority designation shall otherwise agree.

(g) All bills not designated as priority bills shall be heard on General File in the order in which they are reported to the floor by the committees, unless the introducer of the bill and the Speaker agree to delay the hearing of a particular bill. This provision shall not be construed to prevent the Speaker from placing bills reported out of committee with two or less dissenting votes on a consent calendar. Any bill placed on consent calendar shall be removed at the written request of three or more senators.

The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall prepare a statement to be known as a fiscal note to be attached to each bill prior to its public hearing by a committee, or its first consideration on General File if the bill is referred directly to General File. The fiscal note shall set forth the fiscal impact of the bill and the governmental subdivision affected by the fiscal impact as determined by the Legislative Fiscal Analyst. No bill which has a fiscal impact shall be heard by a committee or considered on General File unless the fiscal note is attached.

(b) In determining the fiscal impact of any bill, the Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall request the appropriate department or other entity of state government or subdivision thereof, or appropriate association which will be affected by the bill, to prepare the fiscal note within five calendar days.

(c) The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall review the fiscal note so prepared and shall also request a review of such fiscal note by the Budget Division of the Department of Administrative Services. The statement by the Budget Division of the Department of Administrative Services shall be attached to and become a part of the fiscal note. The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall include in the fiscal note any exceptions to the conclusions of the department or other entity and of the Budget Division of the Department of Administrative Services.

(d) The fiscal note shall be delivered by the Legislative Fiscal Analyst to the Clerk at least twenty-four hours prior to the public hearing on the bill or, in the event the bill is referred directly to General File, twenty-four hours prior to the first consideration of the bill on General File. The Clerk shall present the fiscal note to the principal introducer. If extenuating circumstances prevent the Legislative Fiscal Analyst from meeting this deadline, he or she shall present to the principal introducer an unofficial summary of all available fiscal information on the bill by this deadline and deliver to the Clerk the fiscal note when it is available. The Clerk shall attach the fiscal note to the bill and to all copies prepared for members.

(e) When amendments to a bill are adopted by the Legislature and such amendments would change the fiscal impact of the bill, the appropriate changes shall be made in the fiscal note each time the bill is advanced to

Such bill shall be placed on General File and considered as introduced by the introducer of the original bill or by the committee which offered the amendments creating the expenditure, and shall bear the number of the original bill with the letter "A" added, and shall accompany the original bill through all stages of the legislative process. All bills for which an "A" bill is prepared shall be bracketed on Final Reading until the "A" bill is advanced to Final Reading.

(g) The authorization bill shall first be considered and if it should be passed on Final Reading then the "A" bill shall be read and voted on for final passage.

(h) The fiscal note shall be factual in nature, as brief and concise as may be, and shall, if possible, provide a reliable estimate in dollars and, in addition, it shall include both the immediate effect and, if determinable or reasonably foreseeable, the long range effect of the measure. If, after investigation, it is determined that no dollar estimate is possible, the fiscal note shall contain a statement to that effect, setting forth the reasons why no dollar estimate can be given.

(i) No comment or opinion shall be included in the fiscal note with regard to the merits of the measure for which the note is prepared, however, technical or mechanical defects may be noted.

(j) The subject matter of bills submitted to boards, commissions, departments, agencies, or other entities of the state by the Fiscal Analyst shall be kept in strict confidence by said agencies and by the office of Fiscal Analyst together with the content of the fiscal note itself and no information relating thereto shall be divulged by any official or employee prior to its introduction in the Legislature.

(k) To implement the provisions of and assure compliance with Art. III, Sec. 22 of the Nebraska Constitution (deficiency appropriations), and Art. Bills on General File for which public hearings have not been requested will be handled as all bills on General File.

Sec. 3. General File. (a) The Clerk of the Legislature shall read the number and the title of the bill and the name of the principal introducer as it comes up for consideration on General File. A bill will not be read section by section unless requested by a member of the Legislature.

(B) Voting Machine

Sec. 2. Voting, Electric Roll Call. (a) All votes shall be taken viva voca unless otherwise provided for herein. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to wit: "Those who are in favor of the question say 'aye'; those who are opposed to the question say 'nay.' "

(b) If a machine vote is called for or if the presiding officer is in doubt, he or she shall cause the result to be obtained by means of the electric roll call system, and in such event shall accept only machine tallied votes except that voice votes shall be accepted on a motion before the house while the house is under call. The presiding officer may vote by voice. Only the totals shall be printed in the Journal. Once having voted aye or nay, senators may call in a change to not voting prior to the locking of the voting board.

(c) Upon the final passage of a bill, or of a resolution if the same required the same consideration as a bill, the vote shall be by yeas and nays, and the electric roll call system shall be used. Voice votes shall be accepted on Final Reading.

(d) Whenever the "ayes" and "nays" are taken by machine vote, no member shall be permitted to vote after the decision is announced by the presiding officer or the Clerk. Votes not registered on the electric roll call system shall not be counted for or against a proposition. In announcing such vote, the Clerk shall announce the ayes, the nays, those present and not voting, those absent and not voting, and those excused and not voting, and on any action to advance or amend bills, these totals shall be set forth in the Journal. Voice votes shall be accepted on roll call or record votes. All roll call votes of the comprised membership shall be taken in alphabetical order starting with the first name that begins with the letter "A" or the letter closest to "A," except that any member may request a roll call vote in reverse alphabetical order unless the introducer of the motion under consideration objects. A roll call in reverse alphabetical order shall start with the member's name that begins with "Z" or the letter closest to "Z."

(e) Only senators physically in the legislative chamber may vote.

(C) Motions

Sec. 3. Motion, in Writing, Withdrawal. (a) A motion shall be either stated by the presiding officer or read by the Clerk before a vote is taken. All motions shall be submitted in writing if requested by the presiding officer or any senator.

RULE 7

Once motions are stated they may be withdrawn or modified by the mover before a decision, amendment, or ordering of a vote has been made. A motion to reconsider may be withdrawn only with unanimous consent or a majority vote of the elected members.

When a question is under debate, no motion shall be considered except one of the following, which motions shall take precedence in the order stated.

- a. To recess
- b. To adjourn
- c. For cloture
- d. To reconsider
- e. For the previous question
- f. To postpone to a time certain
- g. To recommit to a committee
- h. To amend
- i. To postpone indefinitely

Such motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged except as provided for in Rule 1, Section 17. Motions to postpone indefinitely and amend do not yield to each other.

When any of the following motions shall be made, any action on such motion shall be delayed at least one legislative day and the motion shall be printed in the Legislative Journal:

- a. Motion to postpone indefinitely on General File or Select File, unless the introducer(s) of the bill, or the committee chairperson in the case of committee bills, request(s) that the motion to postpone indefinitely be considered immediately without the one day delay.
- b. Motion to place on General File pursuant to Rule 3, Section 20(b).
- c. Motion to place bills on General File, notwithstanding the action of a standing committee.

(b) When a motion or other proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order.

(c) Amendments to the title shall be made by the Enrollment and Review Committee.

(d) No motion, proposition, or subject, different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment. Any amendment that is not germane is out of order. Germane amendments relate only to details of the specific subject of the bill and must be in a natural and logical sequence to the subject matter of the original proposal. A nongermane amendment includes one that relates to a substantially different subject.

(e) Any member may call for the division of a question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Legislature. Once a division is ordered by the presiding officer, each component shall be treated as a separate and distinct proposition. For purposes of germaneness, even if a question is germane prior to a request for division, each and every other component or proposition of the divided question will be subject to germaneness rulings. Once a vote or change has occurred on any of the divisible questions, the remaining divided sections may not be withdrawn without a majority of those voting or without unanimous consent. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall not preclude an amendment or a motion to strike out or insert. Such call for division shall not be allowed when considering motions under Rule 6, Section 6.

(f) When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee and to a standing committee, the question on reference to the standing committee shall be considered first.

Sec. 4. Shall the Debate Cease. The previous question shall be in this form, "Shall the debate now close?"

The previous question shall be made only in the normal course of speaking order and shall be in order when demanded by five or more members, and must be sustained by the vote of a majority of the elected members, and until decided shall, except as provided in this section of this rule, preclude further debate and all amendments and motions, except one motion to adjourn. The presiding officer may rule the previous question out of order if in the presiding officer's opinion a full and fair debate has not been afforded, due to the complexity of the subject matter. The ruling of the presiding officer shall be subject to overrule in accordance with Rule 1, Section 12 of these rules.

On a previous question there shall be no debate. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for a previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

When the previous question shall have been ordered on a proposition under debate, the mover, proponent, or introducer of such proposition shall be given the right to close the debate thereon.

After a motion to indefinitely postpone a bill has been offered, and the introducer of the motion has made his or her opening remarks on the motion, the principal introducer of the bill shall immediately be permitted to speak for five minutes on such motion.

Sec. 5. Call of the House. (a) A call of the house may be made by any member in the manner following: "I move for a call of the house." The presiding officer shall direct that the board be cleared and the members shall then vote on placing themselves under call. If a majority of the senators present and voting, vote in favor of such a motion, then the Legislature shall be deemed to be under call. Each member present shall indicate his or her presence upon the electric roll call system and shall remain in his or her seat during the call. After the Clerk shall note the names of the absentees, proceedings under the call may be suspended at any time by a majority vote of the members then present, and when so suspended shall not again be ordered on the proposition pending, except by a majority vote of the members elected. The President may declare a motion to place the house under call out of order if all of the absentees were to vote on one side of the question and if their combined vote would be insufficient to change a result of the vote.

(b) When a member is recognized to close on a motion and requests a call of the house, the time spent waiting for the members to record their presence shall be counted against the member's closing time.

Lieutenant Governor votes only when Legislature equally divided. Rule 1, Section 14.

Voice vote while house under call. Rule 7, Section 2b.

Sec. 6. Postpone to Time Certain. No motion to postpone to a time certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely being decided, shall again be allowed on the same day at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

Sec. 7. Reconsideration. (a) When a question has been decided, it shall be in order for any member voting with the prevailing side, or not voting, to move for a reconsideration thereof. A motion to reconsider must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on the next legislative day, except when it be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading. In such case, it must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on one of the next three legislative days. A motion to reconsider must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after making the same or it shall be deemed defeated. If the Legislature shall refuse to reconsider, or upon reconsideration shall affirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order unless by unanimous consent.

Motion to reconsider cannot be withdrawn without leave. Rule 7, Section 3.

(b) Every motion to reconsider shall take preference over all other questions, except a motion to recess, to adjourn, or for cloture.

(c) For its adoption, a motion to reconsider shall require the vote of a majority of the elected members, except:

- i Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading, then a three-fifths vote shall be required for adoption.
- ii Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading with the emergency clause attached, but which received the constitutional majority with the emergency clause stricken and the purpose of the motion is to again add the emergency clause, then a two-thirds vote of the elected members shall be required for adoption.
- iii Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a motion to pass a bill notwithstanding the objections of the Governor or for override of a line-item veto, then a three-fifths vote shall be required for adoption.
- iv Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a motion to suspend the rules, then a three-fifths vote shall be required for adoption.

(d) For a bill on General File, no motion to reconsider shall be in order until the bill has failed to advance three times; for a bill on Select File, no motion to reconsider shall be in order until the bill has failed to advance two times; for a bill passed on Final Reading, no motion to reconsider shall be in order except by the introducer of the bill, for technical or clarifying amendments.

(e) Whenever a bill is returned from the Governor for further action pursuant to the Legislature's request for such return, motions for reconsideration necessarily incident to opening a bill for further action shall be admitted regardless of the time limitation otherwise imposed by this rule.

Sec. 8. Strike the Enacting Clause. A motion to strike the enacting clause, if adopted, is equivalent to rejection of the bill. It shall not have precedence over a motion to amend nor a motion to indefinitely postpone.

Sec. 9. Motions to Adjourn or Recess. A motion to adjourn shall be in order, except:

RULE 7

- a. While a member is speaking.
- b. When a motion to adjourn or recess has just been defeated.
- c. After the Final Reading of a bill and during roll call thereon.

A motion to adjourn to a time certain shall have precedence over a motion to adjourn. A motion to recess shall take precedence over either of such motions. Successive motions to adjourn or recess are never in order for dilatory purposes.

When a motion to adjourn or recess has been made, the Speaker shall be privileged to speak to the motion prior to any vote on such motion. A motion to adjourn or recess is not debatable.

A motion to adjourn or recess shall be adopted if approved by a majority of members voting.

Sec. 10. Cloture. At any stage of consideration the principal introducer of the bill under consideration, a cointroducer with the consent of the principal introducer, or the chairperson of the committee, if the bill is introduced by that committee, may move for a cloture to the presiding officer after eight hours of debate on the bill at that stage of consideration, except that the appropriation bills introduced by the Appropriations Committee shall be subject to a cloture motion after twelve hours of debate at that stage of consideration. The presiding officer shall immediately recognize such introducer or chairperson and shall then order debate on the pending amendment or motion to cease. A vote on the cloture motion shall be taken immediately. A two-thirds majority of the elected members shall be required for the cloture motion to be successful. A motion for cloture shall be in order except while a member is speaking, and a motion for cloture is not debatable. If the motion for cloture is successful, a vote on the pending matter shall be taken immediately, without debate. If the pending matter is an amendment to an amendment, following a vote on the amendment to the amendment, a vote shall be taken on the original amendment. If the original amendment has been divided, then the vote shall be on the original undivided amendment being considered. Finally, a vote on the advancement of the bill shall be taken.

A motion for cloture shall have precedence over all other motions except a motion to recess or adjourn.

An unsuccessful motion for cloture shall result in the debate on the bill ending for the day. When the Speaker chooses to resume debate on the bill, successive motions for cloture shall not be in order until two additional hours of debate on the bill has occurred.

Sec. 11. Motions and Amendments for Dilatory Purposes. Motions and amendments shall not be filed for dilatory purposes. If more than two amendments and/or motions are offered to a bill or resolution, the principal introducer of the bill or resolution may raise a point of order stating that he or she believes the amendments and/or motions are being used for dilatory purposes. If, in the opinion of the Speaker, the motions and/or amendments are not dilatory, debate on the pending measure shall continue. If the Speaker has reason to believe that one or more of the amendments and/or motions are dilatory, the Speaker shall consult with the principal introducer of the original bill or resolution and the principal introducers of the amendment and/or motions in an attempt to reach an accord as to which amendments and/or motions should be considered by the Legislature. For that purpose, the Speaker may temporarily remove the entire bill or resolution from the agenda. After consultation, the Speaker shall forthwith decide which, if any, amendments and/or motions are dilatory and shall rule such amendments and/or motions out of order. A motion to overrule the chair on any decision made pursuant to this section is not in order except that a ruling of the chair may be challenged by an introducer of amendments and/or motions ruled to be dilatory in which instance the challenge shall be to all amendments and/or motions included in the Speaker's ruling. The consultation and the Speaker's ruling subsequent to consultation provided for in this section, shall in no case result in a bill or resolution being removed from the agenda for more than the current legislative day. Any amendment and/or motion ruled out of order by the Speaker shall not in any form, version, or substance be in order if again offered by any member at the same stage of debate. A motion to overrule the chair after a ruling is out of order.

RULE 8--APPROPRIATIONS PROCESS

Section 1. Purpose. The purpose of this rule is to provide a procedure for the Legislature to develop appropriations for all state agencies, boards, and commissions. Such procedure shall consider the need to (1) continue the services and financial assistance provided by state agencies and programs, (2) restrict the growth in state appropriations, and (3) provide for the efficient and effective use of state revenue by utilizing standing committee subject matter expertise in the review of agency, board, and commission budget requests.

Sec. 2. Appropriations Committee Report. The Legislature's Appropriations Committee, by majority vote of its members, shall annually prepare a report summarizing the recommended total General Fund appropriation for each year of the following biennium. Such report shall include information based upon the committee's initial review of (1) state agency, board, and commission budget requests, (2) the Governor's budget, (3) the estimated revenue receipts for each year of the following biennium, (4) General Fund reserve requirements, (5) express obligations, and (6) economic conditions affecting the State of Nebraska.

Sec. 3. Report, When Required. The report required in Section 2 of this rule shall be printed in the Legislative Journal and presented to each member of the Legislature by the Chairperson of the Appropriations Committee between twenty and thirty legislative days after the Governor presents his or her budget during sessions in odd-numbered years and between fifteen and twenty legislative days after the Governor's budget presentation during session in even-numbered years.

Sec. 4. Standing Committee Appropriations Review. (a) Each standing committee may hold a budget request review hearing on the agency, board, and commission budgets reasonably encompassed in its subject matter jurisdiction. Any such review hearing shall not be held until the Appropriations Committee has held its public hearing on that agency, board, or commission. The chairperson of the standing committee shall coordinate the scheduling of such hearings with the Chairperson of the Appropriations Committee. The standing committee shall obtain a determination from the Executive Board that the budget to be reviewed is within its subject matter jurisdiction. The standing committee may recommend to the Legislature amendments to proposed appropriations.

(b) Standing committee amendments, if any, must be filed by the sixth legislative day following the placement of appropriations bills on General File. Standing committee amendments shall be printed in the Journal and shall be considered by the Legislature no sooner than the eighth legislative day following the placement of the appropriations bills on General File. Standing committee amendments shall be considered by the Legislature after Appropriations Committee amendments but before all other amendments. Standing committee amendments shall be considered in the order of filing.

(c) The Appropriations Committee shall make available to the appropriate standing committee all currently available information at its disposal.

Sec. 5. Bills, Held on Final Reading. The report of the Appropriations Committee shall include a recommended dollar amount of the General Fund biennium appropriation which shall be allocated for the funding of "A" bills, bills that result in the net reduction of revenue to the General Fund, tax expenditure bills, and amendments to the appropriations bills as reported to General File by the Appropriations Committee. During a 90 day session, all "A" bills which, when considered with their companion bill, appropriate general funds resulting in a net loss; all bills resulting in the reduction of revenue to the General Fund; and all tax expenditure bills shall not be read on Final Reading until the appropriations bills are passed by the Legislature. Provided the Appropriations Committee shall place appropriations bills on General File no later than the 70th legislative day in a 90 day session and the 40th legislative day in a 60 day session. If this deadline is not met, the Legislature shall consider the appropriations bills as introduced by the Governor. During a 60 day session, all "A" bills which, when considered with their companion bill, appropriate general funds resulting in a net loss; all bills resulting in the reduction of revenue to the General Fund; all tax expenditure bills; and all appropriations bills shall not be read on Final Reading prior to the 45th legislative day. The appropriations bills shall be passed no later than the 80th legislative day in a 90 day session and the 50th legislative day in a 60 day session. The appropriations provided for in an "A" bill shall be for not less than two fiscal years.

Sec. 6. Bill, Setting Tax Rates. The Legislature's tax rate bill shall be passed no later than the 85th legislative day in a 90 day session and the 55th legislative day in a 60 day session.

Sec. 7. Financial Status Report. Beginning with the legislative day following the reporting of the appropriations bills to General File, there shall be attached to the daily agenda of the Legislature a General Fund Financial Status, prepared by the Legislative Fiscal Analyst under the supervision of the Chair of the Appropriations Committee. The Financial Status shall include current estimates of beginning funds available, plus estimated revenue, less the Appropriations Committee recommended budget and express obligations for the biennial period under consideration, to arrive at the calculated variance from the minimum reserve for the General Fund as specified by law. The Financial Status shall also include a listing of other legislation on Select File and Final Reading, and Speaker's Major Proposals on General File that would deduct from or add to General

Funds available above the minimum reserve requirement, should the bills pass.

In addition to data for the budget period under consideration, the Financial Status shall include data for the ensuing two years following the biennial budget period. Such data shall consist of projections of available balances, annual net receipts, and annual expenditures, based on the assessment of the Legislative Fiscal Analyst of the provisions of current law as it may relate to projected revenues and expenditures. Prior to attaching the first Financial Status to the agenda, the data and the assumptions for the ensuing years beyond the budget biennium and methods for arriving at estimates shall be reviewed by the Chair and the Vice Chair of the Appropriations and Revenue committees and shall be approved by a majority of the membership of each such committee. Upon mutual agreement by the Chairs of the Appropriations Committee and Revenue Committee, the projections may be reconsidered pursuant to the provisions of this section.

RULE 9--SPECIAL SESSIONS

Section 1. Purpose. The purpose of this rule is to establish special procedures for the Legislature to utilize during a special session. This rule recognizes the necessity of the Legislature to address the business for which it is called together in an expeditious and fair fashion and provides that certain legislative procedures established for regular sessions shall not unduly burden the activities of the Legislature during a special session.

Sec. 2. Convening of the Legislature. Pursuant to the directive contained in the proclamation issued by the Governor, either upon the concurrence of two-thirds of the members of the Legislature according to the procedure established by section 50-125 or upon the call of the Governor under the authority of Article IV, section 8, of the Nebraska Constitution, the Legislature shall convene in special session. The first item of business shall be the introduction of bills and resolutions, both of which shall be numbered consecutively beginning with the number one. Bills and resolutions offered by the Speaker at the request of the Governor or offered pursuant to the statement filed with the Secretary of State and agreed to by two-thirds of the members of the Legislature shall be introduced ahead of all other proposals. After introduction, all bills and resolutions shall be handled in the manner provided in this rule. Bills shall be introduced only during the first three days of the session. Resolutions which are not considered and adopted in the same manner as bills may be introduced at any time during the session.

Sec. 3. Resolution Considered as a Bill. Resolutions which propose amendments to the state constitution, propose the ratification or rejection of amendments to the federal Constitution, or memorialize the Congress with regard to amendments to the U.S. Constitution, shall be considered and adopted in the same manner as bills.

Sec. 4. Committee Hearings. Within one legislative day following the introduction of bills and resolutions, or pronouncement of a gubernatorial appointment, the Reference Committee shall review each bill, resolution, and gubernatorial appointment and refer the matter to the appropriate standing committee. The committee to which the bill, resolution, or gubernatorial appointment is referred shall provide as much public notice of the time and place of the hearing on the matter as is reasonable under the circumstances by publication in the Legislative Journal, but in no case shall the hearing be more than five calendar days after the date the bill, resolution, or gubernatorial appointment has been referred to the committee.

Sec. 5. Report of Bill or Resolution to Legislature. The committee to which a bill or resolution has been referred shall make a report on the bill or resolution to the Legislature within twenty-four hours after the committee has taken final action on the matter. If, at the expiration of twenty-four hours from the time final action was taken, the chairperson has not reported the bill or resolution, any senator may file with the Speaker a motion that the chairperson be compelled to submit a report. After determining that final action on the bill or resolution has been taken at least twenty-four hours prior to the time the motion was submitted, the Speaker shall accept the motion and compel the chairperson to file the committee's report on the matter.

Sec. 6. Indefinitely Postponed Bills and Resolutions. If the committee action on a bill or resolution is to postpone indefinitely, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed, except that such bill or resolution may be placed on General File or referred back to the committee by a majority vote of the elected members. Not more than one bill or resolution shall be raised from committee on any one motion. A motion to raise shall not be amended to include any other bill, resolution, or subject matter. A motion to raise shall take precedence in order over all other motions, except a motion to adjourn.

Sec. 7. Bills and Resolutions Held by Committee. If the committee has not taken final action on a bill or resolution within two days after the committee hearing, any senator may move that the bill or resolution be placed on General File. If a majority of the elected members vote in favor of the motion, the bill shall be placed on General File.

Sec. 8. Pending Proposals Indefinitely Postponed. At the conclusion of a special session, all bills and resolutions which have not been enacted shall stand indefinitely postponed and shall not carry over to the next legislative session.

Sec. 9. Rules Controlling When Conflict Exists. When a conflict exists between the provisions of this rule and other provisions of the Rules of the Nebraska Legislature, the provisions of this rule shall apply.

RULE 10--ELECTION CONTESTS AND QUALIFICATIONS CHALLENGES

Section 1. Election Contests and Qualifications Challenges. (a) An election contest shall place in issue only the validity of the results of an election of a member to the Unicameral Legislature. An election contest shall only determine which candidate was properly elected to the Legislature and shall be seated.

(b) A qualifications challenge shall place in issue only the qualifications of a person elected as a member of the Legislature under the Constitution. A qualifications challenge shall only determine whether a person elected to the Legislature is qualified to hold or retain the seat.

(c) Election contests and qualifications challenges shall be brought and conducted as provided in these rules.

(d) Each election contest and qualifications challenge filed with the Clerk shall be referred by the Clerk to the Reference Committee, who in turn shall refer the matter to a specially created committee to consider such contest or challenge. The committee shall consist of an odd number of members, shall have a minimum of five members and shall consist of members appointed by the Executive Board. The chairperson of such committee shall be appointed by the Executive Board.

(e) The special committee may adopt rules to govern election contests and qualifications challenges, provided that such committee rules must be consistent with these rules, must be filed with the Clerk within twenty-four hours of adoption, and must be made available to all parties and to the public.

Sec. 2. Initiating Election Contests. (a) Election contests may be brought only by an unsuccessful candidate.

(b) Election contests may be brought only by the procedures and within the time limits established by the Nebraska statutes. Notice of intention to contest shall be served on the person certified as elected to the Legislature from the representative district within the time limits established by law.

(c) Within forty days following the general election contested, each contestant shall file with the Clerk of the Legislature a petition of election contest and shall serve such petition on the purported winner. A petition of election contest shall allege the contestant's qualifications to bring the contest and to serve as a member of the Legislature, that he/she alleges that a mistake, violation of election laws, or fraud was committed in specified precincts in the counting, return or canvass of the votes or that some other specified irregularity occurred in the conduct of the election in specified precincts. A petition of election contest shall contain a prayer specifying the relief requested and the precincts in which a recount or other inquiry is desired. A petition of election contest shall be verified by affidavit swearing to the belief that the allegations are true, and shall be accompanied by proof of service on all respondents.

(d) A petition of contest may not be amended to cure a defect under the statutory requirements. A petition of election contest, if filed and served subsequent to the notice of intention to contest, may not raise points not expressed in the notice.

Sec. 3. Initiating Qualifications Challenges. (a) Qualifications challenges may be brought only by an unsuccessful candidate.

(b) Qualifications challenges must be brought within forty days following the general election contested.

(c) A qualifications challenge shall be brought by filing a petition of qualifications challenge with the Clerk, and by serving a copy of the petition on the purported winner. The petition must be accompanied by proof of personal service upon the respondent member and must be verified by affidavit swearing to the truth of the allegations or based upon information and belief. A petition of qualifications challenge shall set forth the grounds on which the respondent member is alleged to be constitutionally unqualified, the qualifications of the petitioner to bring the challenge, and a prayer for relief.

Sec. 4. Contests and Challenges - Due Process. (a) Election contests and qualifications challenges shall be heard and determined as expeditiously as possible under adversary procedures wherein each party to the proceedings has a reasonable opportunity to present his claim, any defense and arguments, and to respond to those of his opponents. All parties may be represented by counsel.

(b) Election contests and qualifications challenges shall be heard and determined in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Nebraska statutes, the Nebraska Constitution, and the United States Constitution. Judicial decisions which bear on a point of law in a contest or challenge shall be admissible in the arguments of the parties and the deliberations and decisions of the committee. Judicial decisions applicable to a point of law or to a fact situation to the committee shall be given weight as precedent.

(c) The committee shall give notice of all rules, timetables or deadlines adopted by the committee. Notice under this subsection shall be in writing and shall be given either personally with receipt, or by certified mail (return receipt requested) addressed to the party at his or her place of residence and to his or her attorney of record at his or her office if so requested by the party.

Sec. 5. Committee Proceedings and Powers in Contests and Challenges. (a) All proceedings of the committee concerning election contests and qualifications challenges may be recorded and transcribed. Copies of the transcript shall be made available to the members of the committee and to the parties.

(b) The committee may dismiss an election contest or qualifications challenge, or may determine to proceed to a recount or other inquiry. The committee may limit the issues to be determined in a contest or challenge, except that where a recount is conducted in an election contest, any precinct timely requested by any party to be recounted shall be recounted by the committee.

(c) In conducting inquiries, investigations and recounts in election contests and qualifications challenges, the committee shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, ballots, documents and records, by subpoena signed by the chairperson of the committee as provided by Rule 3, Section 20. In conducting proceedings in election contests and qualifications challenges, the committee may utilize the legislative powers to gather information as provided by Rule 3, Section 20.

(d) The committee may allow any person authorized to take depositions of any necessary witnesses, as may be permitted by law. In recounting the ballots in any election contest, however, no person other than a member of the committee or officer of the Legislature shall handle any ballots, tally sheets, or other election materials without the consent of the committee. The responsibility for the actual recounting of ballots may not be delegated.

(e) The committee shall maintain a record of proceedings in every election contest and qualifications challenge. Such record shall include all notices and pleadings, roll call votes, all reports and dissents, and all documents which were admitted into the proceeding. The committee shall file the record with the Clerk of the Legislature upon the adoption of its final report. The record shall then be available for examination in the Clerk's office.

(f) With the approval of the Executive Board, the committee may employ staff assistants to include clerks, court reporters, professional staff and other personnel as deemed necessary.

Sec. 6. Adoption of Reports in Contests and Challenges. (a) All final decisions of the committee regarding an election contest or qualification challenge shall be reported in writing to the Legislature, and approved by a majority of the members of the committee. Reports shall include a specific recommendation to the Legislature as to the disposition of the contest or challenge.

(b) Any member of the committee may file a dissent from a report of the committee, a minority report, or a special concurrence with the majority report or with any minority report.

(c) Reports of the committee shall be filed with the Clerk of the Legislature, printed and placed on the members' desks, along with any dissents, minority reports or special concurrences. The report shall be listed on the agenda under the heading "Report of Election Contest" or "Report of Qualifications Challenge." The report as filed with the Clerk, shall not be considered for two legislative days prior to any consideration by the Legislature.

(d) The Legislature shall adopt the majority report or a minority report in an election contest or qualifications challenge or shall refuse to adopt any report filed and re-refer the contest or challenge to the committee for further proceedings or for a modified report. Reports as filed by the committee are non-amendable. If the Legislature fails to adopt a report, the matter shall automatically be rereferred to committee for further consideration.

(e) Each party to a contest or challenge may file with the Clerk of the Legislature within 15 days of the filing of the final report a detailed statement of attorney's fees and expenses incurred by said party in connection with the case. The committee shall make recommendations to the Legislature concerning reimbursement of attorney's fees and the expenses of the parties. Such recommendation shall not exceed a sum that is reasonable, just and proper.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion #01038

DATE: November 27, 2001

SUBJECT: Status of the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture as a state agency or private corporation; application of various state statutes to that Board.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Don Pederson
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Dale A. Comer, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion on "a number of issues surrounding the Nebraska State Fair Board," and you indicate, in your opinion request, that you anticipate introducing legislation in regard to those issues during the 2002 legislative session. We will separately set out and discuss each of your questions below. Several of your questions also include explanatory comments which we will include with the question.

QUESTION 1

Is the State Fair Board a private corporation or a state agency?

The territorial board was created in statute as a "body corporate," but this designation no longer exists in statute. The Nebraska Supreme Court ruled in 1984 that the current State Fair Board is a private corporation, but the board continues to receive benefits (state-owned fairground land and facilities rent free and appropriations/allocations from the general fund and the 309 funds) from the State of Nebraska, which is (sic) generally only available to state agencies.

The Nebraska State Board of Agriculture (commonly known as the State Fair Board)(hereinafter the "Board") has existed since legislation creating the Board was passed in 1858 when Nebraska was still a territory. Crete Mills v. Nebraska State Board of Agriculture, 132 Neb. 244, 271 N.W. 684 (1937)(containing a discussion of the legislation creating the Board over time). The current statute creating the Board, which has remained unchanged since 1983, states:

There shall be held prior to April 1 of each year, a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, together with the president of each county society, or delegate therefrom duly authorized, who shall for the time being be ex officio members of the State Board of Agriculture, for the purpose of deliberating and consulting as to the wants, prospects, and conditions of the agricultural interests throughout the state. Such meeting shall be held in every odd-numbered year at the capital of the state, and in every even-numbered year at such location as the board may determine. At such annual meeting the several reports from the subordinate societies shall be delivered to the president of the board. The president and delegates shall at this meeting elect suitable persons to fill all vacancies in the board. The president shall also have the power to call meetings of the board whenever he or she may deem it expedient. The state fair shall be held at or near the city of Lincoln, in Lancaster County, under the direction and supervision of the State Board of Agriculture, upon the site and tract of land, selected and now owned by the state for that purpose and known as the state fairgrounds. The board may, at its discretion, hold or dispense with the holding of the fair, in any year.

Neb. Rev. Stat. § 2-101 (1997). In addition, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 2-102 (1997) provides:

The officers of the board shall consist of a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer, and such others as the board may deem necessary. They shall be elected at the annual meeting of the board, and shall hold their offices for the period of one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The board shall determine by lot the time that each member shall serve so that the term of service of one-half of the members shall expire annually on the day of the annual meeting.

With respect to your first question regarding the nature of the Board, the Nebraska Supreme Court indicated in State ex rel. Marsh v. Nebraska State Board of Agriculture, 217 Neb. 622, 350 N.W.2d 535 (1984), that the Board was a private business association as contemplated by the Uniform Disposition of Unclaimed Property Act, rather than a public corporation under that Act. More significantly, in Crete Mills v. Nebraska State Board of Agriculture, 132 Neb. 244, 271 N.W. 684 (1937), the court held that the Board was "essentially a private corporation" which was not immune from suit under the doctrine of sovereign immunity. Id. at 256, 271 N.W. 689. In Crete Mills, the court based its holding, in part, upon the fact that the Board was a self-perpetuating body whose officers were selected by the Board rather than by the political officers or electors of the state, and upon the fact that the Board was not required to abide by various funding procedures required of state agencies by the Nebraska Constitution. The court stated:

It is obvious, therefore, that neither the inherent nature of the Nebraska state board of agriculture, the manner in which its perpetuity is accomplished, the character of the business carried on, the method of its performance, nor the purpose sought to be attained, in any manner determines its character to be that of a public governmental agency, to which the principle of exemption from suit without assent of the state is applicable.

Crete Mills at 250, 251, 271 N.W. 687. The factors that influenced the court in the Crete Mills case still exist, and consistent with that decision, we have indicated in previous opinions that, in our view, the Board is neither a state agency nor a political subdivision of the State of Nebraska. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 99038 (August 19, 1999); Op. Att'y Gen. No. 91087 (November 21, 1991); Op. Att'y Gen. No. 47 (March 27, 1985); 1977-78 Rep. Att'y Gen. 229 (Opinion No. 151, dated December 20, 1977). As a result, in response to your first question, we believe that the Board is a private corporation and not a state agency.

Has the Nebraska Legislature enacted legislation that provides "special or exclusive privileges" to a corporation, association, or individual, in violation of the Nebraska Constitution, Art. III, Section 18? Neb. Rev. Stat. Sec. 77-2704.16, exempts the board, by name, from paying state sales tax.

In our opinion to Senator Beutler dated December 24, 1985, we indicated that is has been and continues to be our policy that we will not issue legal opinions to state legislators concerning the constitutionality of existing statutes. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 157 (December 24, 1985). That policy is based upon the constitutional function of the Legislature in enacting rather than enforcing legislation, and also upon the practical consideration that we may be called upon to defend the constitutionality of existing laws. In the present instance, it appears to us that a response to your second question would involve us in offering an opinion on the constitutionality of existing legislation. Therefore, for the reasons set out in our opinion to Senator Beutler in 1985, we must respectfully decline to do so. However, in the event that you draft proposed legislation in this area during the next legislative session, we will respond to specific questions regarding that legislation at that time.

If the board is considered a private corporation, does a conflict exist between the provisions and the general fund appropriations and 309 fund allocations provided to the board? The constitution also prohibits the state from giving or loaning its credit to aid any individual, association or corporation.

The focus of your third question is apparently art. XIII, § 3 of the Nebraska Constitution which provides that "[t]he credit of the state shall never be given or loaned in aid of any individual, association, or corporation" We gather that you question the propriety of state general fund appropriations and 309 fund allocations to a private entity such as the Board.¹

There are two aspects to an analysis of state expenditures under art. XIII, § 3, and the first aspect involves the state's credit. In that regard, the purpose of art. XIII, § 3 is to prevent the state or any of its political subdivisions from extending the state's credit to private enterprise. Callan v. Balka, 248 Neb. 469, 536 N.W.2d 47 (1995). "It is designed to prohibit the state from acting as a surety or guarantor of the debt of another." Haman v. Marsh, 237 Neb. 699, 718, 467 N.W.2d 836, 850 (1991). It applies to the State and all of its political subdivisions. State ex rel. Beck v. City of York, 164 Neb. 223, 82 N.W.2d 269 (1957).

The Nebraska Supreme Court has established a three-part test for determining whether an expenditure violates the credit aspect of art. XIII, § 3 of the Nebraska Constitution. To establish a violation of that constitutional provision, it must be shown that (1) the credit of the state (2) is given or loaned (3) in aid of any individual, association, or corporation. Callan, 248 Neb. at 476, 536 N.W.2d at 51; Haman, 237 Neb. at 719, 467 N.W.2d at 850. In that context, there is a distinction between the loaning of state funds and the loaning of the state's credit. The loan of state funds places the state in the position of a creditor, and the loan of state's credit places the state in the position of debtor. Callan, 248 Neb. at 476, 536 N.W.2d at 51; Haman, 237 Neb. at 719, 720, 467 N.W.2d at 850. In addition, the prohibition against the pledge of the state's credit does not hinge upon whether the expenditure at issue achieves a "public purpose" when the pledge benefits a private individual, association or corporation. Haman, 237 Neb. at 722, 467 N.W.2d at 852. Instead, the key focus of art. XIII, § 3 in that context is whether the state stands as a creditor through the expenditure of its funds, or as a debtor by the extension of credit in the interest of private parties. Callan, 248 Neb. at 479, 536 N.W.2d at 53; Haman, 237 Neb. at 718, 722, 467 N.W.2d at 852. (1991).

When the state expends general fund appropriations or 309 fund allocations for the benefit of the Board, it appears to us that the state acts as a creditor to the Board with respect to those expenditures, and not a debtor. Under those circumstances, the state is not in the position of debtor to the Board, nor is the state in the position of surety or guarantor for the Board's debt. As a result, we do not believe that the appropriation of general fund monies or 309 fund allocations to the Board involves lending the credit of the state, and for that reason, such appropriations do not violate the credit aspect of art. XIII, § 3 of the Nebraska Constitution.

An analysis under art. XIII, § 3 does not end at that point, however. "Closely related to the prohibition against the giving or lending of the state's credit . . . Is the principle of law that public funds cannot be expended for private purposes." Haman, 237 Neb. at 722, 467 N.W.2d at 851. That constitutional principle involves the expenditure of state funds in contrast to the extension of credit. Id. While the state constitution contains no express provision against expending public funds for private purposes, that principle "is grounded on the 'fundamental concepts of our constitutional system.'" State ex rel. Douglas v. Thone, 204 Neb. 836, 842, 286 N.W.2d 249, 252 (1979)(quoting Beck v. City of York, 164 Neb. 223). That principle also emanates from art. XIII, § 3. Haman, 237 Neb. at 722, 467 N.W.2d at 851.

There is no hard and fast rule for ascertaining whether a proposed expenditure of public funds is for a public purpose. The Nebraska Supreme Court has indicated that "[a] public purpose has for its objective the promotion of the public health, safety, morals, security, prosperity, contentment, and the general welfare of all the inhabitants." Platte Valley Public Power & Irrigation District v. County of Lincoln, 144 Neb. 584, 589, 14 N.W.2d 202, 205 (1944). The court has also indicated that it is for the Legislature to determine in the first instance what is and what is not a public purpose. State ex rel. Douglas v. Thone, 204 Neb. 836, 286 N.W.2d 249 (1979).

In the present case, the Board has existed by statute since territorial days, and is statutorily charged with supervising and directing the operation of the Nebraska State Fair on the State Fairgrounds owned by the State of Nebraska. Given those duties and the Board's close ties to state government over the years, we cannot say that there clearly is no public purpose involved in general fund appropriations to the Board or in 309 fund allocations to the Board for the renewal and maintenance of state-owned buildings on the state fairgrounds. Consequently, we do not believe that such appropriations or allocations violate the second aspect of art. XIII, § 3 of the Nebraska Constitution.

If the Board is considered a state agency and since they receive state funds, are they bound by state laws in regard to open meetings laws and hiring practices?

1. Public Meetings Statutes

The Nebraska Public Meetings Statutes, Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 84-1408 through 84-1414 (1999, Cum. Supp. 2000), require public bodies in Nebraska to publish notice of their meetings, hold their meetings in public, and generally conduct their business in full view of the citizens of the state. Under those statutes, a "public body" subject to the meetings provisions includes "all independent boards, commissions, bureaus, committees, councils, subunits, or any other bodies, now or hereafter created by the Constitution of Nebraska, statute, or otherwise pursuant to law." Neb. Rev. Stat. § 84-1409 (1)(c) (1999). Since the Board is created by statute, the definition of public body in § 84-1409 (1)(c), together with the fact that the Board receives state monies, would lend some credence to the notion that the Board is subject to the Public Meetings Statutes. On the other hand, the Nebraska Supreme Court clearly indicated in the Crete Mills case that the Board is a private corporation and not a state agency, and the Public Meetings Statutes normally apply to governmental bodies, and not to private organizations. In the face of that uncertainty, Nixon v. Madison County Agricultural Society, 217 Neb. 37, 348 N.W.2d 119 (1984) is helpful.

In the Nixon case, the Nebraska Supreme Court considered whether county agricultural societies in Nebraska were subject to the Public Meetings Statutes. The court noted that such societies were organized under the Nebraska Statutes, and that such societies could obtain the proceeds of a tax to be levied by the county board.² The court then stated:

² A review of the statutes cited by the Nebraska Supreme Court in the Nixon case from the 1982 Cumulative Supplement to the Nebraska Statutes indicates that, under § 2-201, a county board was required to levy a tax for a

Although a county agricultural society resembles a private corporation in some respects, the statutory provisions which grant such a society the right to receive support from the public revenue give it a public character.

Nixon, 217 Neb. at 39, 348 N.W.2d at 119. On the basis of that right to receive support from the public revenue, the court then held that a county agricultural society was subject to the Public Meetings Statutes as a public body under § 84-1409 (1) (c). Consistent with the Nixon case, we have also indicated in previous opinions that public bodies statutorily characterized as "public corporations" or public bodies with a right to receive public funds were subject to the Public Meetings Statutes. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 97012 (February 14, 1997)(Hospital Authority which was a "public corporation" and which received funds from a city was subject to Public Meetings Statutes); Op. Att'y Gen. No. 219 (July 23, 1984)(County Extension Service which had a right to county funds under certain circumstances was subject to Public Meetings Statutes).

The present situation involving the Board is distinguishable, however, from the situation before the court in the Nixon case. For one thing, while the Board does receive general fund monies and 309 fund allocations, it has no right to levy a tax for its support and no statutory right to public revenue. Moreover, the Nebraska Supreme Court has clearly indicated that the Board is a private corporation. The Board's lack of any statutory right to public revenue, coupled with its status as a private corporation, ultimately lead us to believe that, while the issue presents a close question, the Board is not a public body which is subject to the Public Meetings Statutes. Obviously, if that result is of concern to you, you may wish to consider remedial legislation.

2. State Hiring Practices

We are unsure what you mean by "hiring practices" in connection with your Question 4. However, since the Board is a private corporation and not a state agency, we do not believe that the Board is subject to the provisions of the State Personnel System. In that regard, we indicated in a previous opinion that we did not believe that the Governor would have authority over a Board employee for purposes of extending that employee's accumulated leave under the State Personnel System. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 47 (March 27, 1985). That opinion was based upon the fact that the Board is not a state agency under the Crete Mills decision.

county agricultural society under certain circumstances. That tax was assessed, levied and collected as with other county taxes.

Although the board has autonomy in managing the fair and carrying out its other responsibilities, the Legislature remains the ultimate authority over the board. If the board is considered a state agency, is there a conflict of interest with two state senators currently serving on the state fair board?

Again, we are not entirely sure what you mean by the term "conflict of interest" in your final question. If that reference is in regard to the Conflicts of Interest section of the Nebraska Political Accountability and Disclosure Act, Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 49-1493 to 49-14,104 (1998, Cum. Supp. 2000), we do not believe that legislators who are also members of the Board are subject to conflict of interest concerns with respect to decisions which they make as members of the Board, since the Board is a private corporation and not a state agency. On the other hand, it seems to us that members of the Legislature who are also Board members with an interest in the Board's affairs could be subject to provisions of the Accountability and Disclosure Act with respect to their duties as legislators, since a number of the provisions of that Act require disclosures regarding businesses with which a public official is associated. See, e.g., Neb. Rev. Stat. § 49-1496 (Cum. Supp. 2000)(Statement of financial interests to be filed by public officials must include information about "any business with which the individual was associated.") We suggest that any specific questions in this area be referred to the Accountability and Disclosure Commission, the agency with enforcement authority under the Act.

To the extent that your use of the term "conflict of interest" implicates separation of powers questions under art. II, § 1 of the Nebraska Constitution, we have previously indicated in an opinion to Senator Schellpeper that, in our view, he could serve on the Board and in the Legislature simultaneously without violating the Nebraska Supreme Court's decision in State ex rel. Spire v. Conway, 238 Neb. 766, 472 N.W.2d 403 (1991) or art. II, § 1 of the Nebraska Constitution. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 91087 (November 21, 1991). That latter opinion was also based upon the notion that the Board is a private corporation and not a state agency.

DATE: December 17, 2001

SUBJECT: Constitutionality Of Legislation Which Would Terminate Current Terms Of Office For Members Of The Nebraska Board Of Educational Lands And Funds And Create New Terms Of Office For Members Of That Board.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Tom Baker
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Dale A. Comer, Assistant Attorney General

In your opinion request letter, you state that it is your intention to "introduce legislation pertaining to the Nebraska Board of Educational Lands and Funds" during the upcoming legislative session. The purpose of that legislation will be "to establish new district boundaries [for election of members of the Board of Educational Lands and Funds] based upon the number of school land acres per county across the state." You also note that there are "currently five appointed members on the Board of Educational Lands and Funds." In that context, you ask: "[w]ould it be constitutional to appoint new board members once the new districts are determined thus eliminating current terms or would existing members be required to fill out their current terms?"

Article VII, § 6 of the Nebraska Constitution pertains to the Board of Educational Lands and Funds (the "Board"), and states:

No lands now owned or hereafter acquired by the state for educational purposes shall be sold except at public auction under such conditions as the Legislature shall provide. The general management of all lands set apart for educational purposes shall be vested, under direction of the Legislature, in a board of five members to be known as the Board of Educational Lands and Funds. The members shall be appointed by the Governor, subject to approval of the Legislature, with such qualifications and for such terms and compensation as the Legislature may provide.

The statutes dealing with the Board and school lands are found generally at Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 72-201 through 72-269 (1996, Cum. Supp. 2000). Section 72-201 creates the qualifications for Board members and sets their term of office at five years. Section 72-201 also currently provides that four members of the Board shall be appointed from Nebraska's congressional districts as they existed on January 1, 1961, and that a fifth member of the Board shall be appointed from the state at large.

You have not provided us with any specific proposed legislation in connection with your opinion request. However, we assume, from the question which you posed to us, that your legislative bill would end the terms of office of current Board members as of a particular date. The bill would then create new terms of office, commencing at a particular date, for Board members appointed out of the new districts which you have described. For the reasons discussed below, we do not believe that such a proposal would violate the Nebraska Constitution.

The general rule with respect to change of the term for a public office is set out in 67 C.J.S. Officers § 70 (1978), which states:

The sovereign power creating an office may change its tenure in the absence of constitutional restriction, and such power may be exercised subject to constitutional limitations. Accordingly, the legislature may change the term of an office during the term of an incumbent, even though the effect of the change is to curtail the unexpired term of an incumbent, and even though the power to appoint is given by the constitution to a local authority. However, this power is not available where the constitution fixes the duration of the term.

(Emphasis added).

Nebraska cases appear to follow the general rule stated above. Hamilton v. Foster, 155 Neb. 89, 50 N.W.2d 542 (1951); State ex rel. Comstock v. Stewart, 52 Neb. 243, 71 N.W. 998 (1897); Douglas County v. Timme, 32 Neb. 272, 49 N.W. 266 (1891). In the Stewart case, which dealt with city council members in Lincoln, the court stated:

... " in the absence of any constitutional prohibition or affirmative provision fixing the term of office of any officer or his compensation, the legislature may change such term or compensation, and such change of term or compensation will apply as well to the officers then in office as to those to be thereafter elected." The same principle applies to the offices of councilmen. The official tenure of such officers is not fixed by the constitution, and hence may be shortened or terminated at the will of the legislature.

Stewart, 52 Neb at 255, 71 N.W. at 1002, 1003 (quoting Douglas County v. Timme, 32 Neb. at 275, 49 N.W. 267).

In the present instance, art. VII, § 6 of the Nebraska Constitution creates a Board of Educational Lands and Funds consisting of five members, and vests management of all lands set apart for educational purposes in that Board, under direction of the Legislature. We do not believe that those aspects of the Board can be altered by the Legislature through a statutory change. On the other hand, art. VII, § 6 also specifically allows the Legislature to provide for the terms of office and compensation of Board members. As a result, it appears to us that, under the authorities cited above, the Legislature could constitutionally end the terms of office for current Board members at a particular date, while providing that new Board members out of new districts will commence new terms of office at a particular date.

Sincerely yours,
DON STENBERG

DATE: December 26, 2001

SUBJECT: Nebraska Pork Industry Development Act, LB 803 - Authority to Promulgate and Enforce Regulations, and Constitutionality

REQUESTED BY: M.L. Dierks, Nebraska State Senator

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
William R. Barger, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested the opinion of this office regarding the constitutionality of granting a nonprofit corporation certain powers under the Nebraska Pork Industry Development Act (hereinafter "the Act"). This bill, LB 803, as amended by AM 1079, purports to designate a state pork association for Nebraska pork producers and to describe this organization's duties and powers. Our analysis herein will focus solely on the version of LB 803 amended by AM 1079, as you requested.

You have posed two specific questions. First, you ask whether LB 803 § 9(3) properly delegates authority to promulgate and enforce rules and regulations to a nonprofit corporation which is not a state agency. Second, you ask whether, if the current scheme in LB 803 § 9(3) is improper, the legislature can grant the authority to promulgate and enforce rules and regulations to a state agency, while maintaining the authority to collect and spend pork checkoff funds within the nonprofit corporation.

The Act describes a recognized state association of pork producers for the purpose of accepting check off funds from the federal National Pork Board, and prescribes procedures by which the Nebraska pork industry may finance programs of pork promotion, research and information. LB 803 §§ 2 & 3. To remain consistent with recent changes to the federal pork promotion program administered by the federal Secretary of Agriculture, it is necessary to establish a separate Nebraska board for administering checkoff funds which is distinct from the lobbying, candidate endorsement and member services formerly provided by the state association. LB 803 § 3(4). Formation of a nonprofit corporation to represent pork producers and administer checkoff funds, named the Nebraska Pork Industry Development Board (hereinafter "the Board"), is encouraged by the Act. LB 803 § 3(5) & § 4(1). The Nebraska Director of Agriculture would review documents submitted by any nonprofit corporation seeking to be the recognized state association, the Director would make a recommendation to the Governor, and the Governor would designate a single nonprofit corporation as the recognized state association. LB 803 §§ 7 & 5. The designated association would receive funds procured by the federal Pork Promotion, Research, and Consumer Information Act of 1985, or procured by the state through the Nebraska Pork Industry Development Act, if the federal act ceases to collect assessments. 7 U.S.C. § 4802(16), 7 U.S.C. § 4809(c), LB 803 §§ 10(1) & 12. The Board would have the powers and duties described in Section 9 of LB 803, including as relevant to your specific inquiries, the following authority:

"Sec. 9. The powers and duties of the board shall include the following:

 (3) To adopt and promulgate such rules and regulations as are necessary to enforce the state act in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act;"

I. NONPROFIT CORPORATION'S AUTHORITY TO PROMULGATE AND ENFORCE REGULATIONS

Your first question is whether § 9(3) of the Act properly delegates authority to promulgate and enforce rules and regulations to a nonprofit corporation which is not a state agency. Initially, we must briefly consider whether or not the nonprofit corporation is a state agency. The Nebraska Nonprofit Corporation Act describes the general powers granted to a nonprofit corporation. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 21-1928 (Reissue 1997). Nonprofit corporations may only be incorporated for the purposes described by statute, which include charitable, educational or agricultural purposes and commercial or trade associations. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 21-1927(b). There is no mention in the Nebraska Nonprofit Corporation Act that these corporations may promulgate or enforce rules and regulations upon non-stockholders. All powers granted to a nonprofit corporation are granted by the state through the Nebraska Constitution and the mentioned statutes. Clark v. Lincoln Liberty Life Ins. Co., 139 Neb. 65, 69, 296 N.W. 449, 453 (1941), citing Neb. Const. art. XII, § 1.

A state agency is granted the authority to promulgate rules and regulations under the Administrative Procedures Act. Neb. Rev. Stat. 84-901 et. seq (Reissue 1999). A state agency includes boards, commissions, departments, officers, divisions and other administrative offices of the state government. Unless they are constitutionally created officers or agencies, agencies have only that authority explicitly granted by statute. F & T, Inc., v. Nebraska Liquor Control Com'n, 7 Neb. App. 973, 981, 587 N.W.2d 700, 706 (1998). The Nebraska Supreme Court describes this authority:

The Legislature does have power to authorize an administrative or executive department to make rules and regulations to carry out an expressed legislative purpose, or for the complete operation and enforcement of a law within designated limitations.

Kwik Shop, Inc. V. City of Lincoln, 243 Neb. 178, 186, 498 N.W.2d 102, 108 (1993).

It does not appear that a nonprofit corporation can be considered a state agency, at least not for the purposes of promulgating and enforcing rules and regulations under the Administrative Procedures Act. State agencies which have received a specific grant of authority to promulgate rules and regulation are the only agencies which can utilize the Administrative Procedures Act. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 84-901(1). The grant of authority to the legislature to create executive branch agencies in Neb. Const. art. III, § 1 is separate and distinct from the legislature's authority to provide for the existence of corporations in Neb. Const. art. XII, § 1. Many state statutes describe what a state agency is, but none of these mention nonprofit corporations as state agencies. See Neb. Rev. Stat. § 25-1802 (Reissue 1995) (awards fees and expenses in suits against state, and defines what state entities are subject to these suits); Neb. Rev. Stat. § 49-1424 (Reissue 1998) (defines governmental body for purposes of accountability and disclosure act) and Neb. Rev. Stat. § 81-2703 (Reissue 1999) (defines state agency for purposes of government effectiveness act).

We have examined a similar question regarding the constitutionality of a legislative delegation of rule making authority to a nonprofit corporation in a prior opinion of this office. In that opinion a nonprofit corporation, which would operate a one-call notification system under a proposed One-call Notification System Act, could not constitutionally be authorized to promulgate rules or regulations which would have any legal effect. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 92129 (December 22, 1992). We see no reason the Board, a nonprofit corporation, should be any different from the nonprofit corporation discussed in our prior opinion.

Considering all of the above authorities, in our opinion it is very likely that creating a nonprofit corporation to promulgate and enforce rules and regulations administering the Act, without the involvement of any governmental agency, would be an unconstitutional delegation of authority. Further, any such regulations purportedly promulgated by the Board would not be enforceable by the Board or any other entity.

II. NONPROFIT CORPORATION'S ABILITY TO ADMINISTER PORK CHECKOFF FUNDS

You further inquire whether the legislature can grant the authority to promulgate and enforce regulations to a state agency, if the LB 803 § 9 provisions delegating such authority to a nonprofit corporation are improper. Your question specifically asks if the Board can engage in the collection and expenditure of pork checkoff funds.

You mention the Nebraska Department of Agriculture as a potential state agency to administer the pork promotion program. Using the Department of Agriculture (hereinafter "the Department") as an example, in our opinion, so long as the legislature properly delegates the authority to promulgate and enforce rules and regulations to the Department, it could administer the Act. County Cork, Inc. v. Nebraska Liquor Control Com'n, 250 Neb. 456, 459, 550 N.W.2d 913, 916 (1996). In delegating administrative authority, the Nebraska Supreme Court has stated that: "The limitations of the powers granted and the standards by which the granted powers are to be administered must, however, be clearly and definitely stated in the authorizing act." Lincoln Dairy Co. v Finigan, 170 Neb. 777, 104 N.W.2d 227 (1960).

The amount of authority which the Department and the Board would have is dependent upon the existence of a federal pork assessment scheme. If the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, through the National Pork Board, is the entity which will be collecting assessments from Nebraska pork producers, then it appears, under the current Act, the Board would be the recipient of funds. 7 U.S.C. § 4803. If the Act were amended as suggested herein, the Department would be the likely recipient. The federal statutes require that the entity receiving the funds from assessments be the Governor-designated state association, be an organization organized under Nebraska law, and be recognized as representing the pork producers of Nebraska. 7 U.S.C. § 4802(16). It appears that either the Department or the Board could be the recipient of the funds. The Board, if it were the assessment recipient, would not have the authority to assess checkoff funds under the Pork Promotion, Research and Consumer Information Act itself. That authority rests solely with the Secretary of Agriculture. 7 U.S.C. § 4803. The Secretary of Agriculture or the U.S. Attorney General would be responsible for enforcing the payment of assessments by Nebraska pork producers. 7 U.S.C. § 4815.

Since the authority rests with the Secretary of Agriculture to collect assessments, it would appear that the fund management and disbursement provisions of LB 803 would be utilized by the Board, much like similar federal rules are utilized by the Nebraska Pork Producers Association currently. The Act must comply with and follow the federal statute and regulations, as any conflicts would result in the Act being partially or totally preempted. In describing the Supremacy Clause of the US Constitution, U.S. Const., art. VI, cl. 2, the Supreme Court has stated: "Federal preemption of state law may be either express or implied, and 'is compelled whether Congress' command is explicitly stated in the statute's language or implicitly contained in its structure and purpose.'" Gade v. National Solid Wastes Management Ass'n, 505 U.S. 88, 98, 112 S. Ct. 2374, 120 L. Ed. 2d 73 (1992). In effect, the Board may receive the checkoff funds in compliance with U.S.C. § 4801 et. seq. and expend those funds in compliance with the federal scheme and LB 803 requirements.

If the Secretary of Agriculture, or any other federal agency, no longer assesses pork checkoff funds from producers under a federal program, then the Act's assessment provisions appear to come into effect. LB 803 §§ 10 to 16. At that time, the Board would have the authority and responsibility of assessing and collecting check-off funds from producers under the Act. LB 803 §§ 9 & 12. However, as stated above, the Board, as a private nonprofit corporation, would have no authority to enforce violations of LB 803. Further, we believe the legislature's granting of assessment authority to a nonprofit corporation, through the delegation of rule making authority, is an unconstitutional delegation of power.

If LB 803 is amended to allow the Department or any other state agency to be the entity responsible for assessment and collection of checkoff funds from producers, upon the termination of such federal assessment, in our opinion the problems described above would be eliminated. We are aware of no legal prohibition precluding the legislature from authorizing the Department or other state agency to contract with the recognized state pork association to receive, disburse, and otherwise manage checkoff funds the Department or another agency had collected. Any such contract would have to comply with the Act, and with any regulations promulgated by the administering state agency. The Board would have the authority, under contract and the regulatory supervision of the the administering state agency, to properly manage and expend the checkoff funds collected.

III. CONCLUSION

The Act provides for the Board, a nonprofit corporation, to be the recognized state association for pork producers. The Act grants the Board the authority to assess and collect checkoff funds from Nebraska pork producers, by rule and regulation. This grant of authority to the Board is, in our opinion, an unconstitutional delegation of authority to a private entity which is not a state agency. Further, any rules or regulations purportedly promulgated by the Board would be unenforceable and void.

Under the current federal assessment scheme, the Secretary of Agriculture is responsible for assessing and collecting the checkoff funds from Nebraska pork producers. The Board could be the recognized state association receiving funds from the federal program under the Act, but would derive virtually all of its authority from the federal act and regulations. The Department could also be the recipient of checkoff funds under the federal act, and could properly promulgate rules and regulations to administer those funds. If the federal assessment scheme ended, then a state checkoff scheme could be approved under the Act. Although, in our opinion, the Board is not able to promulgate rules and regulations to enforce a state checkoff assessment, it is possible that the legislature could grant a state agency the authority to collect and assess checkoff funds from pork producers. The legislature could authorize the transfer of funds to the Board for management and disbursement, under the supervision of the designated agency.

DATE: January 3, 2002

SUBJECT: Impact of Passage of Initiative Petition Measures Proposing to Amend the Nebraska Constitution to Authorize Video or Electronic Gambling devices

REQUESTED BY: Senator Ray Janssen
Nebraska Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
L. Jay Bartel, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion concerning the effect of passage of two initiative measures which propose to amend the Nebraska Constitution to authorize the use of video or electronic gambling devices. The first petition, filed with the Secretary of State on November 6, 2001, proposes to amend the Nebraska Constitution to add a new section 25 to Article XV which, if approved, would create the "Nebraska Video and Electronic Gaming Commission" [the "Commission"]. The Commission, appointed by the Governor with approval of a majority of the Legislature, would be empowered "to establish policy for the conduct of video and electronic gaming in the State of Nebraska." Under the initiative, "video and electronic gaming devices" could only be authorized "on premises licensed to sell alcoholic liquor for consumption on the premises. . . ." "No more than ten video and electronic gaming devices [could] be placed in any licensed location." The second petition, filed with the Secretary of State on December 26, 2001, proposes to add a new article to the Nebraska Constitution providing that "any community may establish and conduct gaming using player activated electronic gaming devices. . . ." This initiative provides for the creation of a "gaming commission" to regulate such gambling, which would be allowed "only on premises which are licensed to sell alcoholic liquor for consumption on the premises and shall be conducted only by [licensed] persons and entities. . . ." "Player activated electronic gaming devices" is defined as "all forms of gaming devices where the element of chance is a product of a computer process running contemporaneously with the play and where the game is activated by the player or players thereof."

Initially, you request advice on the effect of passage of either of these initiatives "on the allowance of Class III gaming in general," and whether, if adopted, "Class III gaming [would] be allowed in its entirety in the state?" The term "Class III gaming" is contained in the federal statutory scheme governing the conduct of Indian gaming known as the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, 25 U.S.C. §§ 2701-2721 ["IGRA" or the "Act"]. IGRA divides gaming into three classes: (1) "class I gaming," which includes social gaming for minimal prizes and traditional gaming conducted at tribal ceremonies or celebrations; (2) "class II gaming," which is defined to include "the game of chance commonly known as bingo (whether or not electronic, computer, or other technologic aids are used in connection therewith) . . . including (if played in the same location) pull-tabs, lotto, punch boards, tip jars, instant bingo, and other games similar to bingo . . . "; and (3) "class III gaming," which "means all forms of gaming that are not class I gaming or class II gaming." 25 U.S.C. § 2703(6)-(8). Class I gaming on Indian lands is within the jurisdiction of the tribes and is not subject to the Act. Id. § 2710(a)(1). Class II gaming is within the jurisdiction of the tribes if "such Indian gaming is located within a State that permits such gaming for any purpose by any person, organization, or entity . . ." and is authorized by a tribal ordinance or resolution, subject to the provisions of the IGRA and oversight by the National Indian Gaming Commission. Id. § 2710(a)(2), (b)(1)(A), (B). Class III gaming activities are "lawful on Indian lands only if such activities are" authorized by a tribal ordinance or resolution, "located in a State that permits such gaming for any purpose by any person, organization, or entity," and "conducted in conformance with a Tribal-State compact entered into by the Indian Tribe and the State. . . ." Id. at § 2710(d)(1)(A)-(C).

"Class III gaming" is a term defined in the IGRA. The IGRA governs the conduct of gaming by Indian tribes on Indian lands. Apart from the conduct of gaming by Indian tribes on Indian lands, the term "Class III gaming" has no relevance to the conduct of gaming activities in the State of Nebraska. Thus, in response to your initial question, we conclude that passage of either of the initiative amendments would not allow "Class III gaming" in the State "in its entirety," as the term "Class III gaming" has no application to the conduct of gaming in Nebraska apart from gaming conducted by Indian tribes on Indian lands under the provisions of the IGRA.

Your second question concerns the effect of passage of the proposed constitutional amendments allowing video or electronic gambling "on the legality of these types of gaming on Native American land. . . ." The first initiative measure would authorize the use of "video or electronic gaming devices" throughout Nebraska "on premises licensed to sell alcoholic liquor for consumption on the premises. . . ." The second initiative would allow communities to "establish and conduct gaming using player activated electronic gaming devices," provided such gaming is "conducted only on premises which are licensed to sell alcoholic liquor for consumption on the premises" by licensed persons or entities. The video or player activated electronic gaming devices the initiatives propose to authorize would constitute Class III gaming as defined in the IGRA. Pursuant to the IGRA, an Indian tribe must, prior to engaging in Class III gaming, negotiate a compact with the State governing the conduct of such gaming. 25 U.S.C. § 2710(d)(1); See also Neb. Rev. Stat. § 9-1,106 (1996)(authorizing the Governor, or his or her designated representative, to negotiate compacts with Indian Tribes for the conduct of Class III gaming as defined in the IGRA).

The State has consistently taken the position that the IGRA requires the State to negotiate a compact only for the conduct of those specific types of Class III gaming which the State "permits" to be conducted "for any purpose by any person, organization, or entity." 25 U.S.C. § 2710(d)(1)(B). The State's view that only those specific forms of Class III gaming which are permitted under Nebraska law are subject to negotiation is consistent with decisions of both the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals and the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. United States v. Santee Sioux Tribe of Nebraska, 135 F.3d 558 (8th Cir.), cert. denied 525 U.S. 813, 119 S. Ct. 48, 142 L. Ed. 2d 37 (1998); Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe v. State of South Dakota, 3 F.3d 273 (8th Cir. 1993); Rumsey Indian Rancheria of Wintum Indians v. Wilson, 41 F.3d 421 (9th Cir. 1994), amended on denial of rehearing and rejection of suggestion for rehearing en banc 64 F.3d 1250, 1258 (1995), cert. denied sub nom Sycuan Band of Mission Indians v. Wilson, 521 U.S. 1118, 117 S. Ct. 2508 (1997); Coeur D'Alene Tribe v. State of Idaho, 51 F.3d 876 (9th Cir. 1995).

Should one or both of the proposed initiative measures garner sufficient valid signatures to be placed on the ballot, and obtain voter approval, the Nebraska Constitution would be amended to authorize gambling activity involving the use of certain "video or electronic gaming devices" or "player activated electronic gaming devices. To the extent such devices involve forms of Class III gaming as defined in the IGRA, an Indian tribe could request the State to negotiate a compact for the conduct of the new specific forms of Class III gaming activity permitted as a result of adoption of one or both initiatives.

Very truly yours,
DON STENBERG

- 4 Nebraska, is amended to read:
- 5 81-1254. (1) The governing body of any county may after
- 6 a public hearing adopt a resolution to impose an additional sales
- 7 tax of not to exceed two percent upon the total consideration

8 charged for occupancy of any space furnished by any hotel if such 9 county has created a County Visitors Promotion Fund and a visitors
10 committee pursuant to section 81-1255. The proceeds from such tax 11 shall be paid to the County Visitors Promotion Fund or County 12 Visitors Improvement Fund created pursuant to section 81-1255, or 13 both, as determined by the governing body of the county.

14 (2) The governing body of any county with a population of 15 more than fifty three hundred thousand inhabitants may after a 16 public hearing adopt a resolution to impose an additional sales tax 17 of not to exceed two percent upon the total consideration charged 18 for occupancy of any space furnished by any hotel if such county 19 has created a County Visitors Improvement Fund and a visitors
20 committee pursuant to section 81-1255. The proceeds from such tax 21 shall be paid to the County Visitors Improvement Fund.

22 (3) The taxes authorized by this section shall be in

PROPOSED RULES CHANGES

The Rules Committee offered the following proposed rules changes:

Committee Proposal

Amend Rule 7, Section 10, as follows:

Rule 7, Sec. 10. Cloture. At any stage of consideration the principal introducer of the bill under consideration, a cointroducer with the consent of the principal introducer, or the chairperson of the committee, if the bill is introduced by that committee, may move for cloture to the presiding officer ~~after eight hours of debate on the bill at that stage of consideration, except that the appropriation bills introduced by the Appropriations Committee shall be subject to a cloture motion after twelve hours of debate at that stage of consideration;~~ however, the presiding officer may rule such motion for cloture out of order if, in the presiding officer's opinion, a full and fair debate has not been afforded. Such ruling by the presiding officer shall not be subject to challenge. Whenever a motion for cloture is offered, the presiding officer shall immediately recognize such introducer or chairperson and shall then order debate on the pending amendment or motion to cease. A vote on the cloture motion shall be taken immediately. A two-thirds majority of the elected members shall be required for the cloture motion to be successful. A motion for cloture shall be in order except while a member is speaking, and a motion for cloture is not debatable. If the motion for cloture is successful, a vote on the pending matter shall be taken immediately, without debate. If the pending matter is an amendment to an amendment, following a vote on the amendment to the amendment, a vote shall be taken on the original amendment. If the original amendment has been divided, then the vote shall be on the original undivided amendment being considered. Finally a vote on the advancement of the bill shall be taken.

A motion for cloture shall have precedence over all other motions except a motion to recess or adjourn.

~~An unsuccessful~~ motion for cloture which fails for lack of sufficient votes shall result in the debate on the bill ending for the day. When the Speaker chooses to resume debate on the bill, successive motions for cloture shall not be in order until two additional hours of debate on the bill has occurred. If the presiding officer rejects a motion for cloture on a bill due to lack of full and fair debate, successive motions for cloture on the bill may be offered at any time.

Amend Rule 5, Section 5, as follows:

Sec. 5. Scheduling of Bills, Priority Bills. (a) Each senator may designate one bill as a priority bill. Such priority bill need not be the designator's bill, but the principal introducer must concur with the designation as a priority bill and with the withdrawal of the designation once made.

(b) Each chairperson of those committees which are authorized to hold public hearings on bills may designate as priority bills two of the bills referenced to that committee and on which the committee has held a public hearing, but the principal introducer must concur with the designation as a priority bill and with the withdrawal of the designation once made.

(c) The Speaker may designate up to 25 additional priority bills.

(d) Priority bill designations may be made at any time prior to the annual designation deadline which shall be set each year by the Speaker. The designation deadline shall be prior to the 45th legislative day in the ninety day session and prior to the 30th legislative day in the sixty day session.

(e) A senator or committee may withdraw a priority designation at any time, but will not be allowed to designate another bill as a priority bill in its place. The Speaker may withdraw a priority designation made by the Speaker.

(f) All committees shall schedule priority bills for public hearing ahead of all unscheduled, nonpriority bills unless the person or committee making the priority designation shall otherwise agree.

(g) All bills not designated as priority bills shall be heard on General File in the order in which they are reported to the floor by the committees, unless the introducer of the bill and the Speaker agree to delay the hearing of a particular bill. This provision shall not be construed to prevent the Speaker from placing bills reported out of committee with ~~two or less~~ no dissenting votes on a consent calendar. ~~Any bill placed on consent calendar shall be removed at the written request of three or more senators.~~

(h) Priority bills shall generally be considered ahead of all other bills at each stage of debate, except as provided for in Rule 1, Section 17. Priority bills requiring the expenditure of appropriated funds shall be held on Final Reading until such time as the annual appropriations bills have been passed. A priority bill which fails to advance after two votes on General File, or after one vote on Select File, shall return to nonpriority status.

(i) No priority bill designated under this rule shall have priority over appropriations bills.

Insert new Rule 5, Section 6, and renumber subsequent sections accordingly:

Sec. 6. Consent Calendar. (a) The Speaker shall have the authority to place on consent calendar any bills advanced out of committee with no dissenting votes. The Speaker shall exercise sole discretion in determining both when to implement consent calendar and which bills complying with the requirements of this section shall be placed on it.

(b) A bill placed on consent calendar shall be announced on the agenda at least twenty-four hours prior to any action being taken regarding it on consent calendar.

(c) Any bill placed on consent calendar shall be removed at the written request of three or more senators. Such request must be filed with the Clerk prior to the expiration of fifteen minutes of debate, at that stage of consideration, on the bill to be removed.

(d) A bill on consent calendar shall be allotted fifteen minutes for introduction and debate. Upon either the completion of debate or the expiration of fifteen minutes, whichever comes first, a vote shall be taken to advance the bill. If there is a pending motion or amendment before the body when either the debate ends or the fifteen minutes expire, a vote shall be taken on the pending matter followed by an immediate vote to advance the bill. If the pending matter is an amendment to an amendment, following a vote on the amendment to the amendment, a vote shall be taken on the original amendment. If the original amendment has been divided, then the vote shall be on the original undivided amendment being considered.

PRESIDENT HEINEMAN PRESIDING

MOTION - Escort Governor

Senator Cudaback moved that a committee of five be appointed to escort the Governor of the State of Nebraska to the Legislative Chamber to deliver his State of the State Address.

The motion prevailed.

The Chair appointed Senators Brashear, Coordsen, Jones, Robak, and Thompson to serve on said committee.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

"Working together, we can continue to make Nebraska, already a great state, even better."

- Mike Johanns, Governor

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislature, distinguished guests, friends, and fellow Nebraskans:

Much has changed since I delivered my last state of the state address.

A year ago, I set forth a broad and aggressive agenda to meet the needs of our citizens, address challenges confronting Nebraska, and fulfill our responsibility to move our state forward. That agenda was met with great success due in large part to our partnership and joint efforts in so many areas and I want to applaud the Legislature for it's good work.

Among the initiatives approved by this Legislature and signed into law were the Invest Nebraska Act, the Ethanol Development Act, the Nebraska Health Care Funding Act, and Early Childhood Initiative legislation.

Since the conclusion of the 2001 legislative session, we have witnessed the fruits of our labors.

The Invest Nebraska Act has already spurred job creation and capital investment across our state. Union Pacific announced they will move 700 good-paying jobs from Missouri to Nebraska and build a $200 million dollar plus headquarters in downtown Omaha. That announcement was followed by three others including 600 new good-paying jobs and over $40 million dollars of investment for a Wal-Mart distribution center in North Platte, 25 new good-paying jobs and over $10 million dollars of investment at American Meter in Nebraska City, and 25 new good-paying jobs and over $10 million dollars of investment by BPI in South Sioux City.

That's good news for Nebraska workers and Nebraska families.

The Ethanol Development Act has stimulated unprecedented interest from Nebraska's agricultural community and other investors in ethanol production. Because of this legislation, and President Bush's decision to deny California's request for a waiver of the Clean Air standards, the prospects for ethanol expansion in Nebraska are greater today than they have ever been. For example, there are currently 12 new ethanol plants proposed in the state and existing plants are expanding at an unprecedented rate. These new investments will bring with them jobs for Nebraska workers, increased demand for Nebraska grain, and additional value to Nebraska's agricultural sector.

That's good news for Nebraska agriculture producers.

Nebraska has wisely used its proceeds from the national tobacco settlement for health-related purposes. Dollars have been divided among mental health and substance abuse services and treatment, minority health, developmental disabilities, respite care, biomedical research, and public health grants. Already, five new multi-county health departments covering nineteen counties that previously had no county health department have been established thanks to public health grants. These new departments will help identify health needs and develop solutions to meet those needs. More counties are expected to unite and form departments over the next few months. These developments are a major step forward for public health in the state. Nebraska has been cited by the federal Centers for Disease Control as a state that has made great strides in building its public health capacity.

Minority health has been boosted with $1 million given to the Charles Drew Health Center and the Indian Chicano Center to eliminate health disparities among racial and ethnic minority groups. Three satellite offices of minority health are under development in Omaha, Scottsbluff and one in central Nebraska. These offices will enable us to reach out to more members of racial and ethnic minorities with public health services.

The blossoming of county health departments and the boost for minority health are but two examples of the many wonderful stories that will be told about the benefits of dedicating tobacco settlement dollars to Nebraska's health care needs. That indeed is very good news for the health and wellbeing of all Nebraskans.

Just last week the national publication Education Week praised our state's commitment to early childhood efforts.

The three initiatives singled out were the business child care tax credit which will be available beginning in 2003, a significant boost in funding for Early Childhood Projects which is a grant program that helps communities set up collaborative child care programs, and a scholarship program for child care providers who pursue training in early childhood development.

These programs and our state's commitment to early childhood education and development initiatives are great news for children and families.

These are some of the success stories of 2001.

However, the successes of this past year have been overshadowed by national and international events.

Today our nation is in the midst of a recession. We know about the painful loss of tens of thousands of jobs across America including many here in Nebraska and we know about how the fall of the stock market has impacted the savings and pensions of millions of Americans and many thousands of Nebraskans.

It is no consolation to those who have been personally impacted by the economic downturn, but the fact remains that Nebraska's economy is in better shape than most states. Our economy continues to grow as evidenced by climbing state tax receipts, albeit at a slower pace than before the national recession. This stands in contrast to some states where the economy is actually contracting and tax receipts are sliding backward.

Besides the recession, 2001 will be forever remembered for the events of September 11th.

Even today we mourn the loss of thousands of Americans to senseless terrorism and we remain steadfast in our resolve to support the war on terror.

The jolt to our nation's and, to a lesser extent, our state's economy following September 11th left no doubt about the need to pull back on state government spending and restructure the budget.

In October, I called this Legislature into special session and presented a plan to adjust the budget. In a period of just nine working days you convened, rolled up your sleeves, got down to business, and approved a budget reduction package totaling $171 million dollars. You adjourned knowing that there was work left to be done but with the satisfaction that agreement had been reached on a package addressing much of the state's projected $220 million dollar tax receipt shortfall.

That brings us to today.

This morning I am introducing budget measures to address the $30 million dollars in deficit requests received from agencies and to account for a portion of our remaining $50 million dollar revenue shortfall.

As you recall from the special session, I suggested four principles to guide our action in addressing our state's budget shortfall. They included: no tax increase; protect priorities including state aid to schools, Medicaid, public assistance, and public safety from across the board reductions; keep the cash reserve untouched; and, address most of the budget shortfall in the special session.

Today, I submit a partial budget modification framework that remains true to those four principles.

Through sound management practices, re-allocation of resources, and prudent program changes, these budget adjustments remedy almost half of the $50 million dollar shortfall. And just as I promised you last Fall, before determining what other budget actions are necessary, we will responsibly wait until the state's economic forecasters provide us with an updated fiscal assessment in February.

However, I remain committed to solving the problem on the spending side of the ledger and not through tax increases that take from the pocketbooks of Nebraska's working families.

Fiscal issues will limit consideration of major new spending initiatives in this short legislative session but there is other work to be done including much-needed action on several criminal justice initiatives.

Over the last three years, we have scored success in the criminal justice and law enforcement arena by increasing the number of state patrol officers, settling a long-standing wage dispute with the state troopers association, criminalizing child enticement, increasing penalties for being an accessory to a felony, launching the state's sex offender registry, boosting law enforcement technology, and lengthening jail time for methamphetamine dealers.

Despite these successes, work remains to be done on other criminal justice priorities. This is the session to get the job done.

The issues I am asking you to act on include reform of post-conviction appeals, enactment of statutes to criminalize fetal homicide, changing our state's method of execution to lethal injection, making needed changes to the sex offender registry, and the conversion of carrier enforcement officers to state troopers.

I appreciate the controversy that some of these emotional issues may present. Sometimes the difficult issues are those issues that most compel our action.

Consider the legal chaos our state would face if the sentence in a capital case is jeopardized by a Supreme Court decision. Consider the issue of highway safety faced by motorists everyday because of too much turnover in the carrier enforcement division. Consider the federal funds Nebraska will lose for not enhancing the sex offender registry or, more importantly, the threat posed by those offenders not required to register under our state's current system. Consider the possibility that another person at fault for the death of an unborn child due to a homicidal act will not be prosecuted. And consider the abuse of our criminal justice system by frivolous appeals when the defendant's guilt is not in question.

The need for reform of the post-conviction appeals process offers a good example of why these five priorities need to be addressed.

Let me describe a real example of how the system has worked for a person convicted of first degree murder fourteen years ago. This is not a death penalty case but rather a case where the defendant was sentenced to life in prison after being convicted in the late 1980's.

Two years later, his direct appeal from that conviction was heard and affirmed by the Nebraska Supreme Court. The Court specifically determined there was no reasonable doubt as to the defendant's guilt of committing the homicide.

Since the Nebraska Supreme Court's consideration of that direct appeal, the defendant has sought statutory post-conviction relief on four separate occasions. None of the post-conviction petitions were based upon claims of newly discovered evidence. None of this litigation has produced a single finding that the defendant was entitled to post-conviction relief.

This case has now consumed the time and resources of the local county attorney's office and the district court in question on five separate occasions, and the time and resources of the Nebraska Attorney General's Office and the Nebraska Supreme Court on four separate occasions. Of course, this abuse of resources pales in comparison to the emotional toll from the lack of finality that continues for victims and their loved ones.

This story reflects a broken system that this Legislature has a responsibility to fix.

For a justice system to be fair, it must be fair to the defendant. Someone who can be exonerated by new evidence must have the opportunity to bring that evidence forward. But as this case clearly illustrates, the system is being abused by needless, frivolous appeals that cost taxpayers thousands of dollars. And so for a justice system to be fair, it must also be fair to victims, to the friends and families of victims, and to the people who support the system by paying for the system.

That is the balance that must be struck, and, ladies and gentlemen, I offer that today our system is out of balance. This Legislature has a responsibility to rebalance the system.

Besides criminal justice matters, the area of juvenile justice reform continues to be a priority. In each year of my administration, I have proposed improvements to the state's juvenile justice system including significant initiatives in each of the last two years.

A year ago, we worked together to increase the number of beds dedicated solely to substance abuse treatment at the Hastings Regional Center from thirty to forty. We also provided $4 million dollars in new annual funding directly to counties for the development of community-based programs for juveniles. A specific goal of the legislation was to develop new capacity for juvenile services at the local level thereby providing alternatives to the courts in sentencing juvenile delinquents, other than commitments, to the State's Kearney and Geneva YRTCs.

This year I am proposing four initiatives to alleviate overcrowding at the Youth Rehabilitation and Treatment Center in Kearney. They include the addition of a ten-bed secure facility contract to provide treatment to juveniles requiring a higher level of security than the staff secure environment at Kearney, a ten-bed program for juveniles who have been identified as having serious sexual perpetration issues, and a ten-bed step-down program that transitions youth back into community life. Finally, and, most importantly, up to thirty additional youth security staff will be added to improve the existing youth to staff ratio and to eliminate the practice of peer take-downs.

These actions will, in turn, allow for a more appropriate length of stay for those youth remaining on the main campus of Kearney. All of these initiatives will also dramatically expand the array of services that are available to the State for treatment and rehabilitation for those youth committed to YRTC-Kearney.

Together we have made progress in reforming our state's juvenile justice system and this year we need to take another step forward.

Over the last three years, I have traveled to all 93 counties at least twice to meet with Nebraskans in their communities, listen to their concerns, and work with them to solve the challenges they face and celebrate their successes. I can tell you that the spirit of Nebraskans is alive. Nebraskans do believe the best days are ahead of us and I share that optimism and confidence about our future.

Working together, we can continue to make Nebraska, already a great state, even better.

Thank you, God bless you, God bless Nebraska, and God bless America.

The Committee escorted Governor Mike Johanns from the Chamber.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONOpinion #02002

DATE: January 16, 2002

SUBJECT: Applicability of the Nebraska Recreation Liability Act, Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 37-729 through 37-736 (1998), to a city-owned skateboard park

REQUESTED BY: Senator Gene Tyson
Nebraska Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Charles E. Lowe, Assistant Attorney General

You have asked this office for its opinion as to whether a city-owned skateboard park would fall within the definition of a "recreational purpose" so as to protect the city from liability under the Nebraska Recreation Liability Act, Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 37-729 through 37-736 (1998).

In answering this question, we assume that the skateboard park is located on city-owned property and that there will be no fee charged for entering the park or for using the skateboarding facility. If there is a charge, then the limitation on liability contained in the Act does not apply. § 37-732.

The express purpose of the Nebraska Recreation Liability Act "is to encourage owners of land to make available to the public land and water areas for recreational purposes by limiting their liability toward persons entering thereon" § 37-730. The Act implements that purpose in § 37-732, which provides:

[A]n owner of land who either directly or indirectly invites or permits without charge any person to use such property for recreational purposes does not thereby (1) extend any assurance that the premises are safe for any purpose, (2) confer upon such persons the legal status of an invitee or licensee to whom a duty of care is owed, or (3) assume responsibility for or incur liability for any injury to person or property caused by an act or omission of such persons.

Obviously, under § 37-732 a key question is whether the "land" in question is being used, with permission, for "recreational purposes."

Section 37-729 contains definitions of some of the important terms used in the Act. Subsection (1) defines "land" to include "roads, water, watercourses, private ways, and buildings, structures, and machinery or equipment thereon when attached to the realty." It appears clear under this definition that a city-owned skateboard park situated on city-owned real estate would constitute "land" for purposes of the Act.¹

Based upon your inquiry, the most important aspect of the question, however, is whether skateboarding would be deemed a "recreational purpose" under the Act. In this regard, subsection (3) of § 37-729 states:

Recreational purposes includes, but is not limited to, any one or any combination of the following: Hunting, fishing, swimming, boating, camping, picnicking, hiking, pleasure driving, nature study, waterskiing, winter sports, and visiting, viewing, or enjoying historical, archaeological, scenic, or scientific sites, or otherwise using land for purposes of the user.

It is apparent that skateboarding is not specifically included in the list of activities set forth in § 37-729(3). Nonetheless, because the Act states clearly that "recreational purposes" are "not limited to" the listed activities and also provides that "recreational purposes" can include "otherwise using the land for purposes of the user," the Act does not, by definition, exclude skateboarding from its coverage and may well be broad enough to cover it.

There do not appear to be any reported Nebraska court decisions on the question of whether or not skateboarding is a "recreational purpose" under the Act. Likewise, we have found no reported decisions on that specific issue from any other jurisdiction.² It is our view, however, that skateboarding does fall within the definition.

The Nebraska Court of Appeals has stated that the definition of "recreational purposes" contained in the Act is very broad, Teters v. Scottsbluff Public Schools, 5 Neb. App. 867, 879, 567 N.W.2d 314 (1997), reversed, in part, on other grounds, 256 Neb. 645, 592 N.W.2d 155 (1999); and the Nebraska Supreme Court has recently noted that the definition is broad enough to include "the normal activities afforded by public parks." Dykes v. Scotts Bluff County Agricultural Society, Inc., 260 Neb. 375, 381, 617 N.W.2d 817 (2000), citing Watson v. City of Omaha, 209 Neb. 835, 842, 312 N.W.2d 259 (1981) (use of playground slide).

In the Dykes majority opinion, the Nebraska Supreme Court held that the Nebraska Recreation Liability Act is "in derogation of common law" and that, therefore, it must be strictly construed. The court went on to find that the viewing of livestock at a county fair is not a "recreational purpose" within the meaning of the Act because such activity "is not substantially similar to the enumerated activities in § 37-729(3)." 260 Neb. at 823, 617 N.W.2d at 382. (Emphasis supplied.) The court distinguished the viewing of livestock at a county fair from the activities which would be covered by the Act by stating: "Generally speaking, the activities listed in § 37-729(3) are more physical than not, generally require the outdoors, and are not 'spectator sports.' . . . The listed recreational purposes tend to involve activities in which the individual using the land is actively involved." 260 Neb. at 823, 617 N.W.2d at 382-83. (Citations omitted.) Thus, it appears that to be covered by the Act an activity, if not listed in § 37-729(3) specifically, must be "substantially similar" to the activities which are listed. In analyzing whether an activity is "substantially similar" to the listed activities, it is important to determine whether that activity is "more physical than not," "generally requires the outdoors," "is not a 'spectator sport,'" and is such that "the individual using the land is actively involved" in it.

Using these guidelines set forth by the Dykes court, it is relatively clear that skateboarding would be an activity "substantially similar" to the activities listed in § 37-729(3) and that it would, therefore, be a "recreational purpose" under the Act. Skateboarding is, obviously, "more physical than not." It generally requires an outdoor venue, although, like swimming, it can be done inside in certain situations. It is not primarily a "spectator sport." Finally, the individual using the land for skateboarding would likely be "actively involved" in that activity in some manner.

The conclusion that skateboarding is "substantially similar" to the activities listed in § 37-729(3) so as to be deemed a "recreational purpose" is supported by the decision in Watson v. City of Omaha, 209 Neb. 835, 312 N.W.2d 256 (1981), in which the Nebraska Supreme Court held that the use of a slide in a city park fit within the statutory definition. The court stated: "Slippery slide activities are not specifically included within the definition of recreational purposes contained in the Recreation Liability Act However, we believe [the] definition [of recreational purposes in the Act] to be broad enough to include the normal activities afforded by public parks." 209 Neb. at 841-42, 312 N.W.2d at 259. While it might not yet be common to find skateboarding facilities in public parks, it is certainly the type of activity that is frequently engaged in in public parks, whether or not specific facilities are devoted to it.

Additional support for the conclusion that skateboarding is a "recreational purpose" under § 37-729(3) can be derived from Holden v. Schwer, 242 Neb. 389, 495 N.W.2d 269 (1993), in which the supreme court found that riding a three-wheeled vehicle for pleasure was a "recreational purpose" within the meaning of the Act. Quoting with approval from a Louisiana appellate court case, the court in Holden said: "The [Louisiana] court specifically held that 'the activity of riding three-wheelers on the property in question during a camping trip is a recreational activity within the scope of [Louisiana's recreational land use act],' and, therefore, no liability attached to the landowner." 242 Neb. at 397, 495 N.W.2d at 274. The Nebraska court then came to the same conclusion.

Finally, in Teters v. Scottsbluff Public Schools, 5 Neb. App. 867, 567 N.W.2d 314 (1997), reversed, in part, on other grounds, 256 Neb. 645, 592 N.W.2d 155 (1999), the Nebraska Court of Appeals found that using part of an obstacle course known as the "slide-for-life," which is an apparatus that allows the participant to slide down a cable on a pulley, constituted a "recreational purpose" under the Act. Even though such activity is, obviously, not specifically among those listed in § 37-729(3), the court stated that the definition of "recreational purpose" in that subsection "is so broad" that there could be no serious question but that the plaintiff, who was injured while using the "slide-for-life," was using the facility for recreational purposes. 5 Neb. App. at 879, 567 N.W.2d at 324. This statement by the appeals court also lends support to the conclusion that skateboarding would likewise be deemed a "recreational purpose" under the Act.

For all of the reasons discussed above, it is the opinion of this office that, provided there is no charge, skateboarding at a skateboard facility owned by a city and situated on city-owned property would be a "recreational purpose" under § 37-729(3) and would be subject to the liability-limiting provisions of the Nebraska Recreation Liability Act.

Sincerely,
DON STENBERG

Senator Baker filed the following amendment to LB 458:

AM2293

1 1. Insert the following new section:

2 "Section 1. Section 46-656.28, Revised Statutes

3 Supplement, 2000, is amended to read:

4 46-656.28. (1) If a district on its own motion or 5 following a request by a surface water appropriator, surface water 6 project sponsor, ground water user, the Department of Natural 7 Resources, or another state agency has reason to believe that a 8 management area should be designated for integrated management of 9 hydrologically connected ground water and surface water or that 10 controls in a management area should be adopted to include such 11 integrated management, the district may utilize the procedures 12 established in sections 46-656.19 to 46-656.21 or may request that 13 the affected appropriators, the affected surface water project 14 sponsors, and the Department of Natural Resources consult with the 15 district and that studies and a hearing be held on the preparation 16 of a joint action plan for the integrated management of 17 hydrologically connected ground water and surface water.

18 (2) If, following a request from a district and as a 19 result of information available to the Department of Natural 20 Resources and following preliminary investigation, the Director of 21 Natural Resources makes a preliminary determination that there is a 22 reason to believe that the use of hydrologically connected ground 23 water and surface water resources is contributing to or is in the 24 reasonably foreseeable future likely to contribute to (a) conflicts

1 between ground water users and surface water appropriators, (b)

2 disputes over interstate compacts or decrees, or (c) difficulties

3 fulfilling the provisions of other formal state contracts or 4 agreements, the department shall, in cooperation with any

5 appropriate state agency and district, conduct or coordinate any 6 necessary studies to determine the cause of such conflicts,

7 disputes, or difficulties and the extent of the area affected.

8 Such studies shall be prioritized and completed within a reasonable

9 time following such preliminary determination. The department

10 shall issue a written report of such preliminary findings within 11 ninety days after the completion of any such studies. The 12 department shall consider all relevant portions of the ground water

13 management plan developed by the district pursuant to sections

14 46-656.12 to 46-656.16 during the study required by this section.

15 (3) If the director determines from any studies conducted

16 pursuant to subsection (2) of this section or from information 17 otherwise available that the use of hydrologically connected ground 18 water and surface water resources is contributing to or is in the 19 reasonably foreseeable future likely to contribute to conflicts 20 between ground water users and surface water appropriators, to 21 disputes over interstate compacts or decrees, or to difficulties 22 fulfilling the provisions of other formal state contracts or 23 agreements and that conflicts between ground water users and 24 surface water appropriators, disputes over interstate compacts or 25 decrees, or difficulties fulfilling the provisions of other formal 26 state contracts or agreements could be eliminated or reduced 27 through the exercise of the authority granted by subsection (5) of 1 this section, he or she shall, within thirty days after completion 2 of the report required by subsection (2) of this section, consult 3 with the affected surface water appropriators and district 4 containing the area affected by such conflicts, disputes, or 5 difficulties and fix a time and place for a public hearing to 6 consider the report, hear any other relevant evidence, and secure 7 testimony on whether a joint action plan should be prepared. The 8 hearing shall be held within ninety days after completion of the 9 report, shall be open to the public, and shall be located within or 10 in reasonable proximity to the area considered in the report.
11 Notice of the hearing shall be published in a newspaper published 12 or of general circulation in the area involved at least once each 13 week for three consecutive weeks. The last publication shall be 14 not less than seven days prior to the hearing. The notice shall 15 provide a general description of all areas which will be considered 16 for inclusion in the management area for which the district and 17 director are considering in the preparation of a joint action plan.
18 (4) At the hearing, all interested persons shall be 19 allowed to appear and present testimony. The Conservation and 20 Survey Division of the University of Nebraska, the Department of 21 Health and Human Services Regulation and Licensure, the Department 22 of Environmental Quality, the affected surface water project 23 sponsor or sponsors, and the appropriate surface water 24 appropriators and district or districts may offer as evidence any 25 information in their possession relevant to the purpose of the 26 hearing. Within ninety days after the hearing or after any further 27 studies or investigations conducted by or on behalf of the director 1 as he or she deems necessary, the district shall determine by order 2 whether to proceed with developing a joint action plan for 3 integrated management.
4 If the district determines that it should proceed and the 5 district and the director determine that a joint action plan should 6 be prepared, the district and the director shall develop a joint 7 action plan to be utilized within the area in order to mitigate or 8 eliminate conflicts between ground water users and surface water 9 appropriators, disputes over interstate compacts or decrees, or 10 difficulties fulfilling the provisions of other formal state

11 contracts or agreements.

12 (5) The district's portion of the joint action plan 13 developed under this section shall include one or more of the 14 controls authorized by section 46-656.25 and shall be completed 15 within one year after the date of the district's resolution to 16 proceed. The portion of the joint action plan developed by the 17 Department of Natural Resources shall be completed within one year 18 after the date of the district's resolution to proceed and shall 19 include one or more of the following measures concerning the use of 20 surface water:

21 (a) Increased monitoring and enforcement of surface water 22 diversion rates and amounts diverted annually;

23 (b) The prohibition or limitation of additional surface 24 water appropriations;

25 (c) Requirements for surface water appropriators to apply 26 or utilize reasonable conservation measures or best management 27 practices consistent with the good husbandry and other requirements 1 of section 46-231; or

2 (d) Other reasonable restrictions on surface water use 3 that are consistent with the intent of section 46-656.05 and the 4 requirements of section 46-231.

5 If the department determines that surface water 6 appropriators should be required to apply or utilize reasonable 7 conservation measures or best management practices, the 8 department's portion of the joint action plan shall allow the 9 affected surface water appropriators and surface water project 10 sponsors a reasonable amount of time, not to exceed one hundred 11 eighty days unless extended by the department, to identify the 12 conservation measures or best management practices to be applied or 13 utilized and a schedule for such application and utilization.

14 (6) In developing their respective portions of the joint 15 action plan authorized by subsection (5) of this section, the 16 department and the district shall consider, but not be limited to 17 considering, whether it reasonably appears that such action would 18 mitigate or eliminate the condition which led to designation of the 19 management area or the adoption of a joint action plan for the 20 management area or will improve the administration of the 21 management area.

22 (7) The district shall also determine that designation of 23 a management area and adoption of a joint action plan would be in 24 the public interest.

25 (8) Neither well registration dates nor appropriation 26 dates shall be a factor in determining whether a management area 27 shall be designated or a joint action plan prepared.

1 (9) In determining whether designating a management area
2 or adopting a joint action plan would be in the public interest, 3 the district shall consider (a) the impacts of the existing or 4 projected diminution or degradation of water resources on (i) 5 surface water appropriators, (ii) ground water users, (iii) public

6 health and safety, (iv) social, economic, and environmental values 7 in the affected area or areas, and (v) compliance with state laws, 8 rules, or regulations, including, but not limited to, 9 constitutional and statutory preferences in the use of water and 10 interstate compacts or decrees, and (b) whether designation and 11 implementation of a management area or adoption and implementation 12 of a joint action plan would prevent or alleviate the impact of 13 such diminution or degradation of water resources.
14 (10) Following completion of the district's and the 15 director's portions of the joint action plan, the district, in 16 order to establish a management area, shall fix a time and place 17 for a public hearing to consider the joint action plan information 18 and to hear any other relevant evidence. The hearing shall be held 19 within sixty days after completion of the joint action plan and 20 shall be located within or in reasonable proximity to the area 21 proposed for designation as a management area.
22 Notice of the hearing shall be published at the expense 23 of the district in a newspaper published or of general circulation 24 in the area involved at least once each week for three consecutive 25 weeks. The last publication shall be not less than seven days 26 prior to the hearing. The notice shall provide a general 27 description of the contents of the joint action plan and of the 1 area which will be considered for inclusion in the management area 2 and shall provide the text of all controls proposed for adoption by 3 the district and the department.
4 All interested persons shall be allowed to appear and 5 present testimony. The hearing shall include testimony of a 6 representative of the department and shall include the results of 7 any studies or investigations conducted by the district or the 8 director.
9 (11) Within ninety days after the hearing the district 10 shall determine by order whether a management area shall be 11 designated.
12 If the district determines that a management area shall 13 be established, the district shall by order designate the area as a 14 management area and shall adopt the joint action plan, to include 15 one or more controls authorized by section 46-656.25 and subsection 16 (5) of this section to be utilized within the area in order to 17 mitigate or eliminate the conflicts, disputes, or difficulties 18 described in subsection (9) of this section. Such an order shall 19 include a geographic and stratigraphic definition of the area. The 20 boundaries and controls shall take into account any considerations 21 brought forth at the hearing and administrative factors directly 22 affecting the ability of the district to implement and carry out 23 local ground water management.
24 The controls adopted shall not include controls 25 substantially different from those set forth in the notice of the 26 hearing. The area designated by the order shall not include any 27 area not included in the notice of the hearing.

1 (12) The district shall cause a copy of any order adopted 2 pursuant to subsection (11) of this section to be published once 3 each week for three consecutive weeks in a local newspaper 4 published or of general circulation in the area involved. The last 5 publication shall be not less than ten days prior to the effective 6 date of the order. The order shall become effective on the date 7 specified by the district but not later than ninety days after the 8 date of establishment of the management area.

9 (13) Modification of a district's portion of a joint 10 action plan may be accomplished utilizing the procedure established 11 for the initial adoption of the joint action plan. Modification of 12 the boundaries of a district-designated management area for 13 integrated management or dissolution of such an area shall be in 14 accordance with the procedures established in sections 46-656.19 to 15 46-656.21. Hearings for such modifications or for dissolution may 16 not be initiated more often than once a year. Modification of 17 controls also may be accomplished using the procedure in such 18 sections.

19 (14) Each district in which a joint action plan for a 20 management area has been adopted shall, in cooperation with the 21 surface water appropriators, any surface water project sponsors, 22 and the department, establish a program to monitor use of 23 hydrologically connected ground water and surface water resources 24 in the area which is contributing to or is in the reasonably 25 foreseeable future likely to contribute to conflicts between ground 26 water users and surface water appropriators, to disputes over 27 interstate compacts or decrees, or to difficulties fulfilling the 1 provisions of other formal state contracts or agreements.

2 (15) For the purpose of determining whether conflicts
3 exist between ground water users and surface water appropriators, 4 surface water appropriators under the Nebraska Ground Water 5 Management and Protection Act does not include holders of instream 6 flow appropriations under sections 46-2,107 to 46-2,119.

7 (16)(a) If a district, in accordance with subsection (1) 8 of this section, has initiated the process for the preparation of a 9 joint action plan for the integrated management of hydrologically 10 connected ground water and surface water, the district may adopt 11 regulations to require a temporary suspension in the drilling of 12 certain new wells in the district or portion of the district for 13 which the preparation of the joint action plan is proposed. If 14 such temporary suspension is imposed, it shall apply to all new 15 wells in the geographic area involved except (i) test holes or 16 dewatering wells with an intended use of ninety days or less, (ii) 17 water wells designed and constructed to pump fifty gallons per 18 minute or less, and (iii) water wells defined by the district to be 19 replacement water wells. The regulations to impose such temporary 20 suspension may be adopted only after a public hearing for which 21 notice has been given as provided in section 46-656.19. Any such 22 temporary suspension could be imposed initially for not to exceed 23 three years, but could be extended thereafter on an annual basis 24 for not to exceed two years if necessary to allow adoption and 25 implementation of a management area and action plan in accordance 26 with subsections (11) and (12) of this section.

27 (b) Any such temporary suspension shall be immediately 1 rescinded for the applicable portion or portions of the geographic 2 area involved if any of the following events occur: (i) The 3 director determines, in accordance with subsection (2) or (3) of 4 this section that there is no reason to believe that the conditions 5 described in such subsections exist and that therefor no hearing is 6 required on a question of whether a joint action plan should be 7 prepared; (ii) the district determines, pursuant to subsection (5), 8 (6), (7), (8), or (9) of this section that it should not proceed to 9 develop a joint action plan; (iii) the district determines pursuant 10 to subsection (11) of this section that a management area should 11 not be adopted; or (iv) an order adopted by the district pursuant 12 to subsection (11) of this section becomes effective and designates 13 the area or areas involved as a management area and adopts a joint 14 action plan which includes one or more controls authorized by 15 section 46-656.25.

16 (c) The district may grant a variance from the temporary 17 suspension if it determines that construction of a new well is 18 necessary to alleviate an emergency situation involving the 19 provision of water for human consumption.

20 This subsection does not authorize the Department of 21 Natural Resources to temporarily suspend drilling of water wells.

22 This subsection terminates on December 31, ~~2002~~ 2007."

AM2380

(Amendments to Standing Committee amendments, AM0234)

- 1 1. On page 1, line 3, after "county" insert "that has
- 2 agreed by resolution to enter into arbitration when requested by a
- 3 natural resources district as provided in section 4 of this act".
- 4 2. Insert the following new section:
- 5 "Sec. 4. (1) If it is necessary to vacate a county road
- 6 or roads in order to carry out an authorized purpose and the county
- 7 board will not enter into an agreement with the district pursuant
- 8 to section 39-1501 for the purpose of vacating the road or roads,
- 9 the district may request that the county board submit to
- 10 arbitration under this section. A request that a county board
- 11 submit to arbitration under this section shall be made in writing.
- 12 The request shall include a detailed description of the road or
- 13 roads to be vacated and the name and address of the arbitrator
- 14 selected by the district.
- 15 (2) An arbitration panel shall be formed to arbitrate the
- 16 road vacation dispute. The arbitration panel shall collect
- 17 necessary information and determine whether the public benefits to
- 18 the state of the use by the district outweigh the public detriment
- 19 to the state from the closing of the county road.
- 20 (3) The arbitration panel shall consist of three members,
- 21 one of whom shall be selected by the district, one of whom shall be
- 22 selected by the county board, and a third shall be selected by the
- 23 other two arbitrators. The arbitrators shall not be employees,
- 1 agents, or consultants of any party to the dispute and shall have
- 2 no financial or personal interest in the result of the arbitration.
- 3 (4) The arbitration panel shall be appointed within
- 4 forty-five days after the receipt of the request for arbitration.
- 5 The county shall notify the district in writing of the name and
- 6 address of the arbitrator selected by the county within thirty days
- 7 after receipt of the request. The two arbitrators selected by the
- 8 parties shall notify the parties in writing of the name and address
- 9 of the third arbitrator selected by them.
- 10 (5) Each of the parties to the dispute shall pay the
- 11 costs and expenses of the arbitrator selected by it together with
- 12 one-half of the costs and expenses of the third arbitrator and
- 13 one-half of the costs and expenses of the hearing, unless the
- 14 parties otherwise agree or the arbitration board, in its
- 15 discretion, assesses such costs and expenses, or any part thereof,
- 16 in a different manner.
- 17 (6) The arbitration panel shall hire an official

18 stenographer to report its hearings and may hire an attorney to 19 assist it in ruling on the admissibility of evidence offered and in 20 the preparation of the record which will constitute the bill of 21 exceptions in any appeal from the decision of the arbitration board 22 and may hire such other personnel as it deems necessary to conduct 23 the hearing.

24 (7) The arbitration panel shall meet within thirty days
25 of the appointment of the third arbitrator. The third arbitrator 26 shall be the chairperson and preside at all meetings and hearings 27 of the arbitration panel and shall provide notice to the parties at 1 least five days before the first meeting. The parties shall meet 2 with the arbitration panel at its first meeting for the purpose of 3 clarifying and narrowing the specific issues from those set forth 4 in the detailed statement of disputed issues.

5 (8) If a party to the dispute fails or refuses to appoint 6 its arbitrator within the time established in this section, the 7 arbitrator appointed by the other party shall, within ten days
8 after such failure apply to the American Arbitration Association 9 for the appointment of the second arbitrator. Within ten days 10 after the appointment of the second arbitrator, the two arbitrators 11 so selected shall appoint a third arbitrator.

12 (9) The arbitration panel may proceed in the absence of 13 any party who, after due notice, fails to appear or obtain a 14 continuance. An award shall not be made without a hearing or based 15 solely on the default of a party. The arbitration panel shall (a) 16 consider only those matters necessary for the resolution of the 17 disputed issues, (b) have no authority to add to, subtract from, or 18 alter the issues except as otherwise agreed to by the parties, and 19 (c) not alter or modify any existing contract.

20 (10) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the 21 Commercial Arbitration Rules of the American Arbitration 22 Association, as amended and in effect on the effective date of this 23 act, shall be used to the extent that they are determined by the 24 arbitration panel to be applicable to the procedures set forth in 25 this section. The Administrative Fee Schedule contained in the 26 rules shall not apply.

27 (11) The parties shall submit preliminary written 1 statements to the arbitration panel within thirty days after the 2 convening of the first meeting of the arbitration panel. The 3 arbitration panel shall fix the time and place for a public hearing 4 which shall commence not more than sixty days after the convening 5 of the first meeting of the arbitration panel. The arbitration 6 panel shall give each party written notice of the hearing by 7 certified mail, at least ten days in advance of the hearing, unless 8 the parties waive such notice. The arbitration panel shall publish 9 notice of the hearing in a newspaper having general circulation in 10 the county three consecutive weeks.

11 (12) At all times after receipt of the notice of the 12 dispute, each party shall make available to the other, for 13 inspection and copying, all documents, data, and records with 14 respect to the dispute for the presentation of the matter to the 15 arbitration panel. If the parties fail to agree on the production 16 of documents and records, the arbitration panel shall determine the 17 matter. The parties may also take depositions with respect to the 18 dispute.

19 (13) At the hearing the arbitration panel shall hear 20 testimony and receive evidence in person or by deposition relating 21 to the dispute and may continue the hearing from time to time. The 22 arbitration panel shall be bound by the rules of evidence 23 applicable in district court. The arbitration panel may require a 24 party to submit such evidence as the board may deem necessary or 25 desirable for making its decision and the board is authorized to 26 subpoena witnesses and documents. Opportunity shall be afforded to 27 both parties to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses. The 1 parties may be represented by counsel.

2 (14) The arbitration panel shall seek to complete its 3 hearing on the issues submitted to it within thirty days after the 4 commencement of the hearing. The arbitration panel may extend the 5 time to complete the hearing beyond the thirty-day period if the 6 arbitration panel determines that such extension is necessary.

7 (15) The arbitration panel shall render its decision
8 within thirty days after completion of the hearing. The decision 9 shall be in writing, be accompanied by findings of fact, and be 10 signed by the arbitrators supporting the decision. The findings of 11 fact shall consist of a concise statement of the conclusions upon 12 each contested issue of fact. The decision of a majority of the 13 arbitrators shall be the decision of the arbitration board. A copy 14 of the decision and accompanying findings and conclusions shall be 15 mailed to each party and its attorney of record by certified mail.

16 (16) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (17) of 17 this section, the parties may, by mutual written agreement filed 18 with the arbitration board, extend any of the time limits 19 prescribed in this section.

20 (17) The final decision of the arbitration board shall be 21 binding upon the parties. If a party to any arbitration proceeding 22 is not satisfied with the decision entered by the arbitration 23 panel, such party may appeal to reverse, vacate, or modify the 24 decision, and such decision shall be in abeyance until the 25 appellate court has issued its opinion. The procedure to obtain 26 reversal, modification, or vacation of a decision rendered by the 27 arbitration panel shall be by filing notice of appeal with the 1 Court of Appeals within thirty days after the date of the decision.
2 The appeal shall be deemed perfected and the appellate court shall 3 have jurisdiction of the cause when a notice of an appeal has been 4 filed and appeal has been taken in the manner provided by law for 5 appeals from the district court in civil cases.

6 (18) Trial in the appellate court shall be de novo on the 7 record. Such case shall be advanced in the same manner as other

- 8 causes which involve the public welfare and convenience and shall 9 be set for an early hearing.
 10 (19) The verbatim testimony transcribed by the official 11 stenographer, including all exhibits received, shall constitute the 12 bill of exceptions. The decision appealed and the bill of 13 exceptions duly certified by the members of the arbitration panel 14 shall constitute the complete record on appeal.
 15 Sec. 5. The Revisor of Statutes shall assign section 4 16 of this act within sections 2-3201 to 2-32,114."
 17 3. Renumber the remaining section accordingly.

Senator Wehrbein requested a ruling of the Chair on whether the Beutler amendment is germane to the Standing Committee amendment.

The Standing Committee amendment, as amended, was adopted with 31 ayes, 0 nays, 15 present and not voting, and 3 excused and not voting.

No lottery game shall be conducted as part of the lottery unless the type of game has been approved by a majority of the members of the Legislature.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit (a) the enactment of laws providing for the licensing and regulation of wagering on the results of horseraces, wherever run, either within or outside of the state, by the parimutuel method, when such wagering is conducted by licensees within a licensed racetrack enclosure or (b) the enactment of laws providing for the licensing and regulation of bingo games conducted by nonprofit associations which have been in existence for a period of five years immediately preceding the application for license, except that bingo games cannot be conducted by agents or lessees of such associations on a percentage basis.

(5) For purposes of this section:

(a) Gaming means any game played with cards, dice, equipment, or a machine for money, credit, or any representative of value if the game is not included within the definition of Class I or Class II gaming under the federal Indian Gaming Regulatory Act as of January 1, 2002; and two miles of an adjoining state which allows gaming, except that (i) no such zone may contain lands within the limits of a federally recognized Indian tribe's Indian reservation in Nebraska recognized as of October 1988, or real property in Knox County and Boyd County held by the Secretary of the Interior in trust for the benefit of the Ponca Tribe, and (ii) no interdiction gaming zone or gaming in such zone once established shall be continued if the adjoining state has prohibited gaming in its jurisdiction for two years.

(6) Nothing in the statutes or Constitution of Nebraska shall be construed to prohibit or restrict gaming operated by a federally recognized Indian tribe in Nebraska on lands within the limits of the tribe's Indian reservation recognized as of October 1988, or on real property in Knox County and Boyd County held by the Secretary of the Interior in trust for the benefit of the Ponca Tribe, and over which the tribe has jurisdiction when such gaming is conducted in accordance with federal law.

(7) Nothing in the Constitution of Nebraska shall be construed to prohibit or restrict gaming as authorized in this section in an interdiction gaming zone created by the Legislature pursuant to this subsection. The Legislature may make laws creating one interdiction gaming zone and authorizing up to six gaming facilities within the zone. The Legislature may provide for regulation and taxation of gaming activities in the interdiction gaming zone. The Legislature may grant one or more federally recognized Indian tribes in Nebraska the authority to conduct gaming activities in one or more facilities within the interdiction gaming zone if the tribe or tribes agree not to conduct gaming activities on the reservation land of the tribe or tribes or upon land in Knox County or Boyd County held by the Secretary of the Interior in trust for the benefit of the Ponca Tribe.

(8) Of all revenue received by the state from gaming activities in gaming facilities located in the interdiction gaming zone or from revenue-sharing agreements contained in or resulting from a compact between the State of Nebraska and a federally recognized Indian tribe in Nebraska which authorizes gaming on reservation or trust lands within the state, forty-five percent shall be used by the state for property tax relief, and forty-five percent shall be used to enhance after-school and summer programs in public school districts."

8 Sec. 3. Section 13-519, Revised Statutes Supplement, 9 2001, is amended to read:

10 13-519. (1) For fiscal years beginning on or after July 11 1, 1996, and before July 1, 1997, no governmental unit shall adopt 12 a budget containing a total of budgeted restricted funds more than 13 the last prior year's total of budgeted restricted funds plus 14 population growth plus two percent expressed in dollars. For 15 cities of the first and second class and villages, restricted funds 16 shall be reduced to take into account the fourteen-month fiscal 17 year for 1995-96. For fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 18 1997, and before July 1, 1998, no governmental unit shall adopt a 19 budget containing a total of budgeted restricted funds more than 20 the last prior year's total of budgeted restricted funds plus 21 population growth expressed in dollars. For all fiscal years 22 beginning on or after July 1, 1998, no governmental unit shall 23 adopt a budget containing a total of budgeted restricted funds more

24 than the last prior year's total of budgeted restricted funds plus 25 allowable growth plus the basic allowable growth percentage of the 26 base limitation established under section 77-3446. For all fiscal 27 years beginning on or after July 1, 1998, and before July 1, 1999,

1 the last prior year's total of restricted funds shall be the last 2 prior year's total of restricted funds not excluding restricted 3 funds budgeted for acquisition or replacement of tangible personal 4 property with a useful life of five years or more in the last prior 5 year or the year before the last prior year, whichever excluded the 6 most, plus restricted funds budgeted to pay for lease-purchase 7 contracts approved on or after July 1, 1997, and before July 1, 8 1998, to the extent the lease payments are not budgeted restricted 9 funds for fiscal year 1997-98. For all fiscal years beginning on 10 or after July 1, 2001, and before July 1, 2002, the last prior 11 year's total of restricted funds shall be the last prior year's 12 total of restricted funds plus any amount budgeted to be received 13 from the Natural Resources Enhancement Fund in fiscal year 14 1999-2000. For the second fiscal year in which a county will 15 receive a full year of receipts from the tax imposed in section 1 16 of this act, the prior year's total of restricted funds shall be 17 the prior year's total of restricted funds plus the total receipts 18 from the tax imposed in section 1 of this act in the prior year.

19 If a governmental unit transfers the financial responsibility of 20 providing a service financed in whole or in part with restricted 21 funds to another governmental unit or the state, the amount of 22 restricted funds associated with providing the service shall be 23 subtracted from the last prior year's total of budgeted restricted 24 funds for the previous provider and may be added to the last prior 25 year's total of restricted funds for the new provider. For 26 governmental units that have consolidated, the calculations made 27 under this section for consolidating units shall be made based on 1 the combined total of restricted funds, population, or full-time 2 equivalent students of each governmental unit.

3 (2) In addition to the increase allowed in subsection (1) 4 of this section, for fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 5 1998, and before July 1, 1999, a governmental unit may increase its 6 budget of restricted funds no more than four percent to create or 7 increase an existing qualified sinking fund or funds upon the 8 affirmative vote of at least seventy-five percent of the governing 9 body. Any unused authority granted in this subsection may not be 10 carried forward under section 13-521.

11 (3) A governmental unit may exceed the limit provided in 12 subsection (1) of this section for a fiscal year by up to an 13 additional one percent upon the affirmative vote of at least 14 seventy-five percent of the governing body.

15 (4) A governmental unit may exceed the applicable 16 allowable growth percentage otherwise prescribed in this section by 17 an amount approved by a majority of legal voters voting on the 18 issue at a special election called for such purpose upon the 19 recommendation of the governing body or upon the receipt by the 20 county clerk or election commissioner of a petition requesting an 21 election signed by at least five percent of the legal voters of the 22 governmental unit. The recommendation of the governing body or the 23 petition of the legal voters shall include the amount and 24 percentage by which the governing body would increase its budgeted 25 restricted funds for the ensuing year over and above the current 26 year's budgeted restricted funds. The county clerk or election 27 commissioner shall call for a special election on the issue within 1 fifteen days after the receipt of such governing body

 2 recommendation or legal voter petition. The election shall be held 3 pursuant to the Election Act, and all costs shall be paid by the 4 governing body. The issue may be approved on the same question as 5 a vote to exceed the levy limits provided in section 77-3444.
 6 (5) In lieu of the election procedures in subsection (4) 7 of this section, any governmental unit may exceed the allowable 8 growth percentage otherwise prescribed in this section by an amount 9 approved by a majority of legal voters voting at a meeting of the 10 residents of the governmental unit, called after notice is 11 published in a newspaper of general circulation in the governmental 12 unit at least twenty days prior to the meeting. At least ten 13 percent of the registered voters residing in the governmental unit 14 shall constitute a quorum for purposes of taking action to exceed 15 the allowable growth percentage. If a majority of the registered 16 voters present at the meeting vote in favor of exceeding the 17 allowable growth percentage, a copy of the record of that action 18 shall be forwarded to the Auditor of Public Accounts along with the 19 budget documents. The issue to exceed the allowable growth 20 percentage may be approved at the same meeting as a vote to exceed 21 the limits or final levy allocation provided in section 77-3444.

 23 Statutes Supplement, 2001, are repealed."

GENERAL FILE

LEGISLATIVE BILL 82. The second Standing Committee amendment, FA822, as amended, was adopted with 32 ayes, 1 nay, 10 present and not voting, and 6 excused and not voting.

The third Standing Committee amendment is as follows:
 FA823

9 Sec. 15. (1) Prior to acceptance of a plea of guilty or 10 nolo contendere to any offense punishable as a crime under state 11 law, except offenses designated as infractions under state law, the 12 court shall administer the following advisement on the record to 13 the defendant:
 14 IF YOU ARE NOT A UNITED STATES CITIZEN, YOU ARE HEREBY 15 ADVISED THAT CONVICTION OF THE OFFENSE FOR WHICH YOU HAVE 16 BEEN CHARGED MAY HAVE THE CONSEQUENCES OF REMOVAL FROM 17 THE UNITED STATES, OR DENIAL OF NATURALIZATION PURSUANT 18 TO THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.
 19 (2) Upon request, the court shall allow the defendant 20 additional time to consider the appropriateness of the plea in 21 light of the advisement as described in this section. If, on or 22 after the effective date of this act, the court fails to advise the 23 defendant as required by this section and the defendant shows that 24 conviction of the offense to which the defendant pleaded guilty or 25 nolo contendere may have the consequences for the defendant of 26 removal from the United States, or denial of naturalization 27 pursuant to the laws of the United States, the court, on the 1 defendant's motion, shall vacate the judgment and permit the 2 defendant to withdraw the plea of guilty or nolo contendere and 3 enter a plea of not guilty. Absent a record that the court 4 provided the advisement required by this section, the defendant 5 shall be presumed not to have received the required advisement.
 6 (3) With respect to pleas accepted prior to the effective 7 date of this act, it is not the intent of the Legislature that a 8 court's failure to provide the advisement required by subsection 9 (1) of this section should require the vacation of judgment and 10 withdrawal of the plea or constitute grounds for finding a prior 11 conviction invalid. Nothing in this section, however, shall be 12 deemed to inhibit a court, in the sound exercise of its discretion, 13 from vacating a judgment and permitting a defendant to withdraw a 14 plea.

15 Sec. 16. The Legislature finds and declares that in many 16 instances involving an individual who is not a citizen of the 17 United States and who is charged with an offense punishable as a 18 crime under state law, a plea of guilty or nolo contendere is 19 entered without the defendant knowing that a conviction of such 20 offense is grounds for removal from the United States, or denial of 21 naturalization pursuant to the laws of the United States.
 22 Therefore, it is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this 23 section to promote fairness to such accused individuals by 24 requiring in such cases that acceptance of a guilty plea or plea of 25 nolo contendere be preceded by an appropriate warning of the 26 special consequences for such a defendant which may result from the 27 plea. It is also the intent of the Legislature that the court in 1 such cases shall grant the defendant a reasonable amount of time to 2 negotiate with the prosecuting agency in the event the defendant or 3 the defendant's counsel was unaware of the possibility of removal 4 from the United States, or denial of naturalization as a result of 5 conviction. It is further the intent of the Legislature that at 6 the time of the plea no defendant shall be required to disclose his 7 or her legal status to the court.

The third Standing Committee amendment was adopted with 33 ayes, 1 nay, 10 present and not voting, and 5 excused and not voting.

The fourth Standing Committee amendment is as follows:

FA824

1 Sec. 3. (1) The Legislature finds that audio and video 2 electronic recordings are the most effective way for the 3 prosecution to meet its burden of demonstrating a free, knowing, 4 and intelligent waiver of a person's right to remain silent, to 5 refuse to answer questions, to refuse to respond during a custodial 6 interrogation, to have an attorney present during such questioning, 7 and to have an attorney provided to such person if he or she cannot 8 afford an attorney, as provided by the Constitution of the United 9 States. Moreover, such a complete and accurate record of the 10 context of confessions aids law enforcement officers in analyzing 11 and rejecting untruthful confessions.
 12 (2) All custodial interrogation or questioning, including 13 interrogation and questioning about rights described in subsection 14 (1) of this section, or the waiver of such rights, shall be 15 electronically recorded. Except as provided in subsection (3) of 16 this section, if a law enforcement officer, or an individual 17 working with such law enforcement officer, fails to comply with 18 this subsection, any statements or confession a person makes in

- 19 response to such custodial interrogation shall be suppressed at a 20 criminal proceeding against such person.
 21 (3) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, if a 22 law enforcement officer, or persons working with law enforcement 23 officers, while acting in good faith and pursuant to a reasonable 24 belief that any such custodial interrogation or questioning is 25 being electronically recorded, but such custodial interrogation, or 26 any part thereof, is not so recorded, a court may permit the 27 introduction of statements or confession made by such person at a 1 criminal proceeding.
 2 (4) For purposes of this section, custodial interrogation 3 has the meaning prescribed to it under the Fourth Amendment to the 4 Constitution of the United States and Article I, section 7, of the 5 Constitution of Nebraska, as interpreted by the Nebraska Supreme 6 Court.
 7 Sec. 4. Section 27-1103, Reissue Revised Statutes of 8 Nebraska, is amended to read:
 9 27-1103. These rules ~~may~~ and section 3 of this act shall 10 be known and may be cited as the Nebraska Evidence Rules

7 place, and manner of disclosure;

8 (4) All known cases in which the jailhouse informer 9 testified or offered statements against a person but was not called 11 evidence in the case, and whether the jailhouse informer received 12 any deal, promise, inducement, or benefit in exchange for or 13 subsequent to such testimony or statement;

14 (5) Whether at any time the jailhouse informer recanted

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion #02003

DATE: January 28, 2002

SUBJECT: LB 1257. Whether Legislative Redistricting May Be Done More Often Than Once After Each Federal Decennial Census

REQUESTED BY: Senator Merton L. Dierks

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Steve Grasz, Deputy Attorney General

In connection with your introduction of LB 1257, you have requested an Attorney General's Opinion addressing the ability of the Legislature, under Article III, section 5, of the Nebraska Constitution, to engage in legislative redistricting more often than once after each federal decennial census, in the absence of a court order.

Thirty-five Years of Confusion. The "Dangers" of Obiter Dictum

Your request presents an unusually interesting question of state constitutional law. The trail leading to its answer is so exceptional that before we can even begin to address the issue presented we must first attempt to untangle a thirty-five year-old legal puzzle.

In 1961 the Nebraska Legislature adopted a bill proposing a constitutional amendment pertaining to legislative redistricting. 1961 Neb. Laws LB 217. This proposal was submitted to the voters of Nebraska at the 1962 election. See Carpenter v. State, 179 Neb. 628, 630, 139 N.W.2d 541 (1966). As approved by the voters in 1962, Article III, section 5, of the Nebraska Constitution then provided, in pertinent part, "The Legislature may redistrict the state from time to time, not more often than once in ten years." Id.

However, in 1964, a federal court declared portions of the 1962 amendment unconstitutional. League of Nebraska Municipalities v. Marsh, 232 F. Supp. 411 (D. Neb. 1964). See also League of Nebraska Municipalities v. Marsh, 242 F.Supp. 357 (D. Neb. 1965), appeal dismissed, Marsh v. Dworak, 382 U.S. 1021 (1965). Thus, the redistricting performed by the Nebraska Legislature under the 1962 amendment was invalidated. See Carpenter v. State, 179 Neb. at 631. The Legislature started over in 1965 (five years after the decennial census). Id. In addition to redistricting, the Legislature passed LB 923 (1965 Neb. Laws). This bill once again submitted a proposed revision of Article III, section 5 to the voters. As approved by the voters in 1966, the new constitutional provision deleted the "not more than once in ten years" language, and replaced it with "The Legislature shall redistrict the state after each federal decennial census." Neb. Const. art. III, § 5.

Thus, having just completed multiple attempts at legislative redistricting subsequent to the 1960 census, the Legislature proposed, and the voters approved, removing the language in the Constitution specifically limiting redistricting to "not more often than once in ten years." However, a year after the new constitutional provision was adopted, a federal court released an opinion in which it stated, "Congressional redistricting differs from legislative redistricting in one important aspect that should be mentioned here. Under Section 5 of Article III of the Nebraska Constitution, the Legislature may redistrict itself not more often than once in ten years. There is no such limitation on Congressional redistricting." Exon v. Tiemann, 279 F. Supp. 603, 608 (D. Neb. 1967) (emphasis added).

The court in Exon was considering the constitutionality of new Congressional districts enacted in 1961. Id. at 605. The court's comments concerning state legislative redistricting were purely dicta and have no legal force.¹ More importantly, though, the court in Exon was clearly quoting from the wrong (old) constitution. Id. at 608. Compare Neb. Const. art. III, § 5. This mistake has apparently caused confusion regarding this issue for the last 35 years.

Compounding the error of the federal court, and adding to the confusion created thereby, the published opinion of the court was supplemented with an editor's headnote (undoubtedly relied upon by subsequent researchers) which repeated the faulty dicta as a proposition of law: "Congressional redistricting differs from legislative redistricting . . . in that under [the] Nebraska Constitution the Legislature may redistrict itself not more than once in ten years, while there is no such limitation or congressional redistricting." Exon, 279 F. Supp. at 605 (headnote 6).

In 1971, an Attorney General's Opinion was issued to a state senator on several reapportionment questions. One question was whether the Legislature could redistrict more often than every ten years. In response, the Opinion cited Exon v. Tiemann, 279 F. Supp. 603 (D. Neb. 1967) to support the proposition that redistricting could not occur more than once in ten years. Oddly, the opinion set forth the text of the current constitution, but stated, "This matter is controlled by Article III, section 5, which specifically provides for redistricting no earlier than every ten years." 1971-72 Report of the Attorney General 29, 30 (Feb. 11, 1971) (emphasis added). This statement was correct as to the Constitution in effect prior to 1966, but not with regard to the Constitution as it existed at the time of the Opinion. Even if one were to interpret the new language as permitting redistricting only once in ten years, one could not say the Constitution "specifically" provides for this result. The "specific" language to which the Exon case referred was deleted by the voters in 1966.

The Exon dicta once again led to confusion in Op. Att'y Gen. No. 92090 (Aug. 3, 1992). In addressing the issue of whether court ordered redistricting could involve a statewide redistricting plan (as opposed to merely redrawing the specific districts involved in the litigation) the Opinion cited to both Exon v. Tiemann, and the 1971 Attorney General's Opinion for the proposition that "Article III, section 5 of the Nebraska Constitution does not allow the Legislature to redistrict itself more often than once in every ten years." Op. Att'y Gen. No. 92098 at 2. This statement was itself dicta, as the issue of redistricting frequency was not at issue in the Opinion. Furthermore, the statement was simply a reiteration of the same proposition from the 1971 Opinion and the 1967 Exon decision.

In sum, the question of whether the Nebraska Legislature may redraw legislative districts more often than once in ten years has been confused for 35 years by a series of mistakes, dicta and recitation of prior mistakes and dicta. Thus, the answer to your question must be determined from a fresh examination of the language of the Constitution as it now exists, using the rules of constitutional interpretation.

Rules of Constitutional Construction

In order to determine whether legislative redistricting may be done more often than once in ten years in Nebraska it is necessary to examine the relevant language of the Constitution in light of the rules established by the Nebraska Supreme Court for construing constitutional provisions. First, we are bound by the cardinal rule that the State Constitution must be applied and enforced as it is written. State ex rel. Spire v. Conway, 238 Neb. 766, 472 N.W.2d 403 (1991). Next, the provisions of the Constitution must be read as a whole. Jaksha v. State, 222 Neb. 690, 385 N.W.2d 922 (1986). Constitutional provisions are not open to construction as a matter of course. In re Applications A-16027, 242 Neb. 315, 328, 495 N.W.2d 23 (1993), modified, 243 Neb. 419, 499 N.W.2d 548 (1993). Construction of a constitutional clause is appropriate only when it has been demonstrated that its meaning is not clear and that construction is necessary. Id. If a provision must be construed because its meaning is not clear, then "its words are to be interpreted in their most natural and obvious sense, although they should receive a more liberal construction than statutes. Spire, 238 Neb. at 775, 472 N.W.2d at 409.

When a constitutional provision is ambiguous, it is also appropriate to search for intent. "Effect must be given to the intent of the framers of the organic law and of the people adopting it. This is the polestar in the construction of constitutions." In re Application A-16027 et al., 242 Neb. at 329. Id. at 3. The Nebraska Supreme Court has often examined the records of constitutional conventions to help determine intent. When an amendment is proposed by the legislature, rather than by a constitutional convention, evidence of intent may be gathered from the legislative history. As the Nebraska Supreme Court held ninety-nine years ago, "The legislature, in proposing an amendment to the constitution, acts in a capacity in strict analogy to that of a constitutional convention." Weston v. Ryan, 70 Neb. 211, 221, 97 N.W. 347 (1903). Id.

Finally, because the Nebraska Constitution "is not a grant but, rather, a restriction on legislative power, . . . the Legislature is free to act on any subject not inhibited by the Constitution." State ex rel. Stenberg v. Douglas Racing Corp., 246 Neb. 901, 905, 524 N.W.2d 61, 64 (1994). As the Nebraska Supreme Court has repeatedly held, "The Legislature has plenary legislative authority except as limited by the state and federal Constitutions." State ex rel. Stenberg v. Moore, 249 Neb. 589, 595, 544 N.W. 2d 344 (1996).

Analysis of Article III, Section 5

Applying the foregoing rules of constitutional interpretation, we first look to the language of the constitution to determine whether the provision is clear on its face, or whether an ambiguity exists which requires construction.

Article III, section 5 currently provides, in pertinent part, "The Legislature shall by law determine the number of members to be elected and divide the state into legislative districts. . . . The Legislature shall redistrict the state after each federal decennial census. . . ." Neb. Const. art. III, § 5. The first quoted provision places broad power in the Legislature to apportion the State, and contains no limitations as to frequency of its action. The second quoted provision, on its face, mandates redistricting "after each federal decennial census." This provision clearly places a floor or minimum requirement on legislative action. It does not, by its express terms, establish a ceiling or maximum limit on legislative action. The question, then, is whether the provision read as a whole (including the reference to the decennial census) was intended to limit the Legislature's power to redistrict to only once after each census. It could be argued that since the population numbers used in redistricting "shall be the population . . . as shown by the next preceding federal census," id., it would not make sense to redistrict more than once in ten years. However, this argument fails to account for the possibility of legislative boundaries being reconfigured for reasons other than population changes.

We find the words of section 5 to be ambiguous with respect to the issue presented. Therefore, we look to the historical background of the provision and any legislative floor debate on the language as it now exists.

The legislative history of 1965 Neb. Laws LB 923 contains some discussion pertinent to the issue at hand. As originally introduced, the bill provided that the Legislature may redistrict the state after each federal decennial census. Committee Records on LB 923 (Neb. 1965) p. 5. However, some legislators felt that, in light of recent federal court decisions requiring redistricting to be done based on population (one person - one vote), it was important that redistricting be mandatory after each census, rather than optional, in order to avoid future litigation. Id.

The pertinent committee debate centered on having redistricting at least once in ten years (a minimum standard). Id. at 11-12. Nonetheless, a proposed amendment to change "may" redistrict to "shall" redistrict was defeated in committee. Committee Records on LB 923 (July 22, 1965) (Executive Session minutes).

The floor debate on LB 923 also contains some pertinent discussion. Perhaps most relevant was an amendment proposed by Senator Bauer: "What my amendment does is . . . it provides that redistricting may be done once after each federal census. . . ." Floor Debate on LB 923 at 2913A. (emphasis added). According to Senator Bauer, "We have been talking about five things altogether that we have been dealing with in the Constitution. One is this matter of how often you redistrict." Id. In response, Senator Warner stated, "I believe, Senator Bauer, we have already adopted all of the provisions of your resolution with one exception and that is the word 'once', that the legislature may redistrict once following the federal census. . . . but as I see your amendment, there is not any change from where we now . . . stand with the exception of adding the word once." Id. at 2913A - 2914A. After limited debate, Senator Bauer withdrew his amendment. Id. at 2914A.

Later, Senator Knight proposed changing the word "may" redistrict to "shall" redistrict. Id. at 2921A. Again, as in committee, the debate seemed to be centered on whether it should be mandatory to do a redistricting after each census or whether the Legislature should have the option of doing it less often. Id. at 2921A - 2922A. The procedural history of this proposal is somewhat cloudy due to an intervening motion to indefinitely postpone the bill. However, the final proposed amendment did contain the word "shall" rather than "may" with regard to redistricting after each federal decennial census. See Floor Debate on LB 923, Aug. 3, 1965 at 2985 (Sen. Warner discussing his select file amendment, including the replacement of "may" with "shall").

It is also noteworthy that in discussing his opposition to a motion to indefinitely postpone the bill, Senator Warner listed several changes that, in his view, had to be made to the Constitution. One was a provision for staggered terms; one was a change to county line requirements; and "I think that you are going to have to have the constitutional change so that you can strike the language about you may redistrict a state from time to time and not more oftener than every ten years. . . ." Id. at 2923A. His reasoning was "you are going to have to reapportion every federal census or else you will be in another problem in 1971 session following the census at that time." Id.

As a whole, the history of the current constitutional provision argues against reading a frequency limitation on legislative redistricting authority into the Constitution. As discussed above, in 1965 the Legislature adopted a bill proposing to remove an express constitutional limitation on frequency of redistricting ("The Legislature may redistrict . . . not more often than once in ten years."). See 1965 Neb. Laws LB 923. In 1966, the voters approved this amendment, and deleted the restriction from the Constitution. History also shows that at the time of the amendment's adoption, the Legislature had just completed multiple attempts at legislative redistricting following the 1960 decennial census due to the invalidation of the Legislature's plans by a federal court. See Carpenter v. State, 179 Neb. 628 (1966). A reasonable inference is that the removal from the Constitution of the express limitation on redistricting frequency was a response to recent experience and was intended to remove the frequency limitation.

Guidance From Other Jurisdictions

Nebraska is certainly not the first state to be faced with this question. In Harris v. Shanahan, 387 P.2d 771 (Kan. 1963) the court stated, "It is the general rule that once a valid apportionment law is enacted no future act may be passed by the legislature until after the next regular apportionment period prescribed by the Constitution." Id. at 779-780. This statement must certainly be examined. However, "general rules" are of little value or application where a unique provision of a state constitution is at issue. It is unlikely, given its rules of construction, the Nebraska Supreme Court would go beyond the language and history of Nebraska's unique provision. Furthermore, even the "general rule" referenced by the Kansas Supreme Court refers to a limitation created by the "apportionment period prescribed by the Constitution." Id. Thus, the "rule" is predicated on the assumption that the provisions in question have prescribed periods for redistricting. This, in fact, is the norm. Typical redistricting provisions in cases cited in Harris have language stating that redistricting is to be done "the first session after each census" or "the year following the year in which the census is taken." See e.g., Mooney v. Hutchinson, 50 N.E. 599 (Ill. 1898) (finding the Illinois provision requiring "the general assembly shall apportion the state every ten years, beginning winter 1871 . . ." impliedly prohibited apportionment at any other time). Nebraska's provision, by contrast, is less specific, and provides only that redistricting be done "after" each federal decennial census.

It is also relevant that the duty to apportion is a continuous obligation of the Legislature until it is performed. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 92098 ("The duty to apportion the state which is imposed upon the legislature is mandatory, and continues until it is properly discharged.") (citing Selzer v. Synhorst, 253 Iowa 936, 113 N.W.2d 724 (1962) and 81A C.J.S. States § 63). This concept would seem to support the notion that "after" each census could be any time during the ten year period, as opposed to provisions requiring that it be done "in the first session" after the census, etc. See, e.g. State ex rel. v. Zimmerman, 266 Wis. 307, 63 N.W.2d 52 (1954) (Wisconsin provision limiting legislature redistricting to the "first session after each enumeration"). See also Legislature of the State of California v. Deukmejian, 669 P.2d 17 (Cal. 1983) (California provision requiring redistricting "in the year following the year in which the national census is taken - - - at the beginning of each decade. . . .") (emphasis added) (citing cases from Michigan, North Carolina and New York - each with provisions expressly limiting the frequency of redistricting). Id. at 23. Thus, Deukmajian is distinguishable in that any reapportionment done other than "in the year following . . . the national census . . . at the beginning of each decade . . ." would not follow the language of the California Constitution. In contrast, the Nebraska Constitution mandates redistricting "after each federal decennial census." It does not specify the session or year, or expressly prohibit more than one adjustment of boundaries, provided it is done "after each . . . census."

Conclusion

As discussed above, where a constitutional provision is ambiguous, and therefore subject to construction, the Nebraska Supreme Court will look to the meaning of the words used "in their most natural sense" with the aid of historical context. Spire, 238 Neb. at 775. We believe both the language and the history of article III, § 5 lead to the same conclusion.

In 1874 the Nebraska Constitution limited redistricting to the "first session after" each state or federal enumeration. Neb. Const. art. II, § 3. The 1875 Nebraska Constitution provided that "at its first regular session after each [state] enumeration, and also after each enumeration made by the authority of the United States, but at no other time, the legislature shall apportion the senators and representatives. . . ." Neb. Const. art. III, § 2 (1875) (emphasis added).

The inclusion of express language in the Constitution limiting redistricting to once in ten years continued for many decades. See Rogers v. Morgan, 127 Neb. 456, 459, 462 (1934) (quoting the then existing version of article III, § 5) ("the State may be redistricted from time to time, but not oftener than once in ten years"). See also Buller v. City of Omaha, 164 Neb. 435, 439, 82 N.W.2d 578 (1957) ("The State may be redistricted from time to time, but no oftener than once in ten years.") (quoting Neb. Const. art. III, § 5); Id. at 441 ("the only manner in which such boundaries can be changed is by legislative action and then "no oftener than once in ten years."). The version of Article III, section 5 adopted in 1962 made the frequency of legislative redistricting a matter of legislative discretion as to the minimum time between reapportionment, but again set the maximum frequency at "once in ten years." See Carpenter v. State, 179 Neb. at 630.

Thus, it is clear beyond any dispute the Legislature knew how to draft express language limiting the frequency of legislative redistricting. Instead, the drafters of the current provision chose to delete the express prohibition on redistricting more than once in ten years. The result is a provision mandating redistricting "after each federal decennial census" without further limitation. See Day v. Nelson, 240 Neb. 997, 999, 485 N.W. 2d 583 (1992) ("Article III, § 5 of the Nebraska Constitution requires the Legislature to redistrict the State after each federal decennial census."); Hlava v. Nelson, 247 Neb. 482, 484, 528 N.W. 2d 306 (1995) (Article III, § 5 of the Nebraska Constitution . . . requires the Legislature to redistrict the legislative districts of the State after each federal decennial census. . . .").

In light of the plenary authority of the legislature to legislate on matters not prohibited by the Constitution, and in light of the broad constitutional authority vested in the Nebraska Legislature to redistrict, we conclude that your proposed legislation does not offend Article III, § 5 of the Nebraska Constitution insofar as it proposes to redraw legislative districts for the second time "after the federal decennial census." As the Nebraska Supreme Court has held, "The matter of apportionment is so essentially legislative, restrained only by the Constitution, that courts interfere therein only when there appears a clear and palpable violation of the fundamental law." Rogers, 127 Neb. at 461.

Sincerely,
 DON STENBERG

AMENDMENTS - Print in Journal

Senator Dierks filed the following amendment to LB 435:
 AM2279

(Amendments to E & R amendments, AM7119)

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and all amendments
- 2 thereto and insert the following new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. Sections 1 to 8 of this act shall be known
- 4 and may be cited as the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection
- 5 Act.
- 6 Sec. 2. The Legislature finds that agricultural
- 7 production in this state is highly dependent upon businesses
- 8 providing inputs for agricultural producers and markets for
- 9 agricultural commodities which have historically located on lands

10 owned and served by railroads. It is vital to the continued
11 prosperity of agriculture that such businesses maintain reasonable 12 access to rail service and maintain reasonable terms of tenancy 13 upon land owned by railroads or their successors in interest. The 14 Legislature also finds that agribusiness leaseholders' substantial
15 investments in structures and improvements unique to their rail
16 location, as well as dependency on rail access, place them at a
17 disadvantage in negotiating lease renewals. The Legislature
18 further finds that given the substantial investment in structures 19 and improvements made by agribusiness leaseholders, it is equitable 20 that such agribusiness leaseholders have a right of first refusal 21 to purchase the land they lease, should it be offered for sale.
22 The purpose of the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act is 23 to establish a system for fair resolution of lease disputes that 1 may arise between railroad property owners or their successors and 2 agribusiness tenants and to guard against unreasonable lease
3 renewal terms or unjust lease termination.
4 Sec. 3. For purposes of the Agricultural Suppliers Lease
5 Protection Act:
6 (1) Agricultural tenant means any public warehouse
7 licensee as defined in section 88-526, any livestock auction market 8 as defined in section 54-1158, or any other persons primarily 9 engaged in the sale or distribution of fertilizer or agricultural 10 chemicals or farm implements, machinery, or equipment occupying 11 railroad land owned or controlled by a railroad or its grantee or 12 successor in interest;
13 (2) Fair market lease rate means the lease rate of 14 comparable commercial properties adjusted according to accepted 15 appraisal standards which may include, but are not necessarily 16 limited to, lease terms, conditions of rental, market conditions, 17 location, physical characteristics, economic characteristics
18 stipulated in the lease, use of railroad land, and nonrealty 19 components or, in the absence of comparability, the lease rate as 20 determined by comparable rates of return realized on the lease of 21 other commercial property in proximity to the lease site.
22 (3) Good faith means honesty in fact in the conduct of 23 the transaction concerned;
24 (4) Lease means any agreement between a railroad and a 25 tenant under the terms of which a tenant occupies the surface of 26 railroad land;
27 (5) Railroad land means any land acquired by a railroad
1 in strips for right-of-way and any parcel or tract acquired by a
2 railroad adjacent to its right-of-way to aid in the construction,
3 maintenance, and accommodation of its railway and which is occupied 4 pursuant to a lease by a tenant who owns substantial improvements
5 thereon;
6 (6) Substantial improvements means buildings or other
7 structures or fixtures to structures that are permanent in nature 8 and includes equipment that is affixed to real property or

9 structures; and

10 (7) Successor in interest includes any agent, successor, 11 assignee, trustee, receiver, or other person acquiring interests or 12 rights in railroad land, including, but not limited to, the owner 13 or holder of any servient estate or right of reversion relating to 14 railroad land.

15 Sec. 4. (1) Except when an owner of railroad land has 16 received a bona fide, third-party offer to lease the property, at 17 the expiration of an existing lease, the agricultural tenant shall 18 be given the opportunity to renew the lease at fair market lease 19 rate. If a bona fide third-party offer has been made to lease the 20 property, then the agricultural tenant shall be given first 21 opportunity to renew the lease at a rate that is substantially 22 equal in value to the third-party offer.

23 (2) All controversies regarding application and 24 reasonableness of lease terms and conditions or fair market lease 25 rate arising between a railroad or its successor in interest and an 26 agricultural tenant who is the owner, lessee, or licensee of a 27 substantial improvement situated on railroad land owned or
1 controlled by the railroad or its successor in interest shall be
2 resolved by negotiation or by Department of Agriculture action.

3 (3) The parties shall first negotiate in good faith to 4 resolve any controversy. If any such controversy is not resolved 5 within sixty days after notification is given to an agricultural 6 tenant by a railroad or its successor in interest that it wishes to 7 (a) renew a lease upon new terms, (b) terminate a lease, (c) not 8 renew a lease upon the expiration of a current lease, or (d) change 9 the terms of an existing lease, then either party may file a 10 complaint with the department setting forth facts upon which such 11 complaint is based.

12 (4) The department, after reasonable notice to the 13 parties, shall hear and determine all matters in controversy and 14 make such order as the facts of the controversy warrant. In 15 conducting its hearing, the department shall have those powers
16 granted to it under the Administrative Procedure Act. Any person 17 shall have the right to appeal from such order in accordance with 18 the act.

19 Sec. 5. (1)(a) Except when an owner of railroad land has 20 received a bona fide, third-party offer to purchase the property, 21 if a railroad or its successor in interest wishes to sell or offer 22 to sell property leased to an agricultural tenant upon which 23 substantial improvements owned by the agricultural tenant are 24 located, then, except when the sale or offer to sell is made to a 25 purchaser who is a common carrier who intends to operate a railroad 26 on railroad right-of-way adjacent to the leased property for the 27 public benefit or a purchaser who intends to use the railroad land 1 for interim trail use under the National Trails System Act, 16
2 U.S.C. 1243, as such act existed on the effective date of this act, 3 the railroad or its successor in interest shall first extend to the 4 agricultural tenant a written offer to sell the railroad land to 5 the agricultural tenant at fair market value. (b) If a bona fide 6 third-party offer has been made to a railroad or its successor in 7 interest to purchase property leased to an agricultural tenant upon 8 which substantial improvements owned by the agricultural tenant are 9 located, the railroad or its successor in interest shall first 10 extend to the agricultural tenant a written offer to sell the 11 railroad land at a price that is substantially equal in value to 12 the third-party offer of purchase.

13 (2) The agricultural tenant shall have thirty days after 14 a written offer made to the agricultural tenant pursuant to 15 subdivision (1)(a) of this section to give written notice of either 16 (a) acceptance of the offer to sell and of the offerer's
17 determination of fair market value or (b) acceptance of the offer
18 to sell and rejection of the offerer's determination of fair market
19 value in which case the parties shall negotiate the fair market
20 value and, if the parties cannot agree, the agricultural tenant 21 shall have sixty days after the agricultural tenant gives notice of 22 rejection to file a complaint with the Department of Agriculture
23 seeking determination of fair market value.

24 (3) The Department of Agriculture, after reasonable
25 notice to the parties, shall hear and determine the fair market
26 value of the land offered for sale and make such order as the facts 27 of the controversy warrant. In conducting its hearing, the 1 department shall have those powers granted it under the 2 Administrative Procedure Act. Any person shall have the right to 3 appeal from such order in accordance with the act.

4 (4) If the agricultural tenant fails to give timely
5 notice or to file a timely complaint under subsection (2) of this 6 section or fails to complete the purchase of the railroad land 7 within sixty days after the fair market value has been accepted by 8 the agricultural tenant or determined by the department, unless the 9 delay in completing the purchase is attributable to the railroad or 10 its successor in interest, the railroad or its successor in 11 interest may sell or offer to sell the railroad land to any 12 purchaser and such purchaser shall not be bound by this section.
13 If the railroad land is sold to a purchaser which will use the 14 railroad land for railroad operating purposes or for interim trail 15 use as described in subdivision (1)(a) of this section, then the 16 purchaser shall be bound by all of the provisions of the 17 Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act.

18 Sec. 6. (1) The Department of Agriculture, in 19 consultation with the parties, may employ the services of a 20 certified general real estate appraiser when determination of fair 21 market value is a matter in controversy or relevant to the hearing 22 and determination of the matter in controversy.

23 (2) All costs incurred by the department hearing and 24 determining all matters in controversy pursuant to the Agricultural 25 Suppliers Lease Protection Act shall be paid equally by the 26 parties.

27 Sec. 7. (1) The Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection

1 Act shall not apply to any valid lease entered into prior to the 2 effective date of this act or any renewal or extension thereof on 3 the same terms and conditions, but the provisions of the act shall 4 apply to and govern any renewal or extension of such lease on any 5 different terms or conditions or any material modifications of any 6 such lease effected on or after the effective date of this act.

7 (2) Any party having a right of first refusal or right of 8 renewal under the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act shall 9 be barred from making any subsequent claim to possession or title 10 to the railroad land if it fails to bring an action asserting that 11 it has been denied its right of first refusal or right of renewal 12 in violation of the act within six months after the date of a lease 13 or after the expiration of a lease or sale by the railroad to a 14 party other than the agricultural tenant.

15 Sec. 8. The Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Cash

16 Fund is created. All funds collected by the Department of 17 Agriculture under the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act
18 shall be remitted to the State Treasurer for credit to the fund.
19 The fund shall be used by the department to aid in defraying the 20 expenses of administering the act. Any money in the fund available 21 for investment shall be invested by the state investment officer
22 pursuant to the Nebraska Capital Expansion Act and the Nebraska
23 State Funds Investment Act.

24 Sec. 9. Section 75-109, Revised Statutes Supplement,
25 2000, is amended to read:

26 75-109. (1) Except as provided in the Agricultural

27 Suppliers Lease Protection Act and sections 19-4603, 86-803, and 1 86-808, the commission shall regulate and exercise general control 2 as provided by law over all common and contract carriers engaged in 3 the transportation of freight or passengers for hire or furnishing 4 telecommunications services for hire in Nebraska intrastate
5 commerce.

6 (2) The commission is authorized to do all things
7 reasonably necessary and appropriate to implement the federal 8 Telecommunications Act of 1996, Public Law 104-104, including 47
9 U.S.C. 251 et seq., as such sections existed on the effective date 10 of this act, including section 252 of the act which establishes 11 specific procedures for negotiation and arbitration of 12 interconnection agreements between telecommunications companies.
13 Interconnection agreements approved by the commission pursuant to 14 section 252 of the act may contain such enforcement mechanisms and 15 procedures that the commission determines to be consistent with the 16 establishment of fair competition in Nebraska telecommunications
17 markets. In addition, the commission may administratively fine
18 pursuant to section 75-156 any person who violates any enforcement 19 mechanism or procedure established pursuant to this subsection.
20 The authority granted to the commission pursuant to this subsection

- 21 shall be broadly construed in a manner consistent with the federal 22 Telecommunications Act of 1996.
 23 Sec. 10. Original section 75-109, Revised Statutes 24 Supplement, 2000, is repealed."

LEGISLATIVE BILL 435. Senator Beutler withdrew his pending amendments, AM1728, AM1732, AM1737, AM1731, AM1736, AM1730, AM1733, AM2065, AM2062, AM2059, AM2060, AM2066, and AM2061, found on pages 2050, 2051, 2074, and 2075, First Session, 2001.

Senator Dierks withdrew his pending amendment, AM2279, found on page 409.

Senator Dierks offered the following amendment:
 AM2487

(Amendments to E & R amendments, AM7119)

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and all amendments
- 2 thereto and insert the following new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. Sections 1 to 8 of this act shall be known
- 4 and may be cited as the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection
- 5 Act.
- 6 Sec. 2. The Legislature finds that agricultural
- 7 production in this state is highly dependent upon businesses
- 8 providing inputs for agricultural producers and markets for
- 9 agricultural commodities which have historically located on lands
- 10 owned and served by railroads. It is vital to the continued

11 prosperity of agriculture that such businesses maintain reasonable 12 access to rail service and maintain reasonable terms of tenancy 13 upon land owned by railroads or their successors in interest. The 14 Legislature also finds that agribusiness leaseholders' substantial
15 investments in structures and improvements unique to their rail
16 location, as well as dependency on rail access, place them at a
17 disadvantage in negotiating lease renewals. The Legislature
18 further finds that given the substantial investment in structures
19 and improvements made by agribusiness leaseholders, it is equitable 20 that such agribusiness leaseholders have a right of first refusal 21 to purchase the land they lease, should it be offered for sale.
22 The purpose of the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act is 23 to establish a system for fair resolution of lease disputes that 1 may arise between railroad property owners or their successors and 2 agribusiness tenants and to guard against unreasonable lease
3 renewal terms or unjust lease termination.

4 Sec. 3. For purposes of the Agricultural Suppliers Lease
5 Protection Act:

6 (1) Agricultural tenant means any public warehouse
7 licensee as defined in section 88-526, any livestock auction market 8 as defined in section 54-1158, or any other persons primarily 9 engaged in the sale or distribution of fertilizer or agricultural 10 chemicals or farm implements, machinery, or equipment occupying 11 railroad land owned or controlled by a railroad or its grantee or 12 successor in interest;

13 (2) Fair market lease rate means the lease rate of 14 comparable commercial properties adjusted according to accepted
15 appraisal standards which may include, but are not necessarily 16 limited to, lease terms, market conditions, location, physical 17 characteristics, economic characteristics stipulated in the lease, 18 and nonrealty components or, in the absence of comparability, the 19 lease rate as determined by comparable rates of return realized on 20 the lease of other commercial property in proximity to the lease 21 site.

22 (3) Good faith means honesty in fact in the conduct of 23 the transaction concerned;

24 (4) Lease means any agreement between a railroad and a 25 tenant under the terms of which a tenant occupies the surface of 26 railroad land;

27 (5) Railroad land means any land acquired by a railroad
1 in strips for right-of-way and any parcel or tract acquired by a
2 railroad adjacent to its right-of-way to aid in the construction,
3 maintenance, and accommodation of its railway and which is occupied 4 pursuant to a lease by a tenant who owns substantial improvements
5 thereon;

6 (6) Substantial improvements means buildings or other
7 structures or fixtures to structures that are permanent in nature 8 and includes equipment that is affixed to real property or 9 structures; and

10 (7) Successor in interest includes any agent, successor, 11 assignee, trustee, receiver, or other person acquiring interests or 12 rights in railroad land, including, but not limited to, the owner 13 or holder of any servient estate or right of reversion relating to 14 railroad land.

15 Sec. 4. (1) Except when an owner of railroad land has 16 received a bona fide, third-party offer to lease the property that 17 the owner desires to accept, at the expiration of an existing 18 lease, the agricultural tenant shall be given the opportunity to 19 renew the lease at fair market lease rate. If a bona fide 20 third-party offer has been made to lease the property that the 21 owner desires to accept, then the agricultural tenant shall be 22 given first opportunity for a period of thirty days after receipt 23 of written notice of such third-party offer to renew the lease at a 24 rate that is substantially equal in value to the third-party offer.

25 (2) All controversies regarding application and 26 reasonableness of lease terms and conditions or fair market lease 27 rate arising between a railroad or its successor in interest and an 1 agricultural tenant who is the owner, lessee, or licensee of a
2 substantial improvement situated on railroad land owned or 3 controlled by the railroad or its successor in interest shall be 4 resolved by negotiation or by Department of Agriculture action.

5 (3) The parties shall first negotiate in good faith to 6 resolve any controversy. If any such controversy is not resolved
7 within sixty days after notification is given to an agricultural 8 tenant by a railroad or its successor in interest that it wishes to 9 renew a lease upon new terms, (b) terminate a lease, (c) not 10 renew a lease upon the expiration of a current lease, or (d) change
11 the terms of an existing lease, then either party may file a 12 complaint with the department setting forth facts upon which such 13 complaint is based.

14 (4) The department, after reasonable notice to the 15 parties, shall hear and determine all matters in controversy and 16 make such order as the facts of the controversy warrant. In 17 conducting its hearing, the department shall have those powers
18 granted to it under the Administrative Procedure Act. Any person 19 shall have the right to appeal from such order in accordance with 20 the act.

21 Sec. 5. (1)(a) Except when an owner of railroad land has 22 received a bona fide, third-party offer to purchase the property 23 that the owner desires to accept, if a railroad or its successor in 24 interest wishes to sell or offer to sell property leased to an 25 agricultural tenant upon which substantial improvements owned by 26 the agricultural tenant are located, then, except when the sale or 27 offer to sell is made to a purchaser who is a common carrier who 1 intends to operate a railroad on railroad right-of-way adjacent to 2 the leased property for the public benefit or a purchaser who 3 intends to use the railroad land for interim trail use under the 4 National Trails System Act, 16 U.S.C. 1243, as such act existed on 5 the effective date of this act, the railroad or its successor in 6 interest shall first extend to the agricultural tenant a written 7 offer to sell the railroad land to the agricultural tenant at fair 8 market value. (b) If a bona fide third-party offer that a railroad 9 or its successor in interest desires to accept has been made to 10 purchase property leased to an agricultural tenant upon which 11 substantial improvements owned by the agricultural tenant are 12 located, the railroad or its successor in interest shall first 13 extend to the agricultural tenant a written offer to sell the 14 railroad land at a price that is substantially equal in value to 15 such third-party offer of purchase. If the agricultural tenant 16 does not accept such written offer within thirty days after receipt 17 of the offer, then the railroad or its successor in interest may 18 sell the property to the third party, and such third party is not 19 bound under this section.

20 (2) The agricultural tenant shall have thirty days after 21 a written offer made to the agricultural tenant pursuant to 22 subdivision (1)(a) of this section to give written notice of either 23 (a) acceptance of the offer to sell and of the offerer's
24 determination of fair market value or (b) acceptance of the offer
25 to sell and rejection of the offerer's determination of fair market
26 value in which case the parties shall negotiate the fair market
27 value and, if the parties cannot agree, the agricultural tenant
1 shall have sixty days after the agricultural tenant gives notice of 2 rejection to file a complaint with the Department of Agriculture
3 seeking determination of fair market value.

4 (3) The Department of Agriculture, after reasonable
5 notice to the parties, shall hear and determine the fair market
6 value of the land offered for sale and make such order as the facts
7 of the controversy warrant. In conducting its hearing, the 8 department shall have those powers granted it under the 9 Administrative Procedure Act. Any person shall have the right to 10 appeal from such order in accordance with the act.

11 (4) If the agricultural tenant fails to give timely
12 notice or to file a timely complaint under subsection (2) of this 13 section or fails to complete the purchase of the railroad land 14 within sixty days after the fair market value has been accepted by 15 the agricultural tenant or determined by the department, unless the 16 delay in completing the purchase is attributable to the railroad or 17 its successor in interest, the railroad or its successor in 18 interest may sell or offer to sell the railroad land to any 19 purchaser and such purchaser shall not be bound by this section.
20 If the railroad land is sold to a purchaser which will use the 21 railroad land for railroad operating purposes or for interim trail 22 use as described in subdivision (1)(a) of this section, then the 23 purchaser shall be bound by all of the provisions of the 24 Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act.

25 Sec. 6. (1) The Department of Agriculture, in 26 consultation with the parties, may employ the services of a

- 27 certified general real estate appraiser when determination of fair
1 market value is a matter in controversy or relevant to the hearing
2 and determination of the matter in controversy.
3 (2) All costs incurred by the department hearing and 4 determining all matters in controversy pursuant to the Agricultural 5 Suppliers Lease Protection Act shall be paid equally by the 6 parties.
7 Sec. 7. (1) The Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection
8 Act shall not apply to any valid lease entered into prior to the 9 effective date of this act or any renewal or extension thereof on 10 the same terms and conditions, but the provisions of the act shall 11 apply to and govern any renewal or extension of such lease on any 12 different terms or conditions or any material modifications of any 13 such lease effected on or after the effective date of this act.
14 (2) Any party having a right of first refusal or right of 15 renewal under the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act shall 16 be barred from making any subsequent claim to possession or title 17 to the railroad land if it fails to bring an action asserting that 18 it has been denied its right of first refusal or right of renewal
19 in violation of the act within six months after the date of a lease
20 or after the expiration of a lease or sale by the railroad to a
21 party other than the agricultural tenant.
22 Sec. 8. The Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Cash
23 Fund is created. All funds collected by the Department of 24 Agriculture under the Agricultural Suppliers Lease Protection Act
25 shall be remitted to the State Treasurer for credit to the fund.
26 The fund shall be used by the department to aid in defraying the 27 expenses of administering the act. Any money in the fund available
1 for investment shall be invested by the state investment officer
2 pursuant to the Nebraska Capital Expansion Act and the Nebraska
3 State Funds Investment Act.
4 Sec. 9. Section 75-109, Revised Statutes Supplement,
5 2000, is amended to read:
6 75-109. (1) Except as provided in the Agricultural 7 Suppliers Lease Protection Act and sections 19-4603, 86-803, and 8 86-808, the commission shall regulate and exercise general control 9 as provided by law over all common and contract carriers engaged in 10 the transportation of freight or passengers for hire or furnishing 11 telecommunications services for hire in Nebraska intrastate
12 commerce.
13 (2) The commission is authorized to do all things
14 reasonably necessary and appropriate to implement the federal 15 Telecommunications Act of 1996, Public Law 104-104, including 47
16 U.S.C. 251 et seq., as such sections existed on the effective date
17 of this act, including section 252 of the act which establishes 18 specific procedures for negotiation and arbitration of 19 interconnection agreements between telecommunications companies.
20 Interconnection agreements approved by the commission pursuant to 21 section 252 of the act may contain such enforcement mechanisms and

22 procedures that the commission determines to be consistent with the 23 establishment of fair competition in Nebraska telecommunications
24 markets. In addition, the commission may administratively fine
25 pursuant to section 75-156 any person who violates any enforcement 26 mechanism or procedure established pursuant to this subsection.
27 The authority granted to the commission pursuant to this subsection
1 shall be broadly construed in a manner consistent with the federal 2 Telecommunications Act of 1996.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion #02004

DATE: January 31, 2002

SUBJECT: Student Fees And The Right To Free Instruction In The Public Schools

REQUESTED BY: Douglas D. Christensen
Commissioner of Education

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Steve Grasz, Deputy Attorney General

In connection with your responsibilities as Commissioner of Education, and at the request of the State Board of Education, you have presented a series of questions concerning the issue of student fees in light of the Constitutional provision regarding free instruction in the public schools.

More specifically, you have presented a series of 13 questions concerning the meaning of free instruction and various aspects of the Department's and/or school districts' authority with regard to charging various student fees.

The Nebraska Constitution provides, in relevant part, "The Legislature shall provide for the free instruction in the common schools of this State of all persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years." Neb. Const. art. VII, § 1 (emphasis added). Due to the perceived lack of any definition of what constitutes "free instruction" under the Nebraska Constitution we conducted a thorough review of the case law and Attorney General's Opinions from around the nation regarding similar free education provisions in other states. Then, to confirm the perceived absence of direction on the issue from our own courts, we reviewed every reported decision in which the Nebraska Supreme Court mentioned the "free instruction" requirement contained in the Nebraska Constitution.

To our surprise we found that the answers to your questions lie not in the considerable body of case law from foreign jurisdictions, but rather in the jurisprudence of our own Nebraska Supreme Court. Far from being silent on the issue, the Court has set forth an extensive body of law on this subject spanning an entire century. The current school fee "crisis," it seems, is not so much a matter of errant school districts as it is a matter of widespread misunderstanding of the Nebraska Constitution.

The key to the issue of student fees under the free instruction clause is the distinction between a self-executing Constitutional provision and a non-self-executing provision. The Nebraska Supreme Court has made it quite clear that the free instruction provision in Article VII, § 1 of the Nebraska Constitution is not self-executing. The following discussion will consider the implications of this fact on the issue of student fees. The Opinion will then proceed to address each of your specific questions.

Article VII, § 1 Is Not Self-Executing

Due to recent litigation, and the publicity and concern it has generated, it is now rather well understood by the public that the Nebraska Constitution contains a provision granting to every Nebraska child from age 5 to 21 years old the right to "free instruction in the common schools" of the State. It is widely assumed this provision, in and of itself, creates an enforceable cause of action or constitutional entitlement to completely free education in the public schools.

This assumption is mistaken. The right to "free instruction in the common schools" is not a fundamental Constitutional right. See Kolesnick v. Omaha Pub. Sch. Dist., 251 Neb. 575, 581, 558 N.W.2d 807 (1997). In fact, the free instruction provision is not even self-executing. Peterson v. Hancock, 155 Neb. 801, 810, 54 N.W.2d 85 (1952). See also Op. Att'y Gen. No. 97029 (May 21, 1997). This means the provision, in and of itself, imposes no duty on school districts nor does it bestow on children an enforceable Constitutional right, in the absence of action by the Legislature to implement the Constitutional provision. See State ex rel. Lamm v. Nebraska Bd. of Pardons, 260 Neb. 1000, 1006-1007, 620 N.W.2d 763 (2001) ("A constitutional provision is not self-executing . . . if the language of the constitutional provision is directed to the Legislature. . . ."). See also Patteson v. Johnson, 219 Neb. 852, 857, 367 N.W.2d 123, 127 (1985). Legislation is necessary to implement rights contained in a non-self-executing constitutional provision. Otherwise, "there are no remedies available for enforcement of such rights." Lamm, 260 Neb. at 1007. This has been the consistent view of the Nebraska Supreme Court with respect to the free instruction provision since 1897.

In State ex rel. Shineman v. Bd. of Educ., 152 Neb. 644, 42 N.W.2d 168 (1950), the Court examined the free instruction clause of the Nebraska Constitution and concluded as follows:

The Constitutional provision is clearly directed to the Legislature. We held in State ex rel. Walker v. Bd. of Commissioners, 141 Neb. 172, 3 N.W.2d 196, that a constitutional provision is not self-executing if the language of the Constitution is directed to the Legislature, or if it appears from the language used and the circumstances of its adoption that subsequent legislation was contemplated to carry it into effect. With reference to this provision we said in Affholder v. State, 51 Neb. 91, 70 N.W. 544, that the method and means to be adopted in order to furnish free instruction to the children of the state have been left by the Constitution to the Legislature. Clearly, legislation is necessary to carry into effect the Constitutional provision. It is not a self-executing provision. It follows that relators must find statutory authority to sustain this contention.

Id. at 647-648. (emphasis added).

The context of the Shineman case is particularly significant. In this case parents sued a school district to compel the district to establish a kindergarten for students who attained the age of five years, but not six years, on or before October 15. Such students were not old enough to be admitted to first grade. The parents' suit was based on the express Constitutional provision for free instruction of all persons between five and 21. Notwithstanding the explicit language of the Constitution, the Court found the parents' claim must fail in the absence of a statute implementing the right. The Court found the matter of creating a kindergarten program to be discretionary with the school district in accordance with state statutes governing classification of students and establishment of grades. Id.

The Shineman decision was consistent with Nebraska case law dating to 1897. In Affholder v. State, 51 Neb. 91, 70 N.W.544 (1897), the plaintiffs sued a local school board to require the board to furnish free textbooks to the district's school children in accordance with an 1891 statute. Id. at 92. The Court reviewed the Constitutional provision for free instruction and concluded as follows:

Section 6, Article 8 [now Article VII, section 1], of the Constitution of Nebraska provides: "The Legislature shall provide for the free instruction in the common schools of this state. . . ." What methods and what means should be adopted in order to furnish free instruction to the children of the State has been left by the Constitution to the Legislature. Prior to the passage of the Act under consideration instruction in all public schools was gratuitous, and by this Act the Legislature has seen fit to require the various school districts to purchase text-books necessary to be used in the schools. We do not think the term 'text-books' should be given a technical meaning, but that it is comprehensive enough to and does include globes, maps, charts, pens, ink, paper, etc., and all other apparatus and appliances which are proper to be used in the schools in instructing the youth. . . ."

Id. at 93 (emphasis added).

Thus, the Court clearly held that the method and means of providing free instruction is up to the Legislature. Furthermore, the Court noted that prior to enactment of the statute requiring school districts to furnish the textbooks and supplies, only "instruction" in all public schools was free. In other words, the Court distinguished between tuition free "instruction" and free textbooks, maps, globes, pens, paper, and other "necessary" supplies. This means that free textbooks and other necessary supplies are encompassed within the parameters of the constitutional right to "free instruction" only because the Legislature has determined that they should be. This concept is not unfamiliar to college students who pay for instruction (tuition) separately from books and supplies.

Another significant case is State ex rel. Baldwin v. Dorsey, 108 Neb. 134, 187 N.W. 879 (1922). In Baldwin the Court noted, "the Legislature jealously guards its supervision to the end that the Constitutional provision for free instruction in the public schools shall in all respects be fulfilled. Neb. Const. art. VII, § 6." Id. at 137. The Baldwin case involved the right of non-resident students to attend school without being charged additional tuition for optional courses. The Legislature had enacted a statute authorizing school districts that received non-resident students (receiving districts) to charge sending districts $1.50/week for each non-resident pupil accepted. Id. at 136. At issue was whether the receiving district could charge more than $1.50 where the school offered courses beyond those required by the State:

In the case before us the evidence . . . discloses that the high school course at the Hebron school included several subjects which were not embraced in nor required by the high school manual, and hence it was not required that such subjects be taught in the high school in order to qualify it to accept pupils and to receive the statutory tuition fees from the school districts from which they were sent. It follows that a high school district that receives non-resident pupils from another school district, and which adds subjects or course of study which are not required by the high school manual, may not for that reason require the sending school district to pay tuition fees for its high school privileges in excess of the tuition fee fixed by the Legislature. Neither the parent nor the guardian of a non-resident pupil, under the facts of the present case, can be required to pay a tuition fee to a receiving school district.

Id. at 137.

Thus, the Court concluded the Legislature, as the guardian of free instruction in the public schools, had decreed that no more than $1.50/week/pupil could be charged (to sending districts) for non-resident student tuition even where the receiving district offered subjects and courses of study that were not part of the required state course of study or manual. Furthermore, the parents or guardians of the non-resident child could not be charged a tuition fee for the extra subjects. This case once again stands for the proposition that the boundaries of what constitutes "free instruction" are left to the Legislature to decide and generally will not be disturbed by the courts. See also Farrell v. Sch. Dist. No. 54, 164 Neb. 853, 84 N.W.2d 126 (1957). In Farrell, the Court stated, "Article VII, section 6, of this State's Constitution provides: 'The legislature shall provide for the free instruction in the common schools of this State of all persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years.' This provision of the Constitution leaves all matters pertaining to schools and school districts . . . with the Legislature." Id. at 858.

Nebraska case law on this matter continues into more recent years. In 1988, the Court stated: "The Legislature is faced with the duty imposed on it by Neb. Const. art. VII, § 1, to furnish 'free instruction in the common schools of this State of all persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years.' Since 1899, the Legislature has attempted in various ways to satisfy that duty. . . ." Ewing v. Scottsbluff Cty. Bd. of Equal., 227 Neb. 798, 801, 420 N.W.2d 685 (1988).

Finally, in 1993, Justice White wrote as follows: "From an analysis of Article VII of our Constitution, certain conclusions are readily apparent. Among them: (1) the Constitution does not define what constitutes "instruction," leaving that to be defined by the Legislature . . . (3) in determining whether "free instruction" has been denied, the courts may review the action of the Legislature and decide whether the instruction provided [by the school district] compares with the constitutional command. . . ." Gould v. Orr, 244 Neb. 163, 170, 506 N.W.2d 349 (1993)(White, J. dissenting, in part). (emphasis added).

With this foundation, we will attempt to answer each of the 13 specific questions presented.

1, 3. Q: What is "free public instruction?" What is "free education?"

A: The definitions of "free public instruction" and "free education" depend, as a legal matter, upon their context. If used in a statute containing defined terms, for example, they would have the meaning ascribed by the statutory definition. Outside such a context, the words would have their ordinary and common meaning. However, this answer is of little assistance in addressing your concerns. Although not stated, we assume your question pertains to the use of these terms in the Administrative Code. As used in section 001-01 of 92 NAC 19 we believe the term "free public education" is synonymous with "free instruction in the common schools of this State" as used in Article VII, section 1 of the Nebraska Constitution. This conclusion is based on the context of section 001-01 and the apparent intent to use the terms interchangeably.

Furthermore, at least one Judge of the Nebraska Supreme Court has equated a "common school" with a "free public school." Judge Shanahan stated, "A common school is 'a free public school now usu[ally] including primary and secondary grades.'" State ex rel. Spire v. Beermann, 235 Neb. 384, 402, 455 N.W.2d 749 (1990) (Shanahan, J., dissenting) (quoting Webster's Third New International Dictionary, Unabridged 459 (1981)). This further supports the conclusion that "free public instruction" is synonymous in Nebraska law with "free instruction in the common schools." Likewise, we conclude the term "free education" in the Administrative Code, unless otherwise defined, is synonymous with "free instruction" in the Constitution.

2. Q: What is "free instruction," as referenced in 92 NAC 19?

A: Section 003 of 92 NAC 19 provides that "A public school district shall, upon request, enroll and provide free instruction to any person between the ages of 5 and 21 who has not completed high school. . . ." Based on a reading of Section 003 in the context of Chapter 19 as a whole, and especially in light of Section 001.01, we conclude that "free instruction" in Section 003 has the same meaning as "free instruction in the common schools" as used in Neb. Const. art. VII, § 1.

3. Q: What is "free education?"

A: See answer 1, above.

4. Q: What is a "free public education," as referenced in 92 NAC 19?

A: For the reasons discussed above, we conclude "free public education" as referenced in 92 NAC 19 has the same meaning as "free instruction in the common schools" as used in Neb. Const. art. VII, § 1. See Spire v. Beermann, 235 Neb. at 402 (Shanahan, J., dissenting)(equating "common school" with a "free public school").

5. Q: What is the authority of school districts to charge a student fee?

A: The powers and duties of a school district are narrow and specifically tailored by statute. The Nebraska Supreme Court has stated, "school boards are creatures of statute, and their powers are limited. Any action taken by a school board must be through either express or an implied power conferred by legislative grant." Busch ex rel. Knave v. Omaha Pub. Sch. Dist., 261 Neb. 484, 488, 623 N.W.2d 672 (2001) (emphasis added). As the Supreme Court has stated, "A school district is a creation of the Legislature. Its purpose is to fulfill the constitutional duty placed upon the Legislature. . . ." Campbell v. Area Vocational Technical Sch. No. 2, 183 Neb. 318, 323, 159 N.W.2d 817 (1968) (quoting 78 C.J.S., Schools and School Districts, § 24, p.656). Accord Banks v. Bd. of Educ. of Chase County, 202 Neb. 717, 719-720, 277 N.W.2d 76 (1979) (quoting Campbell) (emphasis added).

School districts are expressly authorized to charge fees for reproducing student files, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-2,104(2); for protective eye wear (for labs and vocational courses), Neb. Rev. Stat. 79-715(1)(b) and for before-and-after school programs, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-1104. Conversely, they are prohibited from charging fees for textbooks, equipment, and supplies necessary for the schools of the district, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-734, as well as for transportation, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-611.

Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-215(1) provides that resident students "shall be admitted to any such school district upon request without charge." Similarly, section 79-215(10) provides, "No tuition shall be charged for students who may be by law allowed to attend the school without charge." Thus, it is clear no tuition "fees" may be charged by school districts except as specifically authorized by statute.

It could be argued that since the Legislature has specifically authorized fees for copying student files and for protective eye wear, etc., no other fees are permitted, on the theory that what is not specifically included is thereby excluded. However, it can also be argued that Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 79-734 and 79-611 support an opposite conclusion. Since the Legislature saw the need to expressly prohibit fees for transportation, textbooks, and "necessary" equipment and supplies, it may be inferred that fees for other items are not prohibited. We are of the opinion that the latter view is more persuasive. This conclusion is supported by Affholder v. State, 51 Neb. 91 (1897), as well as Att'y Gen. v. East Jackson Pub. Sch. 372 N.W.2d 638 (Mich. App. 1985).

Furthermore, the Legislature arguably has provided school districts broad enough authority in Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-526 to charge student fees in certain circumstances. This statute provides as follows:

The school board . . . has responsibility for the general care and upkeep of the schools, shall provide the necessary supplies and equipment, and except as otherwise provided, has the power to cause pupils to be taught in such branches and classified in such grades or departments as may seem best adopted to a course of study which the board shall establish with the consent and advice of the State Department of Education. . . . The board shall make rules and regulations as it deems necessary for the government and health of the pupils and devise any means as may seem best to secure the regular attendance and progress of children at school.

Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-526. This conclusion is supported by Dykeman v. Bd. of Ed. of Sch. Dist. of Coleridge, Cedar County, 210 Neb. 596, 599 316 N.W.2d 69 (1982) ("The board of education is given the general authority to manage and direct the schools within the district. This includes the power to conduct non-teaching and extra curricular duties as a part of the educational program."). See also Att'y Gen. v. East Jackson Pub. Sch., 372 N.W.2d 638 (Mich. App. 1985). In addition, this statute arguably limits the duty of school districts with regard to expenses. As quoted above, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-526 requires only that school boards "shall provide the necessary supplies and equipment." (emphasis added). Likewise, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-734 provides, "School boards . . . shall purchase all textbooks, equipment, and supplies necessary for the schools of such district. . . ." (emphasis added). See also Affholder, 51 Neb. at 93 ("by this Act the Legislature has seen fit to require the various school districts to purchase textbooks necessary to be used in the schools") (emphasis added). By implication, these Nebraska statutes require school districts to pay only for expenses which are "necessary" rather than optional.

Admittedly, the statutes are less than clear and our conclusion is not without some doubt. However, we believe this conclusion is warranted and further supported by the longstanding practice of the local school districts and apparent acquiescence by the Department of Education. The Nebraska Supreme Court has held that "[l]ong-continued practical construction of a statute by the officers charged by law with its enforcement is entitled to considerable weight in interpreting that law." Belitz v. City of Omaha, 172 Neb. 36, 45, 108 N.W.2d 421 (1961). Thus, a strong argument can be made that school districts do have authority to charge student fees for optional or non-necessary items. Nonetheless, clear direction from the Legislature in this regard would provide certainty and clarity to this question. See Ewing, 227 Neb. at 810 (discussing the authority of the Legislature to delegate legislative powers to the State Department of Education to supervise and administer the state school system).

6. Q: For purposes of drafting future Department rule clarifications, does "free instruction," as referenced in the Nebraska Constitution, and the current 92 NAC 19, encompass optional non-credit extracurricular programs such as football, marching band, debate, and vocational student groups such as FFA?

A: Not necessarily. Under Nebraska law, free instruction includes what the Legislature says it includes (through legislation), or what the Department says it means under authority delegated from the Legislature. If the programs in question are not required by the Legislature through state law or regulation, they are not encompassed within the constitutional right to free instruction. As your office would be in a better position to ascertain the current scope of required instruction than this office, we decline to list specific programs.

6A: Q: Does the Department currently have any authority to promulgate a rule to provide school districts with the ability to charge fees or costs for such programs?

A: See response to question 7.

6B: Q: If the Department does not currently have that rule-making authority, may the Legislature give the Department that authority?

A: Yes. As discussed above, the constitutional provision for free instruction is not self-executing, and the Legislature may determine the scope of what free instruction includes.

6C: Q: Are such programs part of a "free public education?"

A: See response to questions 4 and 6.

6D: Q: Could the Department promulgate a rule to allow a district to require that students provide supplies and equipment, such as uniforms or instruments, as a condition for participation in such programs, in light of Section 79-734 R.R.S.?

A: Yes, but only for those supplies and equipment that are not "necessary" pursuant to Nebraska law. See response to question 5.

6E: Q: If a district may be given authority to charge fees for such programs, must provisions be made for fee waivers for students who are unable to pay the fees, so they are not excluded from participation on financial status?

A: No, so far as the state and federal constitutions are concerned, but the Legislature may wish to consider doing so as a matter of public policy. "Optional" programs, as discussed above, are not encompassed within the right to free instruction unless specified by the Legislature. Also, there is no constitutional right to participate in sports or other optional activities. See Farver v. Bd. of Educ. Of Carroll County, 40 F.Supp.2d 323, 324 (D. Md. 1999) ("The right to participate in extra curricular activities, as distinguished from the right to attend school, is not considered to be a protected interest under the Fourteenth Amendment.").

Your question does raise the issue of equal protection. However, financial status is not a suspect classification. Therefore, it seems likely a district could articulate a rational basis for any perceived disparate treatment (ie. budget constraints and limited funding). We have not undertaken an analysis of federal regulations, if any, concerning financial status discrimination, but would do so upon request.

Note: There may be distinctions between whether an optional course is encompassed within the right to free instruction for purposes of tuition and for purposes of fees for materials used in the course. See Affholder, 51 Neb. at 93. The Legislature may prohibit tuition for non-required instruction while permitting fees for materials. Id.

7. Q: Could the Department promulgate a rule change that states a school district, upon enrollment, "shall provide the programs and services of the school district to a student without charge, except as otherwise specified by law?"

A: Yes, provided such rule is within the existing authority of the Department as delegated by the Legislature. Such a rule is clearly within the authority of the Legislature under Neb. Const. art. VII, § 1. We will explore the existing authority of the Department in this regard further if requested to do so.

8. Q: In light of Section 79-734 R.R.S. and the current 92 NAC 19 may a school district charge a "lab" or "materials" fee for supplies or equipment as a requirement for a student to take a class?

A: Not if the supplies or equipment are "necessary" supplies or equipment. For example, if the lab fee was for materials essential to instruction in a required course, it would be impermissible.

Conclusion

The Nebraska Constitution delegates to the Legislature the task of determining what "free instruction" will be available to Nebraska school children. Therefore, the answers to the various questions about what supplies or services a school district must provide at the district's expense, and what fees a district may charge must be found in the Nebraska statutes.

Generally speaking, it is our opinion that under current law a school district must provide free instruction for all courses which are required by state law or regulation and must provide all things necessary for that instruction, such as lab equipment, textbooks and so forth, without charge or fee to the student. For other activities which are not required by law or regulation, such as athletics, cheerleading, and chess club, the school district may require students to provide their own equipment and may charge fees, but the district is not required to do so. The Legislature, if it chooses to do so, may amend the law to either expand or limit the authority of school districts to charge fees.

Sincerely,
DON STENBERG

 16 the greatest public benefits; and 17 (i) The grants shall not pay for land or easements 18 acquired without the full and express consent of the landowner.
 19 (3) Until the first five-year priorities become effective 20 on July 1, 1995, the board shall observe the following priorities

 25 (b) Surface water quality, including actions to preserve 26 lakes and streams from degradation;
 27 (c) Ground water quality, including fostering best 1 management practices as defined in section 46-656.07, actions to 7 means of economic survival and vitality to complement and enhance 8 agricultural production as the economic base of rural Nebraska.

9 The Legislature further finds that within the four campuses of the 11 applied within partnerships with other agencies and programs to 12 address critical, unique, and urgent economic development needs of 13 rural communities, businesses, organizations, and farming and other 14 individual enterprises. Because of its land grant status, the 13 extension capabilities to identify and overcome barriers to the 14 realization of specific rural economic opportunities and goals;

15 (3) Enhance university-wide coordination of activities 16 relating to rural issues and to enhance communication regarding 17 those campus-based activities that continue independently; and 18 (4) Develop and strengthen partnerships with other 19 agencies, organizations, and individuals working in the area of 20 rural development.

21 Sec. 4. The Rural Initiative Advisory Board is created.

AM2565

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and insert the following
- 2 new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. (1) The governing body of any city of the
- 4 first class or city of the second class may, by majority vote of
- 5 its members, request that the county board formally cede and
- 6 transfer to the city extraterritorial jurisdiction over land
- 7 outside the area extending two miles from the corporate boundaries
- 8 of a city of the first class and one mile from the corporate
- 9 boundaries of a city of the second class. In making its request,
- 10 the city shall describe the territory over which jurisdiction is
- 11 being sought by metes and bounds or by reference to an official
- 12 map.
- 13 (2) The county board may, by majority vote of its
- 14 members, grant the request with regard to some or all of the
- 15 requested territory if:
- 16 (a) The county has formally adopted a comprehensive

17 development plan and zoning resolution pursuant to section 23-114 18 not less than two years immediately preceding the date of the 19 city's request;

20 (b) The city, on the date of the request, is exercising 21 extraterritorial jurisdiction over territory within the boundaries 22 of the county;

23 (c) The requested territory is within the projected 24 growth pattern of the city and would be within the city's 1 extraterritorial jurisdiction by reason of annexation within a 2 reasonable period of years;

3 (d) Not more than a total of twenty-five percent of the 4 territory of the county located outside the corporate boundaries of 5 any city within the county shall be ceded to the jurisdiction of 6 one city within ten years after the date upon which the initial 7 request for the cession of territory to the city was approved by 8 the governing body of the city; and 9 (e) No portion of the territory ceded to the city's 10 jurisdiction by the county shall lie within an area extending 11 one-half mile from the extraterritorial jurisdiction of any other 12 city of the first or second class or village on the date the 13 request is approved by the governing body of the city.

14 (3) If the county board approves the cession and transfer 15 of extraterritorial jurisdiction to a city pursuant to this 16 section, such transfer shall take effect on the effective date of 17 the ordinance as provided for in subsection (1) of section 16-902 18 in the case of a city of the first class or as provided for in 19 subsection (1) of section 17-1002 in the case of a city of the 20 second class. Upon the effective date of such transfer, the 2 future zoning regulations, property use regulations, building 3 ordinances, electrical ordinances, plumbing ordinances, and 4 ordinances authorized by section 16-240 to the unincorporated area 5 two miles beyond and adjacent to its corporate boundaries with the 6 same force and effect as if such outlying area were within the 7 corporate limits of such city, except that no such ordinance shall 8 be extended or applied so as to prohibit, prevent, or interfere 9 with the conduct of existing farming, livestock operations, 10 businesses, or industry. For purposes of sections 70-1001 to 11 70-1020, the zoning area of a city of the first class shall be one 12 mile beyond and adjacent to the corporate area. The fact that such 13 unincorporated area is located in a different county or counties 14 than some or all portions of the municipality shall not be 15 construed as affecting the powers of the city to apply such 16 ordinances.

17 Sec. 3. Section 16-902, Reissue Revised Statutes of 18 Nebraska, is amended to read:

5 such city or its agent designated pursuant to section 19-916. The 6 fact that such real property is located in a different county or 7 counties than some or all portions of the city shall not be 8 construed as affecting the necessity of obtaining the approval of 9 the city council of such city or its designated agent.

11 development plan which meets the requirements of section 23-114.02 12 and (b) are enforcing subdivision regulations, the county planning 13 commission shall be provided with all available materials on any 14 proposed subdivision plat, contemplating public streets or 15 improvements, which is filed with a municipality in that county, 16 when such proposed plat lies partially or totally within the 17 extraterritorial subdivision jurisdiction being exercised by that 18 municipality in such county. The commission shall be given four 19 weeks to officially comment on the appropriateness of the design 20 and improvements proposed in the plat. The review period for the 9 70-1001 to 70-1020, the zoning area of a city of the second class

10 or village shall be one-half mile from the corporate limits of such 11 municipalities. The fact that the zoning area or part thereof is 12 located in a different county or counties than some or all portions

4 owners of lots fronting thereon or adjacent thereto without first 5 having obtained the approval of the city council or board of 6 trustees of such municipality or its agent designated pursuant to 7 section 19-916. The fact that such real property is located in a 11 such municipality or its designated agent.

12 (3) No plat of such real property shall be recorded or 13 have any force or effect unless approved by the city council or 14 board of trustees of such municipality or its designated agent.

16 development plan which meets the requirements of section 23-114.02
17 and are enforcing subdivision regulations, the county planning 18 commission shall be provided with all available materials on any 19 proposed subdivision plat, contemplating public streets or 20 improvements, which is filed with a municipality in that county, 21 when such proposed plat lies partially or totally within the

7 duties set forth in sections 23-114 to 23-114.05, 23-168.01 to 13 subject to the authority of the county board pursuant to this 14 section.

15 (2) The zoning resolution may regulate and restrict: (a) 16 The location, height, bulk, number of stories, and size of 10 Department of Housing and Urban Development. The county board may 11 require that a manufactured home be located and installed according 5 unless such standards are uniformly applied to all single-family 6 dwellings in the zoning district.

 7 (c) Nothing in this subsection shall be deemed to 8 supersede any valid restrictive covenants of record.
 9 (4) For purposes of this section, manufactured home shall 10 mean (a) a factory-built structure which is to be used as a place 11 for human habitation, which is not constructed or equipped with a 12 permanent hitch or other device allowing it to be moved other than 13 to a permanent site, which does not have permanently attached to 14 its body or frame any wheels or axles, and which bears a label 15 certifying that it was built in compliance with National 16 Manufactured Home Construction and Safety Standards, 24 C.F.R. 3280 17 et seq., promulgated by the United States Department of Housing and 18 Urban Development, or (b) a modular housing unit as defined in 19 section 71-1557 bearing a seal in accordance with the Nebraska 20 Uniform Standards for Modular Housing Units Act.
 21 (5) Special districts or zones may be established in 22 those areas subject to seasonal or periodic flooding, and such 25 (6) The powers conferred by this section shall not be 26 exercised within the limits of any incorporated city or village nor

 3 unincorporated area by the adoption or amendment of a zoning 4 ordinance, the ordinance or amendment shall supersede any 5 resolution or regulation of the county.

5 Sec. 10. (1) A school district shall evaluate proposals 6 for a construction management at risk contract in accordance with 7 this section.

8 (2) The school district shall evaluate and rank each

12 (3) The school district shall attempt to negotiate a 13 construction management at risk contract with the highest ranked 14 construction manager and may enter into a construction management 15 at risk contract after negotiations. If the school district is 16 unable to negotiate a satisfactory contract with the highest ranked 17 construction manager, the school district may terminate 18 negotiations with that construction manager. The school district 19 may then undertake negotiations with the second highest ranked 20 construction manager and may enter into a construction management 21 at risk contract after negotiations. If the school district is 22 unable to negotiate a satisfactory contract with the second highest 23 ranked construction manager, the school district may undertake 24 negotiations with the third highest ranked construction manager, if 25 any, and may enter into a construction management at risk contract 26 after negotiations.

27 (4) The school district shall file a copy of all

23 construction manager under the Nebraska Schools Construction 24 Alternatives Act, and (e) a resident of the school district other

3 not be employed by the school district or the performance-criteria 4 developer.

5 (2) The selection committee and the school district shall

27 Sec. 12. A design-build contract and a construction

1 management at risk contract may be conditioned upon later 2 refinements in scope and price and may permit the school district 3 in agreement with the design-builder or construction manager to 4 make changes in the project without invalidating the contract.
5 Later refinements under this section shall not exceed the scope of 6 the project statement contained in the request for proposals 7 pursuant to section 7 or 9 of this act.

8 Sec. 13. Nothing in the Nebraska Schools Construction 9 Alternatives Act shall limit or reduce statutory or regulatory 19 If any county, city, or village is conducting a lottery

24 lotteries as the counties, cities, and villages which were 25 abolished, including any rights or obligations under lottery
26 contracts of such counties, cities, and villages. Such lottery

1 Nebraska County and City Lottery Act, except that such lottery 2 shall not be expanded to any new location in any area of the 3 municipal county where such lottery was not previously authorized 4 before the consolidation unless such expansion has been approved by 5 a majority of the registered voters of such municipal county voting 6 at a regular election or a special election called by the governing 7 board of the municipal county for such purpose.".

AMENDMENTS - Print in Journal

Senator Bruning filed the following amendment to LB 1067:
AM2623

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and insert the following
- 2 new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. This act may be known and cited as the Human
- 4 Cloning Prohibition Act.
- 5 Sec. 2. The Legislature finds that:
- 6 (1) At least one company has announced that it has
- 7 successfully cloned a human being at the early embryonic stage of
- 8 life, and others have announced that they will attempt to clone a
- 9 human being using the technique known as somatic cell nuclear
- 10 transfer;
- 11 (2) Efforts to create human beings by cloning mark a new
- 12 and decisive step toward turning human reproduction into a
- 13 manufacturing process in which human beings are made in
- 14 laboratories to preordained specifications and, potentially, in
- 15 multiple copies;
- 16 (3) Creating cloned live-born human children, so-called
- 17 reproductive cloning, begins by creating cloned human beings at the
- 18 embryonic stage of life, a process which some also propose as a way
- 19 of creating human embryos for destructive research as sources of
- 20 stem cells and tissues for possible treatment of other humans,
- 21 so-called therapeutic cloning;
- 22 (4) Many scientists agree that attempts at reproductive
- 23 cloning pose a massive risk of either producing children who are
- 24 stillborn, unhealthy, or severely disabled, and that attempting
- 1 therapeutic cloning always results in the destruction of human
- 2 beings at the embryonic stage of life when their stem cells are
- 3 harvested;
- 4 (5) Creating new human life solely to be exploited,
- 5 reproductive cloning, or destroyed, therapeutic cloning, in these
- 6 ways has been condemned on moral grounds by many as displaying a
- 7 profound disrespect for life;
- 8 (6) The distinction between therapeutic cloning and
- 9 reproductive cloning is a false distinction scientifically because
- 10 both begin with the creation of a human being at the embryonic
- 11 stage of life, one destined for implantation in a womb, one

12 destined for destructive farming of its stem cells; regardless of 13 their ultimate destiny, all human embryos are simultaneously human 14 beings; and

15 (7) It will be nearly impossible to ban only attempts at 16 reproductive cloning if therapeutic cloning is allowed because:

17 (a) Cloning would take place within the privacy of a 18 doctor-patient relationship;

19 (b) The transfer of embryos to begin a pregnancy is a 20 simple procedure; and

21 (c) Any government effort to prevent the transfer of an 22 existing cloned embryo, or to prevent birth once transfer has 23 occurred, would raise substantial moral, legal, and practical 24 issues.

25 Based on these findings, it is the purpose of the Human 26 Cloning Prohibition Act to prohibit the use of cloning technology 27 to initiate the development of new human beings at the embryonic 1 stage of life for any purpose, therapeutic or reproductive.

2 Sec. 3. For purposes of the Human Cloning Prohibition
3 Act:

4 (1) Embryo means an organism of the species homo sapiens
5 from the single cell stage to eight weeks development;

6 (2) Fetus means an organism of the species homo sapiens 7 from eight weeks development until complete expulsion or extraction 8 from a woman's body or removal from an artificial womb or other 9 similar environment designed to nurture the development of such 10 organism;

11 (3) Human cloning means human asexual reproduction, 12 accomplished by introducing the genetic material of a human somatic 13 cell into an oocyte whose nucleus has been removed or inactivated, 14 to produce a living organism with a human or predominately human 15 genetic constitution;

16 (4) Human somatic cell means a cell having a complete set 17 of chromosomes obtained from a living or deceased human body at any 18 stage of development; and 19 (5) Oocyte means the human female germ cell, the egg.

20 Sec. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person or entity, 21 public or private, to intentionally or knowingly:

22 (1) Perform or attempt to perform human cloning;

23 (2) Participate in an attempt to perform human cloning;

24 (3) Transfer or receive the product of human cloning for 25 any purpose; or

26 (4) Transfer or receive, in whole or in part, any oocyte, 27 embryo, fetus, or human somatic cell for the purpose of human 1 cloning.

2 Sec. 5. Nothing in the Human Cloning Prohibition Act
3 shall restrict areas of scientific research not specifically 4 prohibited by the act, including in vitro fertilization, the 5 administration of fertility-enhancing drugs, research in the use of 6 nuclear transfer or other cloning techniques to produce molecules,

7 DNA, tissues, organs, plants, or animals other than humans, or 8 cells other than human embryos.

9 Sec. 6. (1) Any person or entity that violates 10 subdivision (1) or (2) of section 4 of this act shall be guilty of 11 a Class IV felony. Any person or entity that violates subdivision 12 (3) or (4) of section 4 of this act shall be guilty of a Class I 13 misdemeanor.

14 (2) Any person or entity that violates any provision of 15 the Human Cloning Prohibition Act and derives a pecuniary gain from 16 such violation shall be fined twice the amount of gross gain.

17 (3) Any violation of the act shall constitute 18 unprofessional conduct pursuant to the Uniform Licensing Law and 19 shall result in permanent revocation of a violator's license to 20 practice medicine and surgery.

21 (4) Any violation of the act may be the basis for (a) 22 denying an application for, (b) denying an application for the 23 renewal of, or (c) revoking any license, permit, certificate, or 24 other form of permission required to practice or engage in a trade, 25 occupation, or profession.

26 Sec. 7. If any section in this act or any part of any 27 section is declared invalid or unconstitutional, the declaration 1 shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the remaining
2 portions."

 20 the corporate boundaries of the district, and for any public 21 purpose specifically authorized in this section.

22 (5) Each sanitary and improvement district shall have the 17 remain a part of the public records in the office of the Auditor of 18 Public Accounts. The expense of such audits shall be paid out of 19 the funds of the district. The Auditor of Public Accounts shall be 27 refuses to cause such annual audit to be made of all of its 1 functions, activities, and transactions for the fiscal year within 2 a period of six months following the close of such fiscal year, 3 unless such audit has been waived, the Auditor of Public Accounts 4 shall, after due notice and a hearing to show cause by such 5 district, appoint a certified public accountant or public 6 accountant to conduct the annual audit of the district and the fee 7 for such audit shall become a lien against the district.

8 (7) Whenever the sanitary sewer system or any part

12 purpose, may collect such city's applicable rental or use charge 13 from the users in the sanitary and improvement district and from 14 the owners of the property served within the sanitary and 15 improvement district. The charges of such city shall be charged to 16 each property served by the city sewerage system, shall be a lien 17 upon the property served, and may be collected from the owner or 18 the person, firm, or corporation using the service. If the city's 19 applicable rental or service charge is not paid when due, such sum 20 may be recovered by the municipality in a civil action or it may be 21 assessed against the premises served in the same manner as special 22 taxes or assessments are assessed by such city and collected and 23 returned in the same manner as other municipal special taxes or 24 assessments are enforced and collected. When any such tax or 25 assessment is levied, it shall be the duty of the city clerk to 26 deliver a certified copy of the ordinance to the county treasurer 27 of the county in which the premises assessed are located and such 1 county treasurer shall collect the same as provided by law and 14 on warrants and bonds of the district for such number of years as 15 the board may establish at the time of making such agreement and 16 shall also have power to agree to enforce, by foreclosure or 17 otherwise as permitted by applicable laws, the collection of 18 special assessments levied by the district. Such agreements may 19 contain provisions granting to creditors and others the right to 20 enforce and carry out the agreements on behalf of the district and 21 its creditors.

22 (8) The board of trustees or administrator shall have 23 power to sell and convey real and personal property of the district 24 on such terms as it or he or she shall determine, except that real 25 estate shall be sold to the highest bidder at public auction after 26 notice of the time and place of the sale has been published for 27 three consecutive weeks prior to the sale in a newspaper of general
 1 circulation in the county. The board of trustees or administrator 2 may reject such bids and negotiate a sale at a price higher than 3 the highest bid at the public auction at such terms as may be 4 agreed.

5 Sec. 2. Section 31-741, Reissue Revised Statutes of

- 4 77-3443. (1) All political subdivisions, other than (a)
- 5 school districts, community colleges, natural resources districts,
- 6 educational service units, cities, villages, counties, municipal
- 7 counties, and sanitary and improvement districts and (b) political 20 approved according to law and secured by a levy on property, and 21 for payments by a public airport to retire interest-free loans from 22 the Department of Aeronautics in lieu of bonded indebtedness at a 23 lower cost to the public airport. The county board or council 24 shall review and approve or disapprove the levy request of all

1 political subdivisions subject to this subsection. The county board 2 or council may approve all or a portion of the levy request and may 3 approve a levy request that would allow the requesting political 4 subdivision to levy a tax at a levy greater than that permitted by 5 law. The county board of a county or the council of a municipal 6 county which contains a transit authority created pursuant to 7 section 14-1803 shall allocate no less than three cents per one 8 hundred dollars of taxable property within the city or municipal 9 county subject to the levy to the transit authority if requested by 10 such authority. For any political subdivision subject to this 11 subsection that receives taxes from more than one county or 12 municipal county, the levy shall be allocated only by the county or 13 municipal county in which the greatest portion of the valuation is 14 located. The county board of equalization shall certify all levies 15 by October 15 to insure that the taxes levied by political 16 subdivisions subject to this subsection do not exceed the allowable 17 limit for any parcel or item of taxable property. The levy 18 allocated by the county or municipal county may be exceeded as 19 provided in section 77-3444.

20 (2) All city airport authorities established under the 21 Cities Airport Authorities Act, community redevelopment authorities 22 established under the Community Development Law, transit 23 authorities established under the Transit Authority Law, and 24 offstreet parking districts established under the Offstreet Parking
25 District Act may be allocated property taxes as authorized by law 26 which are authorized by the city, village, or municipal county and 27 are counted in the city or village levy limit or municipal county 1 levy limit provided by section 77-3442, except that such limitation 2 shall not apply to property tax levies for preexisting
3 lease-purchase contracts approved prior to July 1, 1998, for bonded 4 indebtedness approved according to law and secured by a levy on 5 property, and for payments by a public airport to retire 6 interest-free loans from the Department of Aeronautics in lieu of 7 bonded indebtedness at a lower cost to the public airport. For 8 offstreet parking districts established under the Offstreet Parking 9 District Act, the tax shall be counted in the allocation by the 10 city proportionately, by dividing the total taxable valuation of 11 the taxable property within the district by the total taxable 12 valuation of the taxable property within the city multiplied by the 13 levy of the district. The city council of a city which has created 14 a transit authority pursuant to section 14-1803 or the council of a 15 municipal county which contains a transit authority shall allocate

 20 political subdivisions subject to this subsection. The city 21 council, village board, or council may approve all or a portion of 23 levy greater than that permitted by law. The levy allocated by the 24 municipality or municipal county may be exceeded as provided in 25 section 77-3444.

26 (3) On or before August 1, all political subdivisions 27 subject to county, municipal, or municipal county levy authority 1 under this section shall submit a preliminary request for levy 2 allocation to the county board, city council, village board, or 3 council that is responsible for levying such taxes. The 4 preliminary request of the political subdivision shall be in the 5 form of a resolution adopted by a majority vote of members present 6 of the political subdivision's governing body. The failure of a 7 political subdivision to make a preliminary request shall preclude 8 such political subdivision from using procedures set forth in 9 section 77-3444 to exceed the final levy allocation as determined 10 in subsection (4) of this section.

11 (4) Each county board, city council, village board, or 12 council shall (a) adopt a resolution by a majority vote of members 13 present which determines a final allocation of levy authority to 14 its political subdivisions and (b) forward a copy of such 15 resolution to the chairperson of the governing body of each of its 16 political subdivisions. No final levy allocation shall be changed 17 after September 1 except by agreement between both the county 18 board, city council, village board, or council which determined the 19 amount of the final levy allocation and the governing body of the 20 political subdivision whose final levy allocation is at issue".

- 7 following crops: Continuous cropland wheat; summer fallow wheat;
- 8 corn for grain; dry beans; sorghum for grain; sugar beets; soybeans
- 9 for beans; oats; and alfalfa.
- 10 (3) The Property Tax Administrator under the advisement
- 11 of the Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee shall determine the
- 12 sources to use, which may include the Department of Agricultural
- 13 Economics of the University of Nebraska, to do the following:
- 14 (a) Perform surveys if information is not available to
- 15 determine the typical leasing arrangements, the typical rent, and
- 16 the typical expenses for each land subclass and each county;
- 17 (b) Compile the data for the average cropping patterns,
- 18 crop yields, and crop prices by county from the sources as
- 19 designated by the Property Tax Administrator;
- 20 (c) Compute the three-year average typical landlord share
- 21 as provided for under subsection (4) of this section;
- 22 (d) Compute the average weighted valuation by land
- 23 subclass for each county, adjusted by eighty percent;

- 24 (e) When the county assessor has predetermined that cash
25 rent is the prevalent leasing arrangement, attribute an average 26 cash rental value to each land capability group in a county and 27 verify that the total rental value, when summing across all land 1 capability groups in a land subclass, equals the total value for 2 the land subclass as calculated by multiplying the weighted cash
3 rental value by total acres in that land subclass;
4 (f) Distribute the adjusted weighted average across the 5 land capability groups for each land subclass and verify that the 6 total valuation for the county remains unchanged after the 7 distribution; and 8 (g) Provide a report of valuations by county to the 9 Property Tax Administrator.
- 10 (4) When the county assessor determines crop share
11 leasing is the prevalent leasing arrangement for dry or irrigated 12 cropland in a county, the typical net landlord income shall be 13 determined as follows:
14 (a) Gross receipts by land capability group shall be 15 determined by multiplying the most recent three-year average crop 16 prices by the most recent three-year average crop yield weighting 17 the result by the most recent three-year average cropping pattern; 18 (b) Landlord income shall be computed by multiplying the 19 three-year average gross receipts by landlord share; and 20 (c) Net landlord income shall be computed by subtracting
21 from landlord income expenses normally incurred by a landlord.
22 (5) The net earning or productive capacity for grassland 23 shall be computed as follows: (a) By multiplying the 24 capacity in terms of animal unit months by the typical rental value 25 per animal unit month; or (b) by forage production, less landlord 26 expenses paid by the landlord. Carrying capacity and forage 27 production, by land subclass, shall be based on productivity
1 estimates by each soil type, published by the United States 2 Department of Agriculture Natural Resources Conservation Service or 3 other state or federal agencies and as selected and applied by the 4 Property Tax Administrator after consultation with and advisement
5 from the Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee. Rental value 6 per animal unit month shall be based on the most recent three-year 7 average as published by local, state, federal, or other agencies or 8 developed from surveys performed by or for the Department of 9 Property Assessment and Taxation. Landlord expenses shall be 10 computed based on the typical leasing arrangements as determined 11 from surveys conducted or authorized by the Department of Property 12 Assessment and Taxation or as published by other state or federal 13 agencies and as selected and applied by the Property Tax 14 Administrator after consultation with and advisement from the 15 Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee.
16 For counties or land subclasses for which 17 animal-unit-month data is not available, the income stream shall be 18 computed by using the average of the most recent three-year

19 prevailing cash rental rates per acre less the typical landlord
 20 expenses. The annual prevailing cash rental rates per acre shall 21 be based on data developed by the Department of Agricultural 22 Economics of the University of Nebraska or as published by other 23 state or federal agencies and as selected and applied by the 24 Property Tax Administrator after consultation with and advisement
 25 from the Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee.

26 (6) The land portion of farm sites shall be assessed at 27 the same value as the average of all the land capability groups in 1 the parcel.

2 (7) Wasteland shall be assessed at ten percent of the 3 lowest assessed land capability group in the county.

4 (8) When making the computations prescribed in this
 5 section, the same three-year period shall be used.

6 Sec. 12. The agricultural and horticultural use value
 7 for each land capability group shall be calculated by dividing the 8 net landlord income determined under section 11 of this act by the 9 capitalization rate set in section 14 of this act. The value for a 10 parcel of land shall be computed by summing the values and acres of 11 land in each land capability group for the parcel. The 12 agricultural and horticultural use value placed on such land by the 13 county assessor shall be subject to equalization by the county
 14 board of equalization and the Tax Equalization and Review
 15 Commission."

 24 normally received by the landlord from the productivity of the land 25 based on the most predominant crops and computed using the most 26 frequently occurring arrangement in the county. Crop-share or 27 cash-rent method shall be used as the basis for determining income.

1 Under a crop-share arrangement, landlord share means the landlord
 2 return under crop-share leases expressed as a percentage of gross
 3 receipts attributable to the land. Landlord return means gross
 4 receipts less typical input costs incurred by a landlord under a
 5 crop-share lease. Under a cash-rent arrangement, landlord share is

 4 most nearly reflects the prevalent leasing arrangement by land
 5 subclass in the county. The method determined by the county
 6 assessor shall be reported to the Property Tax Administrator by 7 January 1, 2003, and shall not be changed without a showing that 8 the change in method most nearly reflects the use in the land

15 applications. If the board uses a subcommittee, the subcommittee

16 shall (a) use the rating system established by the board under 17 subsection (2) of this section, (b) assign a numeric value to each

18 rating criterion, combine these values into a total score for each

19 application, and rank the applications by the total scores, (c)

20 recommend an amount of funding for each application, which amount

21 may be more or less than the requested amount, and (d) submit the 22 ranked list and recommended funding to the board for its approval

23 or disapproval.

24 (4) A motion to deviate from the subcommittee's

25 recommendations must specify the reason for doing so and be adopted

26 with an affirmative vote of not fewer than eight members of the 27 board.

1 (5) The board may commit funds to multiyear projects,

2 subject to available funds and appropriations. No commitment shall 12 effects of the projects it funds. The evaluation may assess a 13 sample of such projects. The board may hire an independent

14 consultant to conduct the evaluation and may report the evaluation

15 findings to the Legislature and the Governor.

16 Sec. 33. Section 81-15,176, Revised Statutes Supplement,

17 2000, is amended to read:

22 affect the natural physical and biological environment in Nebraska, 23 including the air, land, ground water and surface water, flora and 24 fauna, prairies and forests, wildlife and wildlife habitat, and

Senator Coordsen filed the following amendment to LB 600:
 AM2848

(Amendments to Standing Committee amendments, AM1916)

1 1. Strike sections 11 and 12 and insert the following
 2 new sections:
 3 "Sec. 11. (1) Valuations shall be established for land 4 devoted primarily to agricultural and horticultural use upon the 5 basis of the agricultural or horticultural income or productivity 6 attributable to the inherent capabilities of such land in its 7 current usage under a degree of management reflecting average
 8 production levels for the subclasses, less the average expenses 9 normally incurred by a landlord and capitalized at the 10 capitalization rate as determined under section 14 of this act.
 11 (2) The data required for valuing agricultural and 12 horticultural land shall be provided by the following sources or 13 other local, state, or federal agencies, or as that determined by 14 the Property Tax Administrator under the advisement of the 15 Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee:
 16 (a) Productivity is the estimate established by each soil
 17 type as published by the United States Department of Agriculture
 18 Natural Resources Conservation Service; and 19 (b) Average cropping patterns, crop yields, and crop
 20 prices by county shall be obtained from the Nebraska Crop and 21 Livestock Reporting Service or as published by other state or 22 federal agencies. Crop price information shall include federal 23 support information derived from United States Department of 1 Agriculture statistics per county. The cropping pattern shall 2 include, as data is available, but shall not be limited to, the 3 following crops: Continuous cropland wheat; summer fallow wheat;
 4 corn for grain; dry beans; sorghum for grain; sugar beets; soybeans
 5 for beans; oats; and alfalfa.
 6 (3) The Property Tax Administrator under the advisement
 7 of the Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee shall determine the 8 sources to use, which may include the Department of Agricultural

9 Economics of the University of Nebraska, to do the following:

10 (a) Perform surveys if information is not available to 11 determine the typical leasing arrangements, the typical rent, and 12 the typical expenses for each land subclass and each county;

13 (b) Compile the data for the average cropping patterns,
14 crop yields, and crop prices by county from the sources as 15 designated by the Property Tax Administrator;

16 (c) Compute the three-year average typical landlord share
17 as provided for under subsection (4) of this section;

18 (d) When the county assessor has predetermined that cash
19 rent is the prevalent leasing arrangement, attribute an average 20 cash rental value to each land capability group in a county and 21 verify that the total rental value, when summing across all land 22 capability groups in a land subclass, equals the total value for 23 the land subclass as calculated by multiplying the weighted cash
24 rental value by total acres in that land subclass;

25 (e) Distribute the adjusted weighted average across the 26 land capability groups for each land subclass and verify that the 27 total valuation for the county remains unchanged after the 1 distribution; and

2 (f) Provide a report of valuations to the Property Tax
3 Administrator.

4 (4) When the county assessor determines crop share
5 leasing is the prevalent leasing arrangement for dry or irrigated 6 cropland in a county, the typical net landlord income shall be 7 determined as follows:

8 (a) Gross receipts by land capability group shall be 9 determined by multiplying the most recent three-year average crop
10 prices by the most recent three-year average crop yield;

11 (b) Landlord income shall be computed by multiplying the 12 three-year average gross receipts by landlord share; and

13 (c) Net landlord income shall be computed by subtracting 14 from landlord income expenses normally incurred by a landlord and 15 weighting the result by the most recent three-year average cropping
16 pattern.

17 (5) When the county assessor determines that cash-rent
18 leasing is the prevalent leasing arrangement, net landlord income 19 shall be computed by subtracting from the cash rental value
20 expenses normally incurred by a landlord.

21 (6) The landlord's income for grassland shall be computed 22 as follows: (a) By multiplying the carrying capacity in terms of 23 animal unit months by the typical rental value per animal unit 24 month; or (b) by forage production, less landlord expenses paid by 25 the landlord. Carrying capacity and forage production, by land
26 subclass, shall be based on productivity estimates by each soil
27 type, published by the United States Department of Agriculture

1 Natural Resources Conservation Service or other state or federal 2 agencies and as selected and applied by the Property Tax
3 Administrator after consultation with and advisement from the

4 Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee. Rental value per animal 5 unit month shall be based on the most recent three-year average as 6 published by local, state, federal, or other agencies or developed
 7 from surveys performed by or for the Department of Property
 8 Assessment and Taxation. Landlord expenses shall be computed based 9 on the typical leasing arrangements as determined from surveys
 10 conducted or authorized by the Department of Property Assessment 11 and Taxation or as published by other state or federal agencies and 12 as selected and applied by the Property Tax Administrator after 13 consultation with and advisement from the Agricultural Land Use
 14 Advisory Committee.

15 For counties or land subclasses for which 16 animal-unit-month data is not available, the income stream shall be 17 computed by using the average of the most recent three-year
 18 prevailing cash rental rates per acre less the typical landlord
 19 expenses. The annual prevailing cash rental rates per acre shall 20 be based on data developed by the Department of Agricultural 21 Economics of the University of Nebraska or as published by other 22 state or federal agencies and as selected and applied by the 23 Property Tax Administrator after consultation with and advisement
 24 from the Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee.

25 (7) The land portion of farm sites shall be assessed at 26 the same value as the average of all the land capability groups in 27 the parcel.

1 (8) Wasteland shall be assessed at ten percent of the 2 lowest assessed land capability group in the county.

3 (9) When making the computations prescribed in this
 4 section, the same three-year period shall be used.

5 Sec. 12. The agricultural and horticultural use value
 6 for each land capability group shall be calculated by dividing the 7 net landlord income determined under section 11 of this act by the 8 capitalization rate set in section 14 of this act. The value for a 9 parcel of land shall be computed by summing the values and acres of 10 land in each land capability group for the parcel. The 11 agricultural and horticultural use value placed on such land by the 12 county assessor shall be subject to equalization by the county
 13 board of equalization and the Tax Equalization and Review
 14 Commission."

 24 based on the most predominant crops and computed using the most 25 frequently occurring arrangement in the county. Crop-share or 26 cash-rent method shall be used as the basis for determining income.

27 Under a crop-share arrangement, landlord share means the landlord
1 return under crop-share leases expressed as a percentage of gross
2 receipts attributable to the land. Landlord return means gross
3 receipts less typical input costs incurred by a landlord under a

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONOpinion #02006

DATE: February 21, 2002

SUBJECT: Services for developmentally disabled individuals who have graduated from high school but not reached age 21

REQUESTED BY: Senator Dennis M. Byars
Nebraska Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Charles E. Lowe, Assistant Attorney General

You have asked this office for its opinion as to whether the pending LB 1035 "is necessary to address a gap in services to developmentally disabled students who have graduated [from high school] and have not yet reached age 21." You indicate that, at the present time, the Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS") provides services under the Developmental Disabilities Services Act, Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 83-1201 through 83-1226 (1999) (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "Act") only to developmentally disabled students who graduate from high school and have reached the age of 21 and that, therefore, there is a gap in services for those who have graduated but not yet turned 21. You note that Neb. Rev. Stat. § 83-1216(1) (1999) appears to cover this subject already. You, therefore, ask whether, in light of § 83-1216(1), there is a "gap" to be closed by legislation.

Review of § 83-1216(1)

Section 83-1216(1) provides as follows:

Beginning July 1, 1995, persons determined to be eligible for specialized services who on or after September 6, 1993, graduate from high school, reach the age of twenty-one years, or are currently receiving services shall receive services in accordance with the Developmental Disabilities Services Act. (Emphasis supplied.)

On its face it would appear that § 83-1216(1) provides three distinct situations in which a person deemed eligible for specialized services would be entitled to receive them. The use of the word "or" in the statute indicates that these situations are listed in the disjunctive - i.e., if any one of them applies, then services are to be provided. Thus, a person eligible for specialized services who graduates from high school or who reaches the age of 21 or who was receiving such services on July 1, 1995, "shall receive services in accordance with the Developmental Disabilities Services Act." Accordingly, it would appear from this perspective that there is no "gap" since an eligible person who graduates from high school at any age is to receive services under the Act.

Meaning of "graduate from high school"

There is, however, some ambiguity in the statute which makes such a simple analysis problematic. Specifically, in the context of individuals with developmental disabilities the meaning of the term "graduate from high school," as used in § 83-1216(1) is not clear. The term itself is not defined anywhere in the Act.

It is our understanding, based upon a letter dated April 25, 2001, from Ron Ross, Director of HHS, to Douglas D. Christensen, Commissioner of Education, that HHS has interpreted the term "graduate from high school" as requiring that the individual "pass the standard, required curriculum for all students and receive a high school degree or diploma." HHS believes that most persons with developmental disabilities who would also qualify for specialized services under the Act, principally those with mental retardation, cannot "graduate from high school under the plain and ordinary definition of that word." HHS, which is charged with the implementation of the Act (Neb. Rev. Stat. § 83-1209), concludes that "graduation as used in Section 83-1216 would not include a 'Certificate of Attendance,' 'Certificate of Completion' or a lowered standard of graduation." HHS' interpretation of the term "graduate from high school," as found in § 83-1216(1), is not unreasonable and has considerable support.

In the absence of anything to the contrary, statutory language, of course, is to be given its plain and ordinary meaning. Ameritas Life Insurance Corp. v. Balka, 257 Neb. 878, 882, 601 N.W.2d 508, 511 (1999); Bohm v. DMA Partnership, 8 Neb.App. 1069, 1075-76, 607 N.W.2d 212, 217 (2000). In this connection, Webster's New Universal Unabridged Dictionary (2d ed. 1983) defines the word "graduate" as meaning "to receive a degree or diploma in recognition of the completion of a course of study at a school or college." If a student does not complete a "course of study" that constitutes a recognized curriculum for high school students, then he or she does not "graduate," according to this dictionary definition.

Under Art. VII, § 1 of the Nebraska Constitution the Legislature is directed to "provide for the free instruction in the common schools of this state of all persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years." Moreover, the Special Education Act, Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 79-1110 through 79-1178 (1996, Cum. Supp. 2000, and Supp. 2001) is applicable to all developmentally disabled individuals until they reach the age of 21. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-1126 (Cum. Supp. 2000). Thus, those individuals with developmental disabilities who do not "graduate from high school" and who have not turned 21 are still entitled to receive the services outlined in the Special Education Act from the schools.

The Nebraska Department of Education has issued rules and regulations to implement the Special Education Act. 92 NAC 51. In those rules and regulations the Department has interpreted the concept of "graduation from high school" in a manner which is consistent with HHS' interpretation of that term and with the plain and ordinary meaning of that term, as discussed above. In § 004.03 of 92 NAC 51 the rule states:

004.03A Students with disabilities who have graduated from high school with a regular high school diploma are not eligible to receive a FAPE (free appropriate public education).

004.03A1 The exception in Subsection 004.03A does not apply to students who have graduated but have not been awarded a regular high school diploma.

004.03A2 Graduation from high school with a regular diploma constitutes a change in placement, requiring written prior notice in accordance with Subsection 009.03 of this Chapter.

(Emphasis supplied.) "Free appropriate public education or FAPE" is defined in §003.20 of the Department of Education's rules and regulations as meaning:

[S]pecial education and related services which are provided at public expense, under public supervision and direction, at no cost to parents and in conformity with the individual education program or individualized family service plan with meets the requirements of Section 007, which meets the standards of the state, including the requirements of this rule and includes birth to age five, elementary or secondary school education.

Accordingly, the Department of Education has interpreted the Special Education Act as covering individuals with developmental disabilities until they are 21 years of age unless they have graduated from high school with a regular diploma. This interpretation, which is consistent with the plain and ordinary meaning of "graduate," dovetails with HHS' interpretation of § 83-1216(1) that services under the Developmental Disabilities Services Act will not be provided to those under 21 who have not graduated from high school with a regular diploma. These interpretations by the Department and HHS are also consistent with §§ 79-1125.01 and 79-1126 (both of which speak of providing services under the Special Education Act until an individual reaches the age of 21, although § 79-1125.01 does not apply directly to those who are placed in special education programs) and with the Legislature's intent, as expressed in § 83-1216(4), to utilize to the greatest extent possible funding sources within the Department of Education and, specifically, the Division of Rehabilitation Services to provide specialized services to developmentally disabled individuals.¹

In light of the foregoing, HHS' practice of not providing specialized services under that Developmental Disabilities Services Act to those ¹ After the Developmental Disabilities Services Act was initially enacted in 1991, the Department of Public Institutions promulgated rules and regulations for implementation of the Act, which rules and regulations have now been assumed by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). Section 011.06 of those rules and regulations, which are found at 205 NAC 2, states: "The Department authorizes funding for specialized supports and/or services to persons determined to be eligible who, on or after September 7, 1993, graduate from high school and reach the age of 21." (Emphasis supplied.) Clearly, the HHS rule requires both graduation from high school and reaching age 21 before services are provided.

While this two-prong test does not appear to be supported by the statutory language of § 83-1216(1), we infer from Director Ross' letter to Commissioner Cunningham that, in practice, HHS has provided and will provide services under the Act to eligible developmentally disabled individuals younger than 21 who graduate from high school with a regular high school diploma.

developmentally disabled individuals younger than 21 who have not graduated from high school with a regular diploma appears to be in conformity with existing law, the plain and ordinary meaning of the statutory term "graduate from high school," and the rules and regulations which have been promulgated by the Department of Education.

No "gap in services" based upon HHS' interpretation

Assuming that HHS does and will provide services under the Act to eligible developmentally disabled individuals younger than 21 who have graduated from high school with a regular diploma, it does not appear that there is a "gap" in coverage. If such an individual has not graduated from high school with a regular diploma, he or she will be covered under the Special Education Act until he or she turns 21, at which time he or she will receive services from HHS under the Developmental Disabilities Services Act. If such a developmentally disabled individual graduates from high school with a regular diploma before reaching the age of 21, he or she will then be covered by the Developmental Disabilities Services Act.

Changing the law

If the Legislature wishes to change the law so as to provide specialized services under the Developmental Disabilities Services Act to developmentally disabled individuals younger than 21 who have not graduated from high school with a regular diploma, it may want to accomplish this by providing a statutory definition of the term "graduate from high school," as found in § 83-1216(1), which would include receiving the types of degrees or certificates given to developmentally disabled individuals who do not or are unable to successfully complete the normal high school curriculum.

We do not believe that LB 1035, as introduced, accomplishes the stated goal of eliminating any perceived gap in services to individuals with developmental disabilities and, indeed, that it would only add confusion and uncertainty to the law. The proposed changes to § 83-1216(1) delete any reference to graduation from high school and simply require that specialized services under the Act be provided to those eligible persons who have reached the age of 21. The result of enactment of this change would be that services under the Act would not be provided, regardless of whether or not an individual has graduated from high school, until the age of 21.

While LB 1035, as introduced, would insert into § 83-1216(1) language regarding the "intent of the Legislature" to provide services under the Act to those who have graduated from high school until they reach 21, this "intent" language would conflict directly with LB 1035's proposed specific statutory language which states the law as being that such services are provided only to those who are 21 years old or older. It also would not resolve the issue of what is meant by the term "graduate from high school." Thus, this "intent" language would, at best, do nothing but add a great deal of ambiguity and uncertainty to the law.

Conclusion

In conclusion, it is our opinion that, so long as HHS provides specialized services to developmentally disabled individuals younger than 21 who have graduated from high school with a regular high school diploma, there is no gap in services. Those developmentally disabled individuals younger than 21 who have not graduated from high school with a regular high school diploma continue to be covered by the Special Education Act.

If the Legislature wishes to provide services under the Developmental Disabilities Services Act to developmentally disabled individuals younger than 21 who are no longer in high school, but who have not graduated with a regular high school diploma, it could most easily accomplish this by providing a statutory definition of "graduate from high school" which would include developmentally disabled individuals who finish their secondary education, but do not receive a regular high school diploma.

LB 1035, as introduced, does nothing to close any perceived gap in services and, indeed, would simply add uncertainty and ambiguity to the law. In fact, it might only exacerbate any gap that does exist by ensuring that specialized services under the Developmental Disabilities Services Act are provided only to developmentally disabled individuals age 21 or older - even those who have graduated from high school with a regular high school diploma.

Sincerely,
DON STENBERG
Attorney General

GENERAL FILE

LEGISLATIVE BILL 600. Senator Coordsen offered the following amendment:

AM2934

(Amendments to Standing Committee amendments, AM1916)

- 1 1. Strike sections 11 and 12 and insert the following
 2 new sections:
 3 "Sec. 11. (1) Valuations shall be established for land 4 devoted primarily to agricultural or horticultural use upon the 5 basis of the agricultural or horticultural income or productivity 6 attributable to the inherent capabilities of such land in its 7 current usage under a degree of management reflecting average
 8 production levels for the subclasses, less the average expenses
 9 normally incurred by a landlord and capitalized at the 10 capitalization rate as determined under section 14 of this act.
 11 (2) The data required for valuing agricultural and 12 horticultural land shall be provided by the following sources or 13 other local, state, or federal agencies, or as that determined by 14 the Property Tax Administrator under the advisement of the 15 Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee:
 16 (a) Productivity is the estimate established by each soil
 17 type as published by the United States Department of Agriculture
 18 Natural Resources Conservation Service; and 19 (b) Average cropping patterns, crop yields, and crop
 20 prices by county shall be obtained from the Nebraska Crop and 21 Livestock Reporting Service or as published by other state or 22 federal agencies. Crop price information shall include federal 23 support information derived from United States Department of
 1 Agriculture statistics per county. The cropping pattern shall 2 include, as data is available, but shall not be limited to, the 3 following crops: Continuous cropland wheat; summer fallow wheat;
 4 corn for grain; dry beans; sorghum for grain; sugar beets; soybeans
 5 for beans; oats; and alfalfa.
 6 (3) The Property Tax Administrator under the advisement
 7 of the Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee shall determine the 8 sources to use, which may include the Department of Agricultural 9 Economics of the University of Nebraska, to do the following:
 10 (a) Perform surveys if information is not available to 11 determine the typical leasing arrangements, the typical rent, and 12 the typical expenses for each land subclass and each county;
 13 (b) Compile the data for the average cropping patterns,
 14 crop yields, and crop prices by county from the sources as 15 designated by the Property Tax Administrator;
 16 (c) Compute the three-year average typical landlord share

17 as provided for under subsection (4) of this section;

18 (d) When the county assessor has predetermined that cash
19 rent is the prevalent leasing arrangement, attribute an average 20 cash rental value to each land capability group in a county and 21 verify that the total rental value, when summing across all land 22 capability groups in a land subclass, equals the total value for 23 the land subclass as calculated by multiplying the weighted cash
24 rental value by total acres in that land subclass;

25 (e) Distribute the adjusted weighted average across the 26 land capability groups for each land subclass and verify that the 27 total valuation for the county remains unchanged after the 1 distribution; and

2 (f) Provide a report of valuations to the Property Tax
3 Administrator.

4 (4) When the county assessor determines crop share
5 leasing is the prevalent leasing arrangement for dry or irrigated 6 cropland in a county, the typical net landlord income shall be 7 determined as follows:

8 (a) Gross receipts by land capability group shall be 9 determined by multiplying the most recent three-year average crop
10 prices by the most recent three-year average crop yield;

11 (b) Landlord income shall be computed by multiplying the 12 three-year average gross receipts by landlord share; and

13 (c) Net landlord income shall be computed by subtracting 14 from landlord income expenses normally incurred by a landlord and 15 weighting the result by the most recent three-year average cropping
16 pattern.

17 (5) When the county assessor determines that cash-rent
18 leasing is the prevalent leasing arrangement, net landlord income
19 shall be computed by subtracting from the cash rental value
20 expenses normally incurred by a landlord.

21 (6) The landlord's income for grassland shall be computed 22 as follows: (a) By multiplying the carrying capacity in terms of 23 animal unit months by the typical rental value per animal unit 24 month; or (b) by forage production, less landlord expenses paid by 25 the landlord. Carrying capacity and forage production, by land
26 subclass, shall be based on productivity estimates by each soil
27 type, published by the United States Department of Agriculture

1 Natural Resources Conservation Service or other state or federal 2 agencies and as selected and applied by the Property Tax

3 Administrator after consultation with and advisement from the 4 Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee. Rental value per animal 5 unit month shall be based on the most recent three-year average as 6 published by local, state, federal, or other agencies or developed
7 from surveys performed by or for the Department of Property

8 Assessment and Taxation. Landlord expenses shall be computed based 9 on the typical leasing arrangements as determined from surveys
10 conducted or authorized by the Department of Property Assessment 11 and Taxation or as published by other state or federal agencies and

12 as selected and applied by the Property Tax Administrator after 13 consultation with and advisement from the Agricultural Land Use
14 Advisory Committee.

15 For any county or land subclass for which 16 animal-unit-month data is not available, the income stream shall be 17 computed by using the average of the most recent three-year
18 prevailing cash rental rates per acre less the typical landlord
19 expenses. The annual prevailing cash rental rates per acre shall 20 be based on data developed by the Department of Agricultural 21 Economics of the University of Nebraska or as published by other 22 state or federal agencies and as selected and applied by the 23 Property Tax Administrator after consultation with and advisement
24 from the Agricultural Land Use Advisory Committee.
25 (7) The land portion of farm sites shall be assessed at 26 the same value as the average of all the land capability groups in 27 the parcel.

1 (8) Wasteland shall be assessed at ten percent of the 2 lowest assessed land capability group in the county.

3 (9) When making the computations prescribed in this
4 section, the same three-year period shall be used.

5 Sec. 12. The agricultural and horticultural use value
6 for each land capability group shall be calculated by dividing the 7 net landlord income determined under section 11 of this act by the 8 capitalization rate set in section 14 of this act. The value for a 9 parcel of land shall be computed by summing the values and acres of 10 land in each land capability group for the parcel. The 11 agricultural and horticultural use value placed on such land by the 12 county assessor shall be subject to equalization by the county
13 board of equalization and the Tax Equalization and Review
14 Commission."

15 2. On page 3, line 21, strike "2002" and insert "2003";

21 subdivision:

22 "(9) Landlord share means that share of the net income
23 normally received by the landlord from the productivity of the land 24 based on the most predominant crops and computed using the most 25 frequently occurring arrangement in the county. Crop-share or 26 cash-rent method shall be used as the basis for determining income.
27 Under a crop-share arrangement, landlord share means the landlord
1 return under crop-share leases expressed as a percentage of gross
2 receipts attributable to the land. Landlord return means gross
3 receipts less typical input costs incurred by a landlord under a 4 crop-share lease. Under a cash-rent arrangement, landlord share is 5 the cash rent;"

6 4. On page 7, line 1, after "includes" insert "prorated

- 7 conservation expenses,"; in line 2 after the last comma insert 8 "reserves for replacement,"; after line 10 insert the following new 9 subdivision:

 11 associated with the irrigation well and casing, underground 12 transmission line, storage reservoirs, concrete ditches, permanent 13 set sprinkler, drip irrigation systems, and fences and similar 14 equipment or parts that will reach the end of their economic life 15 before the end of the life of the land. Reserves for replacement 16 does not include other necessary irrigation equipment, such as 17 pumps, gearheads, and motors, and side-roll or center-pivot 18 sprinkler systems typically considered personal property"; in line

 3 most nearly reflects the prevalent leasing arrangement by land
 4 subclass in the county. The method determined by the county
 5 assessor shall be reported to the Property Tax Administrator by 6 January 1, 2003, and shall not be changed without a showing that 7 the change in method most nearly reflects the use in the land 8 subclass.

4 39-2519. (1) Each city of the metropolitan or primary 5 class or successor municipal county shall be entitled to the first 6 one-third of its annual allocation with no requirement of matching, 7 but shall be required to match the second one-third, on the basis 8 of one dollar for each dollar it receives, with funds provided 9 locally for street purposes, and shall be required to match the 10 final one-third, on the basis of one dollar for each two dollars it 11 receives, with funds so provided. Each city of the first or second 12 class or village or successor municipal county shall be entitled to 13 one-half of its annual allocation with no requirement of matching, 14 but shall be required to match the second one-half on the basis of 15 one dollar for each two dollars it receives, with any available

17 preceding fiscal year failed to provide the matching funds required 18 by this subsection shall, except as provided in subsection (2) or 19 (3) of this section, forfeit so much of its allocation as it fails 20 to match. Any amount so forfeited shall be reallocated and 21 distributed to the municipalities or municipal counties which have 22 met the full matching provisions of this subsection. Such 23 reallocation shall be made in the manner provided in sections 24 39-2517 and 39-2518.

1 (2) Any municipality or municipal county may accumulate

13 all or a part of the state funds allocated to it for that year.
14 The amount so relinquished shall be available for distribution to 15 such county subject to the same matching as would have been 16 required of the municipality had it not relinquished such funds and 17 without regard to the provisions of sections 39-2501 to 39-2510.

18 Any amount so distributed to the county shall be used exclusively 19 for road purposes within the trade area of the relinquishing 20 municipality as may be agreed upon by the county and municipal 21 governing bodies.

22 (4) Any municipality may certify to the State Treasurer

24 whole or in part, all or a part of the state funds allocated to it 25 for not to exceed three years. The amount so relinquished shall be 27 matching as would have been required of the municipality had it not 1 relinquished such funds and without regard to the provisions of 2 sections 39-2501 to 39-2510. Any relinquishment under this 3 subsection shall be made pursuant to an agreement between the 4 relinquishing municipality and the county, to which other political 5 subdivisions may also be parties, which provides for the 6 accumulation and investment by the county of the amount 7 relinquished for not to exceed three years so as to provide funds 8 for one or more specific road improvement projects.

Senator Schrock filed the following amendment to LB 458:
 AM2950

- 1 1. Insert the following new sections:
- 2 "Section 1. The Legislature declares that:
- 3 (1) In order to protect the watercourses and bodies of
- 4 water of the state, under requirements and mandates of state and
- 5 federal law relating to storm water management programs, and to
- 6 meet local storm water needs, certain municipalities, counties, and
- 7 natural resources districts are responsible to develop and
- 8 implement storm water management programs; and
- 9 (2) The costs to implement storm water management

10 programs are significant, current funding sources and methods may 11 be inadequate, and authority is necessary to develop a system of 12 charges which may be imposed to carry out the storm water 13 management programs. Charges collected shall be used only for 14 storm water management programs.

15 Sec. 2. For purposes of sections 1 to 13 of this act,
16 the definitions found in sections 3 to 7 of this act shall be used.

17 Sec. 3. Agricultural and horticultural land means
18 agricultural and horticultural lands as defined in section 77-1359.

19 Sec. 4. Impervious surface area means the plane area of 20 a parcel of real property which exhibits a comparatively low rate 21 of absorption of storm water or a high rate of runoff per unit of 22 surface area.

23 Sec. 5. Municipality means any city of the first class 24 which is required to have a storm water management program, any 1 city of the primary class, or any city of the metropolitan class.

2 Sec. 6. Process of development means grading and other
3 activities performed in preparation for residential, commercial, or 4 industrial uses.

5 Sec. 7. Storm water management programs means those 6 programs, practices, and projects necessary to meet (1) state and 7 federal requirements and mandates and (2) locally established needs 8 and priorities for surface water quality and quantity.

9 Sec. 8. Each municipality shall, by resolution of its 10 governing body, establish storm water management programs in any 11 area within its corporate limits and within its zoning
12 jurisdiction. For the purpose of funding capital improvements and 13 paying the operational costs of storm water management programs, 14 the municipality may establish a system of charges against all land
15 within such areas including, with the consent of the governing body
16 of a county, any area within such municipality's zoning 17 jurisdiction, to be paid for storm water management programs as 18 authorized by sections 18-503 and 18-509. The system of charges to 19 be paid for storm water management programs shall be as established 20 by a separate resolution of the governing body of the municipality.

21 Sec. 9. A natural resources district containing a 22 municipality, by resolution of its board of directors, may 23 establish and implement storm water management programs in any area
24 within the district. For the purpose of funding capital 25 improvements and paying the operational costs of storm water 26 management programs within such areas, a district, by resolution of 27 its board of directors, may establish a system of charges against 1 all land within such areas, including, with the consent of the 2 governing body of a municipality or of a county containing a 3 municipality, any area within such county or within such 4 municipality or its zoning jurisdiction, and may issue revenue 5 bonds repayable from the proceeds of such charges, all upon such 6 terms as the board of directors may determine reasonable. Such 7 charges shall be proportionate to the storm water contribution and

8 based upon sound engineering principles and may include factors
9 such as impervious surface area and land uses. Such charges shall 10 be collected in the same manner as district property taxes, or in 11 such other manner as determined appropriate by the board of 12 directors, and shall not be deemed to constitute special benefit 13 assessments.

14 Sec. 10. A county containing a municipality, by 15 resolution of its county board, may establish and implement storm 16 water management programs in any area within the county. For the 17 purpose of funding capital improvements and paying the operational 18 costs of storm water management programs within such areas, a 19 county, by resolution of its governing board, may establish a 20 system of charges against all land within such areas, including, 21 with the consent of the governing body of a municipality, any area 22 within such municipality or within its zoning jurisdiction, and may 23 issue revenue bonds repayable from the proceeds of such charges, 24 all upon such terms as the board may determine reasonable. Such 25 charges shall be proportionate to the storm water contribution and 26 based upon sound engineering principles and may include factors
27 such as impervious surface area and land uses. Such charges shall 1 be collected in the same manner as county property taxes, or in 2 such other manner as determined appropriate by the county board,
3 and shall not be deemed to constitute special benefit assessments.

4 Sec. 11. The plan and budget for the operational costs
5 and capital improvements that comprise a storm water management
6 program shall be prepared on an annual basis. Each municipality,
7 county, and natural resources district shall hold a public hearing
8 prior to: (1) Approving the annual operating budget and capital
9 improvements program; (2) adopting storm water management program
10 charges; and (3) amending such charges. A municipality, county, or 11 natural resources district shall not impose storm water management 12 program charges for any period against land that is subject to 13 similar charges imposed by another such entity for such period.

14 Sec. 12. The powers granted by sections 8 to 13 of this 15 act are independent of and in addition to all other grants of 16 powers on the same or related subjects, but may be exercised 17 jointly with other governmental agencies by entering into an 18 agreement pursuant to the Interlocal Cooperation Act or 19 supplemented by the powers granted by any existing law. Nothing in 20 such sections shall be construed as limiting the powers of sanitary 21 and improvement districts relating to matters of drainage as 22 provided for in the laws governing sanitary and improvement 23 districts.

24 Sec. 13. A municipality, county, or natural resources 25 district shall adopt procedures for exemption of agricultural and 26 horticultural lands that are not in the process of development from 27 storm water management program charges.

1 Sec. 14. Section 2-1575, Revised Statutes Supplement,
2 2000, is amended to read:

3 2-1575. Sections 2-1575 to 2-1585 and section 16 of this 4 act shall be known and may be cited as the Nebraska Soil and Water 5 Conservation Act.

6 Sec. 15. Section 2-1576, Reissue Revised Statutes of 7 Nebraska, is amended to read:

8 2-1576. The Legislature recognizes and hereby declares
9 that it is the public policy of this state to properly conserve, 10 protect, and utilize the water and related land resources of the 11 state, to better utilize surface waters and available
12 precipitation, to encourage ground water recharge to protect the 13 state's dwindling ground water supply, to protect the quality of 14 surface water and ground water resources, and to reduce soil
15 erosion and sediment damages. The Legislature further declares
16 that it is in the public interest of this state to financially
17 assist in encouraging water and related land resource conservation 18 and protection measures on privately owned ~~agricultural,~~ 19 ~~horticultural,~~ or ~~silvicultural~~ land and that this will produce 20 long-term benefits for the general public.

21 Sec. 16. Payments may be made from the Nebraska Soil and 22 Water Conservation Fund to owners of private land which is being 23 converted to urban use for the purpose of controlling erosion and 24 sediment loss from construction and development. As a condition 25 for receiving any funds pursuant to this section, the landowner
26 shall agree in writing that the erosion and sediment control 27 practices will be installed prior to the land-disturbing activity, 1 when possible, and that the practices will be adequately maintained 2 or replaced at the landowner's expense until ninety-five percent of 3 the site is permanently stabilized. Payments made pursuant to this 4 section shall be in accordance with and conditional upon such terms
5 as are established by the commission. Such terms may be different 6 from those established by section 2-1579 for payments relating to 7 other types of projects and practices.

8 Sec. 17. Section 18-503, Reissue Revised Statutes of 9 Nebraska, is amended to read:

10 18-503. The governing body of ~~such a~~ municipality may 11 make all necessary rules and regulations governing the use, 12 operation, and control thereof of a disposal plant and sewerage 13 system, including any storm sewer system, pursuant to section 14 18-501. The governing body may establish just and equitable rates 15 or charges to be paid to it for the use of such disposal plant and 16 sewerage system, including any storm sewer system, by each person, 17 firm, or corporation whose premises are served thereby. If the 18 service charge so established is not paid when due, such sum may be 19 recovered by the municipality in a civil action, or it may be 20 certified to the tax assessor and assessed against the premises
21 served, and collected or returned in the same manner, as other
22 municipal taxes are certified, assessed, collected, and returned.
23 Charges to be paid for use of a storm sewer system shall be 24 proportionate to the storm water contribution and based upon sound

25 engineering principles and may include factors such as impervious 26 land surfaces and land uses.

27 Sec. 18. Section 18-509, Reissue Revised Statutes of 1 Nebraska, is amended to read:

2 18-509. (1) The mayor and city council of any city or 3 the board of trustees of any village, in addition to other sources
4 of revenue available to the city or village, may by ordinance set
5 up a rental or use charge, to be collected from users of any system
6 of sewerage, including any storm sewer system, and provide methods
7 for collection thereof. The charges shall be charged to each 8 property served by the sewerage system or storm sewer system, shall 9 be a lien upon the property served, and may be collected either 10 from the owner or the person, firm, or corporation requesting the 11 service. Charges to be paid for use of a storm sewer system shall 12 be based upon sound engineering principles and may include factors 13 such as impervious surface areas and land uses.

14 (2) All money raised from the charges, referred to in 15 subsection (1) of this section, shall be used for maintenance or 16 operation of the existing system, for payment of principal and 17 interest on bonds issued as is provided for in section 17-925, 18 18-502, 18-506, or 19-1305, or to create a reserve fund for the 19 purpose of future maintenance or construction of a new sewer system 20 for the city or village or to develop and implement storm water 21 management programs. Any funds raised from this charge shall be 22 placed in a separate fund or funds based on the source of such 23 funds and not be used for any other purpose or diverted to any 24 other fund.

25 Sec. 23. If any section in this act or any part of any 26 section is declared invalid or unconstitutional, the declaration 27 shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the remaining
1 portions."

2 2. Renumber the remaining sections and correct the 3 repealer accordingly.

Indefinitely postpone LB 1011.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONOpinion #02007

DATE: March 4, 2002

SUBJECT: LB 961 And LB 1236; Changes In The Operation Of The Nebraska State Board Of Agriculture; Status Of The Board As A State Agency.

REQUESTED BY: Senator M. L. Dierks
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Dale A. Comer, Assistant Attorney General
Charles E. Lowe, Assistant Attorney General

In our Op. Att'y Gen. No. 01038 (November 28, 2001), we considered a number of issues concerning the status of the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture (the "Board") as a state agency or a private corporation. Among other things, we concluded in that opinion that the Board is a private corporation, and not a state agency.

There are two bills currently pending before the Legislature which would affect the Board. LB 961 would abolish the Board and create a new State Fair Commission. The State Fair Commission would consist of nine members appointed by the Governor with the consent of the Legislature. Members of the State Fair Commission would serve a term of three years, and would direct and supervise the State Fair along with a State Fair Director, who would also be appointed by the Governor. The State Fair Commission would administer a new State Fair Fund for the conduct of the Nebraska State Fair, and that fund would include money appropriated to the fund by the Legislature, all monies of the Board as it existed prior to the passage of LB 961, and any money in the Nebraska State Fairgrounds Building Fund.

The other bill which would affect the Board is LB 1236. The introduced version of that bill would not abolish the Board, but would change its operation in a number of significant respects. For example, that bill would require the Board to create and appoint a nine-member executive board to manage the Board's activities. In addition, LB 1236 would create a State Fair Foundation and a State Board of Agriculture Fund. LB 1236 would also prohibit members of the Legislature from serving on the Board, and would require the Board to comply with the Public Meetings Statutes. Under Section 8 of LB 1236, certain portions of the Nebraska Political Accountability and Disclosure Act would also apply to members of the Board.

On behalf of the Legislature's Agriculture Committee, you have posed several questions to us regarding the Board and the pending bills which would affect it. We will consider each of your questions in turn.

Question 1: To what extent does the current arrangement for the conduct of a state fair and management of the state fairgrounds by a private corporation shield the state of Nebraska from liabilities that may arise out of the errors, omissions, or negligent actions of the Board of Agriculture, from causes of action that may arise from personal, environmental or other injuries that might occur on the property of the state fairgrounds, or from the debts or contractual obligations of the State Board of Agriculture?

Your initial question is a very broad question, the answer to which depends upon the facts of any given situation and the legal theories which may be advanced in the claim. Since we cannot know what those facts or theories might be in any particular case, we cannot answer your question except in very general terms. We will, however, endeavor to provide some insight.

The current arrangement certainly provides the State with protection from tort claims which might otherwise proceed against it were the Board deemed to be a state agency. Under the State Tort Claims Act, Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 81-8,209 through 81-9,235 (1996 and Cum. Supp. 2000), the State has waived its sovereign immunity from suit to allow certain types of tort actions to proceed against it in certain situations. The Tort Claims Act, however, specifically provides that it applies only to acts or omissions of "employees" and other officials of the State, and not to "contractors" with the State. § 81-8,210 (1), (3) and (4). Therefore, because the Board is a private entity which contracts with the State to perform certain services for the State, it is not covered by the State Tort Claims Act; and the State has not waived its immunity to permit tort claims against the State arising out of acts or omissions of the contractor. Indeed, in Crete Mills v. Nebraska State Board of Agriculture, 132 Neb. 244, 271 N.W. 684 (1937), which was decided long before enactment of the State Tort Claims Act, the court made it clear that the Board is essentially a private corporation and not a State entity which, absent the State Tort Claims Act, would be immune from suit. Accordingly, enactment of the State Tort Claims Act did not change the Board's status and did not imply that the State had agreed to be subject to suit for the wrongful acts or omissions of the State Board of Agriculture.

The current arrangement also provides protection to the State from contract claims which might be made against it were the Board to become a state agency. Like the State Tort Claims Act, the State Contract Claims Act, Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 81-8,302 through 81-8,306 (1996 and Cum. Supp. 2000), exempts private corporations that are contractors with the State.

Further, the present arrangement protects the State from employment-related claims which might be made against the Board - e.g., employment discrimination claims made under federal and/or State law. Because the Board is currently essentially a private corporation, it would be deemed to be the "employer;" and the State would not be involved in any such claims.

In your opinion request letter you indicate that State Fair Park is property of the State, although the Board of Agriculture manages and maintains that property under a formal property management agreement with the Department of Administrative Services. There may be certain limited types of claims which could be made against the State simply because of its ownership of the property. For example, the owner of real estate may still be involved in litigation brought by an adjacent property owner claiming that pollutants have migrated from the former's property on to the latter's property. Thus, the current arrangement does not necessarily protect the State from those types of claims, except to the extent that the Board has contractually agreed to hold the State harmless.

Finally, it is apparent that the current arrangement means that the State is not responsible for the debts or contractual obligations of the Board.

Question 2: If LB 961 were enacted, would the State Fair Commission assume the debts, liabilities and contractual obligations of the State Board of Agriculture without legislation expressly providing for such assumption? Is it necessary and possible to compel by legislation that the State Board of Agriculture transfer to the State Fair Commission any property, records and funds?

As we noted in our Opinion No. 01038, the Nebraska Supreme Court has indicated that the Board is a private business association as contemplated under the Uniform Disposition of Unclaimed Property Act, and that the Board is "essentially a private corporation" which is not immune from suit under the doctrine of sovereign immunity. State ex rel. Marsh v. Nebraska State Board of Agriculture, 217 Neb. 622, 350 N.W.2d 535 (1984); Crete Mills v. Nebraska State Board of Agriculture, 132 Neb. 244, 271 N.W. 684 (1937). Based upon those cases, we concluded, in Opinion No. 01038, that the Board is a private corporation and not a state agency. Accord Op. Att'y Gen. No. 99038 (August 19, 1999); Op. Att'y Gen. No. 91087 (November 21, 1991); Op. Att'y Gen. No. 47 (March 27, 1985); 1977-78 Rep. Att'y Gen. 229 (Opinion No. 151, dated December 20, 1977).

In Nebraska, a corporation is generally viewed as a complete and separate entity from its shareholders and officers, who are not, as a rule, liable for the debts and obligations of the corporation. Baye v. Airlite Plastics Co., 260 Neb. 385, 618 N.W.2d 145 (2000); Nelson v. Lusterstone Surfacing Co., 258 Neb. 678, 605 N.W.2d 136 (2000). Consequently, it seems to us that the debts, liabilities and contractual obligations of the State Board of Agriculture, a private corporation, belong to the Board, and would not be assumed by a new State Fair Commission absent legislation which expressly provides for such an assumption. In that regard, we would note that failure to provide for such an assumption by a new State Fair Commission could raise issues pertaining to an unconstitutional impairment of the obligation of contracts under art. I, § 16 of the Nebraska Constitution.

Based upon the same notion that the Board is currently a private corporation separate and apart from state government, we also believe that it would be necessary to compel by legislation that the Board transfer to a new State Fair Commission any of the Board's property, records and funds which the Legislature wishes to make available to the new commission. However, while we believe that compelling such a transfer is possible, we would again caution that such a transfer must take into account art. I, § 21 of the Nebraska Constitution which provides that "[t]he property of no person shall be taken or damaged for public use without just compensation therefor."

Question 3: LB 1236 would impose additional requirements upon the State Board of Agriculture, including: 1) that the Board comply with the Open Meetings Law, 2) extension of certain requirements of the Nebraska Political Accountability and Disclosure Act to Board Members, 3) the creation of a State Board of Agriculture Fund. Additionally, it has been suggested that LB 1236 be amended to provide that some members of the Board be appointed by the governor. Would enactment of LB 1236 with these provisions affect the conclusion reached in your earlier opinion that the Board is a private corporation and not an agency of the state?

As noted above, in the Crete Mills case, the Nebraska Supreme Court determined that the Board is "essentially a private corporation" which is not immune from suit under the doctrine of sovereign immunity. In the course of that opinion, the court discussed several things which led it to that determination, among them:

1. The Board was originally created in 1858 as a body corporate with perpetual existence. In that regard the court stated:

The record further demonstrates beyond peradventure that, as a fact, the original incorporators of this [State] board [of Agriculture] and their successors in interest, elected by them at the annual election, constituted a self-perpetuating body. The officers of this organization were continuously selected by the board, and its general policies were determined by the annual meeting at which the original incorporators and their successors in interest, by them selected, were supreme. The electors of the state generally had no voice in the proceedings of this board, and the political officers of the state exercised no powers of selection or appointment of its officers, or direction or control over its general business affairs.

Crete Mills, 132 Neb. at 249, 271 N.W. at 686.

2. When the State Department of Agriculture was created as an executive agency of the State in the early 1900's, the Board was not included in that agency.

3. The property of the Board was exempt from taxation under art. VIII, § 2 of the Nebraska Constitution as it existed then, not because the Board was a governmental agency, but because the Board was an agricultural society which did not use its property for financial gain or profit to its owners.

4. The Board collected receipts from admissions to fairs, charges against concessions, and from other similar sources of income, and paid out and disbursed those funds through its own officers as if it were a private corporation. Those funds were not paid into the state treasury and drawn out of the state treasury by warrant.

As a result of those various factors, the court in Crete Mills concluded:

It is obvious, therefore, that neither the inherent nature of the Nebraska state board of agriculture, the manner in which its perpetuity is accomplished, the character of the business carried on, the method of its performance, nor the purpose sought to be attained, in any manner determines its character to be that of a public governmental agency, to which the principle of exemption from suit without assent of the state is applicable.

Crete Mills, 132 Neb. at 250, 251, 271 N.W. at 687.

As you pointed out in your third question to us, the introduced version of LB 1236 would impose additional requirements upon the Board, including compliance with the Public Meetings Statutes, compliance with the requirements of the Nebraska Political Accountability and Disclosure Act and creation of a State Board of Agriculture Fund which would include monies appropriated to the Board by the Legislature. We also understand that LB 1236 may be amended to require that a certain number of Board members must be appointed by the Governor in addition to those members appointed by county agricultural societies. Nevertheless, we do not believe that those various additional requirements on the Board would greatly affect the factors which influenced the court in Crete Mills. For example, the fact that the Governor might appoint some members of the Board would not change the fact that the bulk of its members are selected by means other than by election or by appointment of state officers.¹ Nor would LB 1236 change the fact that there is no clear declaration in statute that the Board is a state agency, or the fact that the Board handles its own gate receipts and other revenues apart from state appropriations outside the state treasury, or the fact that the Board may still receive a tax exemption because it is an agricultural society.² Finally, we also do not believe that LB 1236 would change the Board's origins as a body corporate with perpetual existence. For those various reasons, LB 1236 would not change the conclusion set out in our Opinion No. 01038.

- 3 "Section 1. The Legislature declares that:
- 4 (1) In order to protect the watercourses and bodies of
- 5 water of the state, under requirements and mandates of state and
- 6 federal law relating to storm water management programs, and to
- 7 meet local storm water needs, certain municipalities, counties, and
- 8 natural resources districts are responsible to develop and
- 9 implement storm water management programs; and
- 10 (2) The costs to implement storm water management
- 11 programs are significant, current funding sources and methods may
- 12 be inadequate, and authority is necessary to develop a system of
- 13 charges which may be imposed to carry out the storm water
- 14 management programs. Charges collected shall be used only for
- 15 storm water management programs.
- 16 Sec. 2. For purposes of sections 1 to 13 of this act,
- 17 the definitions found in sections 3 to 7 of this act shall be used.
- 18 Sec. 3. Agricultural and horticultural land means
- 19 agricultural and horticultural lands as defined in section 77-1359.
- 20 Sec. 4. Impervious surface area means the plane area of
- 21 a parcel of real property which exhibits a comparatively low rate
- 22 of absorption of storm water or a high rate of runoff per unit of
- 23 surface area.
- 24 Sec. 5. Municipality means any city of the first class
- 1 which is required to have a storm water management program, any
- 2 city of the primary class, or any city of the metropolitan class.
- 3 Sec. 6. Process of development means grading and other
- 4 activities performed in preparation for residential, commercial, or
- 5 industrial uses.
- 6 Sec. 7. Storm water management programs means those
- 7 programs, practices, and projects necessary to meet (1) state and

- 9 and priorities for surface water quality and quantity.
- 10 Sec. 8. Each municipality shall, by resolution of its
- 11 governing body, establish storm water management programs in any
- 12 area within its corporate limits and within its zoning
- 13 jurisdiction. For the purpose of funding capital improvements and
- 14 paying the operational costs of storm water management programs,
- 15 the municipality may establish a system of charges against all land

16 within such areas including, with the consent of the governing body
17 of a county, any area within such municipality's zoning
18 jurisdiction, to be paid for storm water management programs as 19 authorized by sections 18-503 and 18-509. The system of charges to 20 be paid for storm water management programs shall be as established 21 by a separate resolution of the governing body of the municipality.
22 Such charges shall be proportionate to the storm water contribution 23 and based upon sound engineering principles and may include factors 24 such as impervious surface area and land uses. Such charges shall

15 charges shall be proportionate to the storm water contribution and 16 based upon sound engineering principles and may include factors
17 such as impervious surface area and land uses. Such charges shall 18 be collected in the same manner as district property taxes, or in 19 such other manner as determined appropriate by the board of 20 directors, and shall not be deemed to constitute special benefit 21 assessments.

22 Sec. 10. A county containing a municipality, by 23 resolution of its county board, may establish and implement storm 24 water management programs in any area within the county. For the

26 costs of storm water management programs within such areas, a
27 county, by resolution of its governing board, may establish a
1 system of charges against all land within such areas, including,
2 with the consent of the governing body of a municipality, any area
3 within such municipality or within its zoning jurisdiction, and may 4 issue revenue bonds repayable from the proceeds of such charges, 5 all upon such terms as the board may determine reasonable. Such 6 charges shall be proportionate to the storm water contribution and 7 based upon sound engineering principles and may include factors
8 such as impervious surface area and land uses. Such charges shall

10 such other manner as determined appropriate by the county board,

11 and shall not be deemed to constitute special benefit assessments.
12 Sec. 11. The plan and budget for the operational costs
13 and capital improvements that comprise a storm water management
14 program shall be prepared on an annual basis. Each municipality, 15 county, and natural resources district shall hold a public hearing
16 prior to: (1) Approving the annual operating budget and capital
17 improvements program; (2) adopting storm water management program
18 charges; and (3) amending such charges. A municipality, county, or 19 natural resources district shall not impose storm water management 20 program charges for any period against land that is subject to 21 similar charges imposed by another such entity for such period.

22 Sec. 12. The powers granted by sections 8 to 13 of this 23 act are independent of and in addition to all other grants of 24 powers on the same or related subjects, but may be exercised 25 jointly with other governmental agencies by entering into an 26 agreement pursuant to the Interlocal Cooperation Act or 27 supplemented by the powers granted by any existing law. Nothing in 1 such sections shall be construed as limiting the powers of sanitary 2 and improvement districts relating to matters of drainage as

14 Sec. 15. Section 2-1576, Reissue Revised Statutes of 15 Nebraska, is amended to read:

16 2-1576. The Legislature recognizes and hereby declares
17 that it is the public policy of this state to properly conserve, 18 protect, and utilize the water and related land resources of the 19 state, to better utilize surface waters and available
20 precipitation, to encourage ground water recharge to protect the 21 state's dwindling ground water supply, to protect the quality of 22 surface water and ground water resources, and to reduce soil
23 erosion and sediment damages. The Legislature further declares
24 that it is in the public interest of this state to financially
25 assist in encouraging water and related land resource conservation 26 and protection measures on privately owned ~~agricultural,~~ 27 ~~horticultural,~~ or ~~silvicultural~~ land and that this will produce 1 long-term benefits for the general public.

2 Sec. 16. ~~Payments may be made from the Nebraska Soil and~~
3 ~~Water Conservation Fund to owners of private land which is being~~ 4 ~~converted to urban use for the purpose of controlling erosion and~~

10 or replaced at the landowner's expense until ninety-five percent of 11 the site is permanently stabilized. Payments made pursuant to this 12 section shall be in accordance with and conditional upon such terms
13 as are established by the commission. Such terms may be different 14 from those established by section 2-1579 for payments relating to 15 other types of projects and practices.

16 Sec. 17. Section 18-503, Reissue Revised Statutes of

23 or charges to be paid to it for the use of such disposal plant and 24 sewerage system, including any storm sewer system, by each person, 25 firm, or corporation whose premises are served thereby. If the 26 service charge so established is not paid when due, such sum may be 27 recovered by the municipality in a civil action, or it may be
1 certified to the tax assessor and assessed against the premises
2 served, and collected or returned in the same manner, as other
3 municipal taxes are certified, assessed, collected, and returned.
4 Charges to be paid for use of a storm sewer system shall be 5 proportionate to the storm water contribution and based upon sound
6 engineering principles and may include factors such as impervious
7 land surfaces and land uses.

8 Sec. 18. Section 18-509, Reissue Revised Statutes of 9 Nebraska, is amended to read:

10 18-509. (1) The mayor and city council of any city or 11 the board of trustees of any village, in addition to other sources
12 of revenue available to the city or village, may by ordinance set 13 up a rental or use charge, to be collected from users of any system
14 of sewerage, including any storm sewer system, and provide methods
15 for collection thereof. The charges shall be charged to each 16 property served by the sewerage system or storm sewer system, shall 17 be a lien upon the property served, and may be collected either 18 from the owner or the person, firm, or corporation requesting the 19 service. Charges to be paid for use of a storm sewer system shall 20 be based upon sound engineering principles and may include factors 21 such as impervious surface areas and land uses.

22 (2) All money raised from the charges, referred to in 23 subsection (1) of this section, shall be used for maintenance or 24 operation of the existing system, for payment of principal and 25 interest on bonds issued as is provided for in section 17-925,

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

February 28, 2002

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, NE 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

On January 15, 2002, I presented Mid-Biennium Budget Adjustments for the 2001-2003 budget biennium to address $29.8 million in various State agency requests for supplemental General Fund appropriations and to begin to address the $50 million budget imbalance remaining after the 2001 special session. My recommendations reduced this budget imbalance to $27.5 million. At that time we agreed that further budget actions should await the next official review of tax receipt forecasts by the Economic Forecasting Advisory Board on February 22, 2002.

In the meantime the Nebraska Department of Education certified TEEOSA school aid for FY03 at an amount approximately $20 million higher than the previous estimate. This certification effectively reestablished the budget imbalance at approximately $47.5 million based upon my January 15, 2002, recommendations. This last Friday, February 22, 2002, the Economic Forecasting Advisory Board lowered the estimate of net General Fund receipts for the current 2001-2003 biennium by approximately $133 million causing the budget imbalance to now exceed $180 million.

When the Economic Forecasting Advisory Board lowered receipts in October 2001 I wasted no time in advancing my recommendations to make immediate reductions to the State budget and to cause other necessary budget changes to address the projected downturn in tax receipts. The Legislature also responded diligently to this difficult fiscal situation. Today, I am promptly advancing my additional recommendations to further reduce General Fund spending and to support limited revenue measures to address this difficult fiscal situation.

I continue to believe that we must first focus our efforts on reducing General Fund spending. I am recommending an additional $78.6 million in reductions to General Fund spending for FY02 and FY03. There has been much argument that during difficult fiscal times business tax incentives should be reduced not unlike the budgets of the various State agencies. My recommendations include a recovery of business tax incentive credits used that will address $23.2 million of our budget imbalance during FY02 and FY03. I have also indicated my support for a fifty cent increase in the cigarette tax which provides $43.2 million in FY03. An annual allocation of $7.0 million for smoking prevention and control and $5.0 million for children's health care should be made from these funds beginning in FY04. I am also recommending additional transfers of cash fund balances to the General Fund of $13.1 million and a temporary cash reserve fund transfer. My recommendations eliminate the budget imbalance and provide for an ending biennial balance $1.0 million greater than the minimum reserve requirement.

In January I encouraged the Legislature to focus on the many significant policy matters requiring your attention. These past thirty days you have in fact addressed serious policy issues. I applaud your efforts. These next thirty days you will focus much of your attention to the resolution of the budget difficulties that result from the slowing of economic growth and the demand to finance a growing government.

I remain opposed to an increase in the sales and income tax rates. Today our citizenry continues to be challenged by our recent difficult economic conditions and we must continue to focus first on budget actions that avoid a demand by State government for more of their personal resources.

I understand the difficult work ahead for the Legislature, and as always, remain available to work with you to resolve this important fiscal challenge.

Sincerely,
(Signed) Mike Johanns
Governor

- 3 "Section 1. The Legislature declares that:
- 4 (1) In order to protect the watercourses and bodies of
- 5 water of the state, under requirements and mandates of state and
- 6 federal law relating to storm water management programs, and to
- 7 meet local storm water needs, certain municipalities, counties, and
- 8 natural resources districts are responsible to develop and
- 9 implement storm water management programs; and
- 10 (2) The costs to implement storm water management
- 11 programs are significant, current funding sources and methods may
- 12 be inadequate, and authority is necessary to develop a system of
- 13 charges which may be imposed to carry out the storm water
- 14 management programs. Charges collected shall be used only for
- 15 storm water management programs.

- 23 surface area.
- 24 Sec. 5. Municipality means any city of the first class

- 11 Sec. 8. Each municipality may, by ordinance of its
- 12 governing body, establish storm water management programs in any
- 13 area within its corporate limits and within its zoning
- 14 jurisdiction. For the purpose of funding capital improvements and
- 15 paying the operational costs of storm water management programs,
- 16 the municipality may establish a system of charges against all land
- 17 within such areas including, with the consent of the governing body
- 18 of a county, any area within such municipality's zoning
- 19 jurisdiction, to be paid for storm water management programs as
- 20 authorized by sections 18-503 and 18-509. The system of charges to
- 21 be paid for storm water management programs shall be as established

7 within the district. For the purpose of funding capital

16 terms as the board of directors may determine reasonable. Such 17 charges shall be proportionate to the storm water contribution and 18 based upon sound engineering principles and may include factors
19 such as impervious surface area and land uses. Such charges shall 20 be collected in the same manner as district property taxes, or in 21 such other manner as determined appropriate by the board of

13 such other manner as determined appropriate by the county board, 14 and shall not be deemed to constitute special benefit assessments.
15 Such resolution shall provide for an appeals process for aggrieved 16 parties.
17 Sec. 11. The plan and budget for the operational costs
18 and capital improvements that comprise a storm water management

19 program shall be prepared on an annual basis. Each municipality, 20 county, and natural resources district shall hold a public hearing
21 prior to: (1) Approving the annual operating budget and capital
22 improvements program; (2) adopting storm water management program
23 charges; and (3) amending such charges. A municipality, county, or 24 natural resources district shall not impose storm water management 25 program charges for any period against land that is subject to 26 similar charges imposed by another such entity or by a sanitary and 27 improvement district for such period.

1 Sec. 12. The powers granted by sections 8 to 13 of this 2 act are independent of and in addition to all other grants of

4 jointly with other governmental agencies by entering into an 5 agreement pursuant to the Interlocal Cooperation Act or

12 district shall adopt procedures for exemption of agricultural and

24 that it is the public policy of this state to properly conserve, 25 protect, and utilize the water and related land resources of the 26 state, to better utilize surface waters and available
27 precipitation, to encourage ground water recharge to protect the 1 state's dwindling ground water supply, to protect the quality of 2 surface water and ground water resources, and to reduce soil

4 that it is in the public interest of this state to financially
5 assist in encouraging water and related land resource conservation 6 and protection measures on privately owned ~~agricultural,~~ 7 ~~horticultural,~~ or ~~silvicultural~~ land and that this will produce 8 long-term benefits for the general public.

9 Sec. 16. Payments may be made from the Nebraska Soil and 10 Water Conservation Fund to owners of private land which is being 11 converted to urban use for the purpose of controlling erosion and

13 for receiving any funds pursuant to this section, the landowner

14 shall agree in writing that the erosion and sediment control

18 the site is permanently stabilized. Payments made pursuant to this 19 section shall be in accordance with and conditional upon such terms
20 as are established by the commission. Such terms may be different

5 firm, or corporation whose premises are served thereby. If the 6 service charge so established is not paid when due, such sum may be 7 recovered by the municipality in a civil action, or it may be 8 certified to the tax assessor and assessed against the premises
9 served, and collected or returned in the same manner, as other
10 municipal taxes are certified, assessed, collected, and returned.
11 Charges to be paid for use of a storm sewer system shall be 12 proportionate to the storm water contribution and based upon sound
13 engineering principles and may include factors such as impervious 14 land surfaces and land uses.

15 Sec. 18. Section 18-509, Reissue Revised Statutes of 16 Nebraska, is amended to read:

LEGISLATIVE BILL 880. Placed on General File as amended.
(Standing Committee amendment, AM2989, may be found in the Bill Books. The amendment has been printed separately and is on file in the Bill Room - Room 1102.)

LEGISLATIVE BILL 1204. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendment to LB 1204:
AM2755

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and insert the following
- 2 new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. (1) State aid payments and county tax
- 4 receipts shall be adjusted to reflect transfers of property due to 5 annexation, to any dissolution of a Class I school district, and to 6 any reorganization involving one or more Class I school districts.

7 (2) This section applies whenever:

8 (a) A Class I school district dissolves or reorganizes in 9 such a manner that the parcels of property making up the Class I 10 district prior to the dissolution or reorganization which were 11 affiliated with a Class II, III, IV, or V school district do not 12 become part of the Class II, III, IV, or V school district with 13 which such parcels of property were affiliated; or

14 (b) Property within the boundaries of a Class II, III, 15 IV, V, or VI school district is transferred to another school 16 district due to a change in the school district boundaries in 17 response to annexation of the transferred property by a city or 18 village.

19 (3) To qualify for additional state aid pursuant to this 20 section, the school district from which property is being 21 transferred shall apply on a form prescribed by the State 22 Department of Education on or before August 20 preceding the first 23 school fiscal year for which the property will not be available for 24 taxation for the school district's general fund levy. For purposes 1 of this section, property is deemed transferred from the school 2 district whether the property was within the boundaries of the 3 school district or the property was affiliated with the school 4 district.

5 (4) Upon receipt of the application, the department shall 6 calculate the amount of additional state aid, if any, that the 7 local system, as defined in section 79-1003, for the applicant 8 school district would have received for such school fiscal year if 9 the adjusted valuation for the transferred property had not been 10 included in the adjusted valuation of such local system for the 11 calculation of state aid for such school fiscal year. The 12 department shall notify the applicant school district on or before 13 September 20 of such school fiscal year of the amount of additional 14 state aid, if any, the district will receive. If such high school 15 district receives a lump-sum payment pursuant to subsection (2) of 16 section 79-1022, such lump-sum payment shall be increased by the 17 amount of additional state aid. If such high school district does 18 not receive a lump-sum payment pursuant to such subsection, state 19 aid payments shall be increased by one-tenth of the amount of 20 additional state aid for each of the ten state aid payments for 21 such school fiscal year.

22 (5) An amount equal to the additional state aid 23 calculated pursuant to subsection (4) of this section for the local 24 system of an applicant school district shall be attributed to the 25 local systems receiving valuation in such transfer based upon the 26 ratio of the adjusted valuation received by each local system 1 divided by the total adjusted valuation transferred from the 2 applicant school district. The state aid payments shall be reduced 3 for the high school district of each receiving local system. If 3 such high school district receives a lump-sum payment pursuant to 4 subsection (2) of section 79-1022, such lump-sum payment shall be 5 reduced by the amount attributed to the receiving local system. If 6 the high school district of a receiving local system does not 7 receive a lump-sum payment pursuant to such subsection, state aid 8 payments shall be reduced by one-tenth of the amount attributed to 9 such receiving local system for each of the ten state aid payments 10 for such school fiscal year. If the total reduction is greater 11 than the total state aid payments for such school fiscal year, the 12 remainder shall be transferred from the general fund levy proceeds 13 of such high school district to the applicant school district by 14 the county treasurer of the county in which the high school 15 building having the largest average daily membership of the 16 receiving local system is located. On or before September 20 of 17 such school fiscal year, the department shall notify the high 18 school district of the receiving local system of the amount of the 19 reduction in state aid and of any amount of general fund levy 20 proceeds that will be transferred to the applicant school district.

21 On or before such date, the department shall also direct the county 22 treasurer of the county in which such high school building is 23 located to withhold the amount of general fund levy proceeds that 24 will be transferred to the applicant school district and to 25 transfer such amount to the applicant school district on or before 26 January 1 of such school fiscal year. The county treasurers shall 27 withhold such amount and transfer the funds on or before such date.
1 If such amount is not available to be transferred on January 1, the 2 county treasurers shall continue to withhold the general fund levy 3 proceeds of such high school district of the receiving local system 4 until such amount has been transferred.

5 (6) For the purposes of the final calculation of state 6 aid pursuant to section 79-1065, the adjusted valuation of the 7 property that was transferred shall also be transferred for 8 purposes of adjusted valuation for the final calculation of state 9 aid. For determining adjustments in state aid pursuant to section 10 79-1065, the final calculation of state aid shall be compared to 11 the state aid certified for such school fiscal year combined with 12 any adjustments in state aid payments and transfers from other 13 districts pursuant to this section.

14 Sec. 2. Section 79-475, Reissue Revised Statutes of 15 Nebraska, is amended to read:

16 79-475. Whenever an existing school district, or a part 17 thereof, is merged into a Class III or IV school district under the 18 provisions of section 79-407, 79-408, or 79-473, such merger shall 19 be effective on June 1 of the year following the first full school 20 year after such merger.

21 Sec. 3. Section 79-1008.01, Revised Statutes Supplement,
22 2001, is amended to read:

23 79-1008.01. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of 24 this section and sections 79-1008.02 to 79-1010, each local system

25 shall receive equalization aid in the amount that the total formula 26 need of each local system, as determined pursuant to sections 27 79-1007.01 and 79-1007.02, exceeds its total formula resources as 1 determined pursuant to sections 79-1015.01 to 79-1018.01.

2 (2) Except as provided in section 79-1008.02, a local 3 system shall not receive state aid for any school fiscal year which 4 is less than an amount equal to the difference of eighty-five 5 percent of the amount of aid certified in the preceding school 6 fiscal year minus an amount equal to any increase in the adjusted 7 valuation between the adjusted valuation used for the certification 8 of aid in the preceding school fiscal year and the adjusted 9 valuation used for the aid being calculated multiplied by the 10 maximum levy, for the school fiscal year for which aid is being 11 certified, pursuant to subdivision (2)(a) of section 77-3442 12 without a vote pursuant to section 77-3444.

13 (3) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, 14 no local system may receive equalization aid such that, when total 15 aid is added to a levy of one dollar for state aid to be 16 distributed in school fiscal years 1998-99 and 1999-00 or of ninety 17 cents for state aid to be distributed in school fiscal year 2000-01 18 and each school fiscal year thereafter, multiplied by the local 19 system's adjusted valuation divided by one hundred, would result in 20 total local system revenue from state aid plus property tax 21 receipts which exceeds the total of:

22 (a) State aid plus The sum of state aid, receipts from 23 other school districts related to annexation or pursuant to section 24 1 of this act, and property tax receipts received by the local 25 system during the preceding school fiscal year multiplied by the 26 total of (i) 1.01 plus (ii) the applicable allowable growth rate 27 for the local system calculated pursuant to section 79-1026 as 1 determined for the school fiscal year immediately preceding the 2 school fiscal year when aid is to be distributed plus (iii) the 3 percentage growth in formula students from the certification of 4 state aid for the immediately preceding school fiscal year to the 5 formula students for the certification of state aid for the current 6 school fiscal year, except that the percentage growth shall not be 7 less than zero;

8 (b) Unused budget authority authorized pursuant to 9 section 79-1030;

10 (c) The difference between the other actual receipts 11 included in local system formula resources for the certification of 12 state aid in the preceding school fiscal year and other actual 13 receipts included in local system formula resources for the 14 certification of state aid for the current school fiscal year, 15 except that such difference shall not be less than zero; and 16 (d) The absolute value of any negative prior year 17 adjustment pursuant to section 79-1065.

18 For local systems that have reorganized, state aid, 19 property tax receipts, and number of formula students shall be 20 attributed based on valuation. The revenue from property tax 21 receipts shall be calculated by multiplying the reported general 22 fund common levy by the assessed valuation subject to the levy 23 divided by one hundred.

24 (4) The aid that is not distributed through equalization 25 based on subsection (3) of this section shall be distributed 26 through this subsection. Local systems qualify for distribution 27 under this subsection if they have nine hundred or less formula 1 students and adjusted general fund operating expenditures per 2 formula student less than the average for all local systems with 3 nine hundred or less formula students. The aid shall be 4 distributed proportionally to qualifying districts based on the 5 dollar amount each local system's calculated state aid plus the 6 product of a levy of one dollar and ten cents for school fiscal 7 years 1998-99 and 1999-00 and of one dollar for school fiscal year 8 2000-01 and each school fiscal year thereafter multiplied by the 9 assessed valuation divided by one hundred is below ninety percent 10 of state aid plus property tax receipts received by the local 11 system during the preceding school fiscal year. No system shall 12 receive aid pursuant to this subsection such that the calculated 13 state aid plus the product of a levy of one dollar and ten cents 14 for school fiscal years 1998-99 and 1999-00 and of one dollar for 15 school fiscal year 2000-01 and each school fiscal year thereafter 16 multiplied by the assessed valuation divided by one hundred is 17 ninety percent or more of state aid plus property tax receipts 18 received by the local system during the preceding school fiscal 19 year. Any aid available for distribution pursuant to this 20 subsection that is not distributed pursuant to this subsection 21 shall be distributed as equalization aid.

22 Sec. 4. Section 79-1018.01, Revised Statutes Supplement,
23 2001, is amended to read:

24 79-1018.01. Local system formula resources include other 25 actual receipts available for the funding of general fund operating 26 expenditures as determined by the department for the second school 27 fiscal year immediately preceding the school fiscal year in which 1 aid is to be paid, except that receipts from the Community
2 Improvements Cash Fund, receipts acquired pursuant to the Low-Level 3 Radioactive Waste Disposal Act, receipts from other school 4 districts pursuant to section 1 of this act, and, beginning with 5 the calculation of state aid to be distributed in school fiscal 14 converted contracts;

- 15 (4) Transportation receipts;
16 (5) Interest on investments;
17 (6) Other miscellaneous noncategorical local receipts,

21 received pursuant to section 9-812;
22 (8) Special education receipts and non-special education 23 receipts from the state for wards of the court and wards of the 24 state;
25 (9) All receipts from the temporary school fund.
26 Beginning with the calculation of aid for school fiscal year 27 2002-03 and each school fiscal year thereafter, receipts from the 1 temporary school fund shall only include receipts pursuant to 2 section 79-1035 and the receipt of funds pursuant to section 3 79-1036 for property leased for a public purpose as set forth in 4 subdivision (1)(a) of section 77-202;
5 (10) Motor vehicle tax receipts received on or after 6 January 1, 1998;

11 which have actually been received by the district to the extent 12 allowed by federal law;
13 (14) All other noncategorical federal receipts;
14 (15) All receipts pursuant to the enrollment option 15 program under sections 79-232 to 79-246;

18 authorized pursuant to sections 43-2510 and 43-2511 but only to the 19 extent of the amount the local system would have otherwise received 20 pursuant to the Special Education Act; and 21 (17) Receipts for accelerated or differentiated 22 curriculum programs pursuant to sections 79-1106 to 79-1108.03.
23 Sec. 5. If any section in this act or any part of any
