2 section 27-902, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, and section
3 27-803, Revised Statutes Cumulative Supplement, 2022; to change 4 provisions relating to the business records hearsay exception and 5 provide additional self-authenticating items of evidence; and to 6 repeal the original sections.

7 Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska,

1 Section 1. Section 27-803, Revised Statutes Cumulative Supplement, 2 2022, is amended to read:

3 27-803 Subject to the provisions of section 27-403, the following 4 are not excluded by the hearsay rule, even though the declarant is 5 available as a witness:

6 (1) A statement describing or explaining an event or condition, made 7 while or immediately after the declarant perceived it;

8 (2) A statement relating to a startling event or condition made 9 while the declarant was under the stress of excitement caused by the 10 event or condition;

11 (3) A statement of the declarant's then existing state of mind, 12 emotion, sensation, or physical condition (such as intent, plan, motive, 13 design, mental feeling, pain, and bodily health), but not including a 14 statement of memory or belief to prove the fact remembered or believed 15 unless it relates to the execution, revocation, identification, or terms 16 of declarant's will;

17 (4) Statements made for purposes of medical diagnosis or treatment 18 and describing medical history, or past or present symptoms, pain, or 19 sensations, or the inception or general character of the cause or 20 external source thereof insofar as reasonably pertinent to diagnosis or 21 treatment;

22 (5) A memorandum or record concerning a matter about which a witness 23 once had knowledge but now has insufficient recollection to enable him or 24 her to testify fully and accurately, shown to have been made or adopted 25 by the witness when the matter was fresh in his or her memory and to 26 reflect that knowledge correctly. If admitted, the memorandum or record 27 may be read into evidence but may not itself be received as an exhibit 28 unless offered by an adverse party;

29 (6)(a) A memorandum, report, record, or data compilation, in any 30 form, of acts, events, or conditions, other than opinions or diagnoses, 31 made at or near the time of such acts, events, or conditions, in the 1 course of a regularly conducted activity, if it was the regular course of 2 such activity to make such memorandum, report, record, or data

3 compilation at the time of such act, event, or condition, or within a 4 reasonable time thereafter, as shown by the testimony of the custodian or 5 other qualified witness or by a certification that complies with 6 subdivision (11) or (12) of section 27-902 or with a statute permitting 7 certification, unless the source of information or method or 8 circumstances of preparation indicate lack of trustworthiness. The 9 circumstances of the making of such memorandum, report, record, or data 10 compilation, including lack of personal knowledge by the entrant or 11 maker, may be shown to affect its weight.

12 (b) A memorandum, report, record, or data compilation, in any form, 13 of acts, events, or conditions, other than opinions or diagnoses, that 14 was received or acquired in the regular course of business by an entity 15 from another entity and has been incorporated into and kept in the 16 regular course of business of the receiving or acquiring entity; that the 17 receiving or acquiring entity typically relies upon the accuracy of the 18 contents of the memorandum, report, record, or data compilation; and that 19 the circumstances otherwise indicate the trustworthiness of the 20 memorandum, report, record, or data compilation, as shown by the 21 testimony of the custodian or other qualified witness. Subdivision (6)(b) 22 of this section shall not apply in any criminal proceeding;

23 (7) Evidence that a matter is not included in the memoranda, 24 reports, records, or data compilations, in any form, kept in accordance 25 with the provisions of subdivision (6) of this section to prove the 26 nonoccurrence or nonexistence of the matter, if the matter was of a kind 27 of which a memorandum, report, record, or data compilation was regularly 28 made and preserved, unless the sources of information or other 29 circumstances indicate a lack of trustworthiness;

30 (8) Upon reasonable notice to the opposing party prior to trial, 31 records, reports, statements, or data compilations made by a public

1 official or agency of facts required to be observed and recorded pursuant 2 to a duty imposed by law, unless the sources of information or the method 3 or circumstances of the investigation are shown by the opposing party to 4 indicate a lack of trustworthiness;

5 (9) Records or data compilations, in any form, of births, fetal
6 deaths, deaths, or marriages, if the report thereof was made to a public 7 office pursuant to requirements of law;

8 (10) To prove the absence of a record, report, statement, or data 9 compilation, in any form, or the nonoccurrence or nonexistence of a 10 matter of which a record, report, statement, or data compilation, in any 11 form, was regularly made and preserved by a public office or agency, 12 evidence in the form of a certification in accordance with section 13 27-902, or testimony, that diligent search failed to disclose the record, 14 report, statement, or data compilation or entry;

15 (11) Statements of births, marriages, divorces, deaths, legitimacy,
16 ancestry, relationship by blood or marriage, or other similar facts of 17 personal or family history, contained in a regularly kept record of a 18 religious organization;

19 (12) Statements of fact contained in a certificate that the maker
20 performed a marriage or other ceremony or administered a sacrament, made 21 by a member of the clergy, public official, or other person authorized by 22 the rules or practices of a religious organization or by law to perform 23 the act certified, and purporting to have been issued at the time of the 24 act or within a reasonable time thereafter;

25 (13) Statements of births, marriages, divorces, deaths, legitimacy,
26 ancestry, relationship by blood or marriage, or other similar facts of 27 personal or family history contained in family Bibles, genealogies, 28 charts, engravings on rings, inscriptions on family portraits, engravings 29 on urns, crypts, or tombstones or the like;

30 (14) The record of a document purporting to establish or affect an 31 interest in property, as proof of the content of the original recorded

1 document and its execution and delivery by each person by whom it
2 purports to have been executed, if the record is a record of a public 3 office and an applicable statute authorized the recording of documents of 4 that kind in that office;

5 (15) A statement contained in a document purporting to establish or 6 affect an interest in property if the matter stated was relevant to the 7 purpose of the document, unless dealings with the property since the 8 document was made have been inconsistent with the truth of the statement 9 or the purport of the document;

10 (16) Statements in a document in existence thirty years or more 11 whose authenticity is established;

12 (17) Market quotations, tabulations, lists, directories, or other 13 published compilations, generally used and relied upon by the public or 14 by persons in particular occupations;

15 (18) Statements contained in published treatises, periodicals, or 16 pamphlets on a subject of history, medicine, or other science or art, 17 established as a reliable authority by the testimony or admission of the 18 witness or by other expert testimony or by judicial notice, to the extent 19 called to the attention of an expert witness upon cross-examination or 20 relied upon by the expert witness in direct examination. If admitted, the 21 statements may be read into evidence but may not be received as exhibits;

22 (19) Reputation among members of his or her family by blood, 23 adoption, or marriage, or among his or her associates, or in the 24 community, concerning a person's birth, adoption, marriage, divorce, 25 death, legitimacy, relationship by blood, adoption, or marriage, 26 ancestry, or other similar fact of his or her personal or family history;

27 (20) Reputation in a community, arising before the controversy, as 28 to boundaries of or customs affecting lands in the community, and 29 reputation as to events of general history important to the community or 30 state or nation in which located;

31 (21) Reputation of a person's character among his or her associates

1 or in the community;

2 (22) Evidence of a final judgment, entered after a trial or upon a
3 plea of guilty (but not upon a plea of nolo contendere), adjudging a 4 person guilty of a crime punishable by death or imprisonment in excess of 5 one year, to prove any fact essential to sustain the judgment, but not 6 including, when offered by the government in a criminal prosecution for 7 purposes other than impeachment, judgments against a person other than 8 the accused. The pendency of an appeal may be shown but does not affect 9 admissibility;

10 (23) Judgments as proof of matters of personal, family, or general 11 history, or boundaries, essential to the judgment, if the same would be 12 provable by evidence of reputation; and

13 (24) A statement not specifically covered by any of the foregoing 14 exceptions but having equivalent circumstantial guarantees of 15 trustworthiness, if the court determines that (a) the statement is 16 offered as evidence of a material fact, (b) the statement is more 17 probative on the point for which it is offered than any other evidence 18 which the proponent can procure through reasonable efforts, and (c) the 19 general purposes of these rules and the interests of justice will best be 20 served by admission of the statement into evidence. A statement may not 21 be admitted under this exception unless the proponent of it makes known 22 to the adverse party, sufficiently in advance of the trial or hearing to 23 provide the adverse party with a fair opportunity to prepare to meet it, 24 his or her intention to offer the statement and the particulars of it, 25 including the name and address of the declarant.

26 Sec. 2. Section 27-902, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, is 29 to admissibility is not required with respect to the following:

24 authenticity and accuracy of official documents, the judge may, for good

26 without final certification or permit them to be evidenced by an attested 27 summary with or without final certification;
