WILLIAMS: Good morning, ladies and gentlemen, and welcome to the George W. Norris Legislative Chamber for the eighth day of the One Hundred Seventh Legislature, First Session. Our chaplain for today is Senator McCollister. Please rise.

McCOLLISTER: Next Monday, we'll celebrate the birthday of Martin Luther King Jr. as a federal and state holiday. However, the actual birthday of Martin Luther King is today, January 15. So we will celebrate and acknowledge his life today. We know him as a man who championed for equality and unification. My favorite quote from this great man is, the arc of this moral universe is long, but it bends toward justice. Using his words, let us pray. Eternal God out of whose mind came this great cosmic universe, we bless you, help us seek, which is-- always help us seek that which is good, noble and high. Help us in the moment of difficult decisions when the problems of the world are gigantic in extent and chaotic in detail. Be with us in our going out, in our coming in, in our rising up, in our lying down, in our moments of joy and our moments of sorrow until the day when there shall be no sunset-- set and no dawn. Amen.

WILLIAMS: Thank you, Senator McCollister. I call to order the eighth day of the One Hundred Seventh Legislature, First Session. Senators, please record your presence. Roll call. Mr. Clerk, please record.

ASSISTANT CLERK: There's a quorum present, Mr. President.

WILLIAMS: Thank you, Mr. Clerk. Are there any corrections for the Journal?

ASSISTANT CLERK: No corrections this morning.

WILLIAMS: Thank you. Are there any messages, reports or announcements?

ASSISTANT CLERK: There are, Mr. President. Referencing report from the Referencing Committee: LB314 through LB378, as well as LR18CA, LR20CA and LR21CA have been referenced. Agency reports electronically filed with the Legislature can be found on the Nebraska Legislature's website. Lobby registration report as required by statute. Additionally, the Revenue Committee has selected Senator Brett Lindstrom to be its Vice Chair. And Senator Grag-- Senator Gragert would designate LB387 as his personal priority. That's all I have this morning, Mr. President.

WILLIAMS: Thank you, Mr. Clerk. Speaker Hilgers, you're recognized.

HILGERS: Thank you, Mr. President. Good morning, colleagues. I have a few Friday announcements for you this morning. There's a very important announcement that I'm going to make at the beginning of this, and I'm going to provide a little bit of context for this decision for you first. So as we all know, we're in the middle of a pandemic. That pandemic has caused businesses, industries, families to adjust and make adjustments. The Legislature as a body is not immune to that. As you can see with the plexiglass, we've made accommodations here for the coronavirus and to be able to operate in a safe manner. As Speaker, one of my primary goals is to ensure as much as possible that we continue with our work. That's a question I've received from a number of different people. Will we suspend? Will we not? I think it's very important for us to continue if we can. There's a lot of reasons for that. One of which I think is I think it's bad for the body if we're in this suspended animation that we had last summer. And I also think as a coequal branch of government, one in which all the voices of Nebraskans are funneled through, unlike any other body of government here in Nebraska, it's very important for us to be on the field, in my opinion, in the middle of a pandemic and make sure our constituents' voices are heard. But if you think about over the next two months, we're in January and February, most likely, these are the two worst months for spread of the virus in Nebraska. Hopefully it gets better as the vaccine starts to spread and as we get into warmer months. But these next two months are the most, I think, the two months where we might be at the highest likelihood of having to suspend. And one of the ways in which you think we might be forced to suspend is if we have a large number of senators who cannot meaningfully participate in their legislative functions. And so if you think about the primary functions that we'll be undertaking over the next couple of months, there's several of those functions which we probably can accommodate either remotely or even if we have to self-quarantine. So if you think about, you know, communicating with constituents and the lobby, we can do that via email, phone. Even committee hearings, if someone has to self-quarantine, we might be able to do that remotely. You can watch online, you can have executive sessions around senators' schedules. But the one place in which it's, it's really hard if a situation occurs is on floor debate. And there's really both sides of the coin here. One side is when we're together, if someone is infected, which we hope doesn't happen, but if someone is infected, it makes it more likely that others will be infected or have to self-quarantine. So it makes it more likely we'll have a significant, potentially a significant number of our members who cannot be here. And at the same time, floor debate, unlike the other things I mentioned, are not something that we can do remotely. It's not something we can meaningfully participate in the, in this process unless we're here on the floor. So because of those considerations, I've made the decision to, instead of starting with our traditional process of floor debate in the morning on January 25th and committee hearings in the afternoon, we are going to start with all day floor debate-- I'm sorry, all day committee hearings with a 9:30 morning session on the 25th and a 1:30 afternoon session starting that day. Now, I want to be very-- I want to tell the body that this is a very difficult decision and one that a lot of work went into. We spent weeks thinking about this, working with the Speaker's Office, the staff in the Speaker's Office, the Clerk's Office. I've socialized this and talked to the standing committee chairs about this decision. We've thought through the logistics, we've thought through the pros and the cons, and we've done our very best to make a balanced decision. Now, I want to be very clear that there's another very important consideration to this, which is public health and safety. And as we all know, and I know you all share that the, the idea that we-- that there are public hearings and keeping the public safe are important function of what we do. We know the committee process is critical. And I wouldn't want to make a decision that might make it a little bit less likely that we would have to suspend while also making it much more likely that we would put the public at risk. So in making this decision, we've also thought through two other sets of measures. One set of measures is measures that will allow the public to have other means of providing their input to us in the committee process. Now, we've walked through those, those different mechanisms with the standing committee chairs. We will be finalizing those on Tuesday when we have our meeting. And I will be able to disseminate that to the body then. But we, we have thought through other ways that the public can communicate to us if they don't feel safe coming down here. The second set of measures are our safety and procedures for the committee hearings themselves. We spent a lot of time thinking through those procedures, working with the Lancaster County Health and other authorities, working with the standing committees. We have another meeting again on Tuesday where we'll be finalizing those. We will announce those as well to the body. So we think we've got a balanced approach that will both take into account the need for us to be here, but also taking into account the needs of the public. And it was a difficult decision, but I think ultimately it will be the right one for us. We'll have those announcements next week. I do want to thank in particular and personally thank the committee staff in particular who have helped in this. We, we've spoken to a number of clerks, especially the high-volume committees, to get their insights and thoughts. We've gotten their feedback. I want to I want to thank the legislative I.T. staff who have helped us with some electronic means to allow constituents to communicate with us in I think an expanded way. And I know that this is going to be different, change is a little bit hard. I think it's dictated by these circumstances. But I really want to thank them for their work now and also their work executing this, because I know it's going to be a little bit different. I do think it will balance out in the back half of the session for people. So I do think ultimately it will work out better. If you have any questions about this, many of you might. I know this is something that has been socialized with the chairs and so hopefully there's been some discussion among with some of you. Please come and talk to me or Laurie in my office. I'm happy to answer any of the questions that you might have. A couple of other announcements that are, maybe are important, but maybe not as important for next week. Just the schedule. I've sent out the schedule last Friday on the 8th. And so you have a memo. I'm not going to go through all the times and what we're going to do next week. That hasn't changed except for one thing. Next Wednesday, I had originally scheduled the rules debate. That is now going to be Thursday. I do anticipate the Rules Committee will kick out the rules package today. That will get read across, the body will have those rules proposals. But instead of having the debate starting on Wednesday, we're going to have that start on Thursday. The rest of the start times and anticipated adjournment times have not changed. In addition, on bill introduction, some members have asked me or have asked or expressed a desire to wrap up their bill introduction by Tuesday. If you want to ensure that you have your three part prior to adjournment on Tuesday, please make sure you request it to the Revisor's Office no later than 5:00 on Monday. You can do that by phone or email. If you haven't heard from them, I'd recommend that you follow up by phone to make sure they have your request and have properly put it in the queue. One food policy modification, we've had some questions about this. We're asking people not to bring unsolicited food items, but we had a question about, you know, if there's food items that people are aware of and agree to. And if that's the case, if you know that there's, it's part of an event, someone's distributing food and you're OK with that and you have notice, that's not a problem. We're trying to, we're trying to, we're trying to really get away from the unsolicited stuff. Last thing is, this just a big picture point. I know when, when I'm speaking of these announcements, I try not to be too long. But believe it or not, I'm only hitting the highlights of some of the things that I'm trying to announce. We do have a-- every time I do one of these announcements, we'll have a pretty fulsome memo that goes into more detail and reasoning, especially on things like the public hearing announcement I just made. There's a lot more to that that I put in the memo. So we've had some people who have reached out and asked questions about some of these floor announcements. And many of those questions can be answered by looking at the memo. So the memo is not, I'm just not reading the memo. So there's more information in those memos. So I'd encourage you all to make sure that you read those. And but obviously, if you have questions beyond that, please let me know. I hope everyone had a safe drive in this morning. I do appreciate those for being here today. I understand that there's probably going to be a few cancelations today on some of the other public business that we had in anticipation potentially of some bad afternoon driving conditions. So I hope everyone has a very safe drive home, has a very wonderful long weekend, holiday weekend. As Senator McCollister noted, Martin Luther King holiday this weekend. Enjoy some time with your family. It's been a great first week here and I appreciate everything. So thank you very much. Thank you, Mr. President.

WILLIAMS: Thank you, Speaker Hilgers. Senator Hughes, you're recognized.

HUGHES: Thank you, Mr. President. Good morning, colleagues. One last reminder that the special committee assignment requests are due in my office by noon today. I have a list of everybody who's requested it at this point. And I appreciate your willingness to serve, take on additional duties. But I just want to make sure everybody has one last reminder that the special committee assignments are due in my office today by noon. So thank you, everybody. Have a good weekend.

WILLIAMS: Thank you, Senator Hughes. Senator Arch, you're recognized.

ARCH: Thank you. I just wanted to let the body know that the briefing the Health and Human Services Committee has scheduled for this afternoon with the Department of Health and Human Services and St. Francis Ministries has been postponed due to road conditions for those who would need to travel to and from Lincoln. It will be rescheduled for next Friday at 1:30 and we will send out an announcement to that effect. Thank you.

WILLIAMS: Thank you, Senator Arch. Mr. Clerk.

WILLIAMS: Speaker Hilgers, you're recognized.

HILGERS: Thank you, Mr. President. Good morning again, colleagues. We're about to, we're about to adjourn and I just wanted to make a note. I forgot to make this note this morning. You probably saw on the agenda, the final agenda item is adjourn to the call of the Speaker. For those of you who were here last year, you might remember, it's sort of a unique adjournment motion. It essentially gives us a little bit of flexibility next week with the events around the country. If we needed to not be here, as I said this morning, I anticipate we'll be here Tuesday morning. But if you are paying attention and listening to this motion that's going to come and you were wondering why it is the way that we're doing it, that is, that is the explanation. There is an email that will be coming out this morning or early afternoon. So please watch your email inbox for that. Thank you, Mr. President.

WILLIAMS: Mr. Clerk.
