Measurements Regarding Nebraska Innovation Campus
Reporting Year 2023

(Submitted by December 1 of each year)

Nebraska Innovation Campus Description

Nebraska Innovation Campus (NIC) is connecting the talents of experts, companies and the university to create a unique culture of innovation. NIC facilitates new and in-depth partnerships between the University of Nebraska and private-sector businesses. NIC is adjacent to the University of Nebraska–Lincoln and strategically provides access to research faculty, facilities and students. For more information about campus facilities, leasing opportunities, events and programs, please visit INNOVATE.UNL.EDU.

Preeta Bansal

Current Business Involvement

Preeta Bansal is an investor, business advisor, community volunteer, and “boomeranger” to Nebraska.

Her present work relates to working with businesses and nonprofits to empower communities and human networks, using ancient wisdom tools and new technologies – drawing upon network science, quantum physics and new understandings in neuroscience and biology – to amplify small shifts in behavior and consciousness.

Past Business Involvement

After growing up in Lincoln in the 1970s and going through Lincoln Public Schools for her K-12 education, Preeta had a high-profile career for 35 years in the public and private sectors. Among her public roles, she served as general counsel and senior policy advisor in the White House (Office of Management and Budget) where she helped craft and implement policies to address the financial recovery and stimulus beginning in 2009; as Solicitor General of the State of New York, where she argued cases in the United States Supreme Court and other appellate courts for the State; as a U.S diplomat and chair of the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom, a bipartisan federal human rights commission (in which capacity she advised on the drafting of the constitutions of Iraq and Afghanistan); and law clerk to U.S. Supreme Court Justice John Paul Stevens. In the private sector, she served as a global general counsel for HSBC Holdings, plc in London, one of the world’s largest banks, and partner and practice chair of leading international law firm Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP in New York City.

She has lectured at MIT, Harvard, and Singularity University in Silicon Valley on topics relating to technology, innovation, and disrupted governance of public and private institutions.

Community Involvement

Preeta is a Henry Crown Fellow at the Aspen Institute, a life member of the Council on Foreign Relations, an independent corporate director of Nelnet, Inc. (NYSE: NNI), Chair of Civic Nebraska, and a member of many other nonprofit boards and advisory councils – including being a board member of the Lincoln Community Foundation and the Community Health Endowment. At the University, she is a member of the advisory councils for UNL’s Johnny Carson Center for Emerging Media Arts and the Jeffrey S. Raikes School for Computer Science and Management, and for UNMC. She has recently been a Lecturer at the MIT Media Lab and a Senior Advisor at MIT’s Laboratory for Social Machines.

Education

A graduate of Lincoln East High School, Preeta attended Harvard-Radcliffe College and Harvard Law School in the 1980s. She received the National Organization of Women’s “Woman of Power and Influence Award” in 2006 and was named one of the “50 Most Influential Minority Lawyers in America” by the National Law Journal in 2008.
