PART 7: THE CUSTOMIZED JOB TRAINING PROGRAM

Given the rapid pace of technological innovation, the most adaptable companies are best positioned to succeed. The Customized Job Training (CJT) Program provides funds to help businesses in Nebraska train their employees in the use of new equipment and technologies. By helping to develop a highly skilled, tech-savvy workforce, DED is keeping Nebraska on the leading edge of technological change.

CJT grants provide financial assistance for employee training initiatives that create or retain quality jobs in Nebraska. The program gives preference to projects resulting in increased investment and employment in the state. Eligible activities within the CJT program include on-the-job training, classroom instruction, educational costs such as tuition and fees, and costs of training materials.

CJT awards must be used to train full-time, permanent, in-state employees who are not involved in administrative support, management, or facility maintenance. Businesses have one to three years to complete training for employees under CJT. All CJT grant recipients must maintain their employee baseline as of the time of application for at least two years.
