

February 7, 1973

to respect of mine unless they decide to do so. In certain parts of the country like the South, they have decided not to do so. So, in using a stratagem, Congress has said that if I'm willing to consent to consider myself like a commodity in Interstate Commerce, like a hog or a cow or a pig or a chicken that's moving from one state to the other, then there are certain rights of mine which must be

(End of Belt # 4)