

February 20, 1973

not to convene and so people wanted to go home, and on February 9th, I mean March 9th, I'm hoping to have another retirement committee meeting, and I'm afraid the same thing would happen again, as you know the retirement committee is not a regular standing committee, we don't have regular hour, and we were up last night to 11:00 at a meeting from 7:30 until 11:00 at night, attempting to accomplish this business and I just feel that if we disband Friday that the committee men would like to go home and we won't have enough here on a Friday afternoon to conduct our business.

SPEAKER: Senator Dickinson.

SENATOR DICKINSON: Mr. Speaker and members of the body, I just want to concur with the opponents of this, I think Senator Carpenter's idea yesterday, he mentioned doing this in time so that committee Chairmen could reschedule their hearings if they have some on Friday afternoons, now the committees I'm serving on seem to be getting way behind, we need to have committee hearings every day if they are scheduled and to ask that we not be credited for legislative days, so to speak, and come back down here on Friday afternoon for committee if we do have work to do that can be done on Friday mornings in session, it doesn't seem quite fair to expect to have the committee hearings in the afternoon and nothing here to do in the morning, particularly.

SPEAKER: Senator Hasebroock.
