

thousand people living on my development out here. We smell the cattle feeder. We want him moved." I want to give this cattle feeder some assurance that he will stay in business and that he won't put thousand and thousand of dollars into an enterprise that he knows...that he don't know whether he can stay in a very long time.

SENATOR CARPENTER: Well, I can agree with that, but I want to read just a short part of what you said...Senator...Congressman Thone said, "The EPA's tentative plans will require livestock and poultry operators to obtain permits only..only if they have more than a thousand steers on feedlots, 700 dairy cows, 2000 hogs, and 55,000 turkeys" Well, you've almost done away with the whole thing and I don't have any objection to that.

SENATOR KEYES: Senator Carpenter, this is what the Federal government is going to say, but I want to say that in Sarpy county we are going to give them the protection. When this EPA was put out, every farmer in the United States would have to get a permit to operate. Now, we can..the Federal government
