

March 2, 1973

SPEAKER: Senator Fowler, do you care to respond?

SENATOR FOWLER: Yes, Senator Whitney, the school...at present, there is a School of Environmental Design within the College of Engineering and the architects, School of Environmental Design is the architects, and the architects and the engineers believe that at this point these subject matters are of such a different nature and the programs are large enough that it would be more advantages

(End of Belt #11)