SENATOR SYAS: No, I don't.

SENATOR BARNETT: Then how could he kill the bill?

SENATOR SYAS: Well, I said if he did get that much support it would kill the bill because you couldn't get that much support by the time the women started writing on Final Reading and I want to hunt doves but not on this bill.

SENATOR BARNETT: Just crows?

SENATOR SYAS: Yes.

PRESIDENT: All right, Senator Proud. Passing. Senator Stammer. Now let's be a little careful. I realize this is tough to hold down the frivolity in this bill. Do your best, will you, please?

SENATOR STAMMER: Why, Senator Syas, I think perhaps this is a very commendable piece of legislation and I commend you for introducing it. I'm not completely sure I understand all of these things. In other words, you're saying we shouldn't turn turtle on the turtles and we shouldn't muscle in on the mussels and not clam up the clams, is that about it?

SENATOR SYAS: You know, you should be a poet.

SENATOR STAMMER: I sent you a copy of one of my songs. That's poetry set to music, but all kidding aside I think this is very good legislation. I commend Senator Syas for introducing it. Let's give him a helping hand and get this thing across.

PRESIDENT: All right, Senator Cavanaugh and then Senator Duis. Senator Cavanaugh.

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: I would have an amendment to this bill. On page 7, lines 24 and 25...

PRESIDENT: Page 7, say it again.

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: Page 7, line 24, strike 500 and insert 10...

PRESIDENT: Strike 500?

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: Okay, and insert 10. Line 25, strike 6 months and add 2 days.

(End of Belt #15)

(Begin Belt #16)

PRESIDENT: Would you repeat it again, for Senator Syas? I think the Clerk is getting it here.

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: All right, page 7, line 24 strike 500 and add 10.

PRESIDENT: Add 10 or insert 10?

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: Insert 10.

PRESIDENT: Thank you.

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: Then line 25 strike 6 months and add 2 days.
