

Now if you require cause to have this individual removed, and you give him a four year term and you find an individual in that office who perhaps has a personality problem or has some minor deficiencies in the way he administers, you're going to find it impossible to remove that person and it could be a very frustrating experience for all of us in state government. There, there are just a great many defects to this bill

(End of Belt #5)