doing this, Senator Barnett? I think you know who I'm talking about. We, we had a case here in Lincoln, between here and Omaha where one of our officials who has charge of our monies was killed in an accident and his blood test was taken, and it had an extremely high content of alcohol.

SENATOR BARNETT: That's right.

SENATOR NORE: I don't know whether it was Wall Street Martinis or what it was, but--

SENATOR BARNETT: That's unimportant right now.

SENATOR NORE: But--how, how did they go about to do that?

SENATOR BARNETT: Our County Attorney in Lancaster County as I understand it, has been doing this for his own benefit and for his own purposes at this time.

SENATOR NORE: And I support your raising of this bill.

SENATOR BARNETT: Thank you. I, I would hope though that we could refrain from trying to bring in unpleasantries as we discuss it.

PRESIDENT: Senator Kime. Still speaking on the motion to raise LB 66 from committee.

SENATOR KIME: Mr. President. Excuse me. I was on that committee that kicked this bill around for two or three different sessions, but our objections were there to the taking of the blood from a dead man. Who's to give consent to the taking of this blood? It can't be the man because he is dead. What about the second and the next of kin? And this will be, of course, used, they say to, for statistics, for statistics only but I believe that these, I believe that these records can be
