SENATOR SYAS: To get some information here.

PRESIDENT: All right. Go ahead. Senator Syas.

SENATOR SYAS: ..all morning. I have on my desk a photo of most corrupt administration in my history and I don't mind what people were trying to tell me here but did any of the rest of you get it? Well, anyhow, if it is just me. I wish the guy, the gutless guy that puts it on without his signature would have some courage and I don't mind reading it but he should sign his name. That's the Rules of the Legislature.

PRESIDENT: Senator Barnett, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR BARNETT: Mr. President, I asked earlier this morning for a motion. Could I take that up now before we take Select File to bracket a bill that's on General but we are suppose to hear today but I want it bracketed for the rest of the session and take it up possibly next session.

PRESIDENT: A bill on General File.

SENATOR BARNETT: Yes.

PRESIDENT: Wait until we get there. We are having a dickens of a time getting there.

SENATOR BARNETT: We may not make it.

PRESIDENT: Well, I realize that, too. We will catch you later on today when I...before we adjourn, you know, when I ask for any unfinished business, please be ready to jump up. Senator Burbach.

SENATOR BURBACH: Well, I rise to point a personal privilege. I don't know what Senator Syas is talking about.

PRESIDENT: Don't put your hand on the mike there, Senator BURBACH.

SENATOR BURBACH: Excuse me, sir.

PRESIDENT: Go ahead.

SENATOR BURBACH: But maybe he would like to read that into the record, that piece of paper that he has there. Would you Senator Syas?

PRESIDENT: All right. Let's move on to Select File here. While Senator Cavanaugh is getting ready on Select File, the chair would like to and the chair takes a great deal of pleasure in announcing that for the seventh straight year we have a group of Marysville Elementary Students from Marysville, Kansas in the audience today. They are up here in the south balcony. There are 80 Sixth Grade students and six adults and we are just delighted that our neighbors from the Sunflower State can come up here and visit us and we are pleased that you've come up to see the Unicameral Legislature in action. We certainly want to welcome you. I think we should give this group of students a hand. We are pleased to have you here today. Mr. Oscar Baker is their instructor. Mr. Baker, have you accompanied them all these years, all seven. All seven trips. Excellent. Any man that can endure seven trips like that is got to be a man of great dedication and possibly strength. All right. We are delighted to have you here today. All right. Begin with Select File. Now the chair is going to pull an end run here if we can in this respect. Senator Cavanaugh, if you are with me back there, let's begin Select File with 485 and if we think the first three are controversial then, at least, they stand and we can leave those alone but we want to move the other stuff on because we need to be working on that. So, would you begin,
