

people would have agreed to. Because I don't think the limitation really means anything. High raises are 5 to 8. Now if you want to make it to 10, what difference does it make. What we don't give out of this fund, you have to raise the bill levy. If you want to make the limitation, 10, 15, to 25 or 30%, amend it, I don't care. I'm just trying to get a bill passed to spend 20 million dollars on the local level to relieve the burden on real estate. Nobody can answer the question that is being now asked. Every school district is different. There may be some and I don't know who they are, that 8% is not enough, but I'm sure it would not crucify them if they had to cut back a little bit. Now it is true that salaries as I understand is a large part. As I recall about 80% of the over all spending of a average school budget. I, the only thing I have in mind, is I raise it high enough in order to attempt to satisfy everybody and I fine now, I haven't satisfied anybody. Now if you don't want the bill, let's veto it and forget about it, or let's pass it.

PRESIDENT: Senator Keyes. Actually we don't have anything before the body except the movement of this bill somewhere on select file.

SENATOR KEYES: Well, I'm speaking on the movement of this bill, Mr. Speaker. This 8% means that the cost of education in your school district can not go up over 8%, but if you go up 9% or 10 or 20, it is

(End of Belt #16)