I say I am glad he did it because it shows Terry what the Governor is and everybody else and then Terry told those who missed the point. But what happens with the Governor. He had been reading about the delightful individual on the national political scene, Martha Mitchell. Unknown and unheard of until she developed a technique of making late night telephone calls to people. So Jim, who had bed time stories read to him from the newspaper by Norman Otto, said now, he said, now, what can I do to get what Martha Mitchell has got. So Norman told him, well Jim, why don't you do like Martha. You lead Terry down a primrose path and tell him you will go along with his bill, then veto it, and make a telephone call and then you would be just like Martha Mitchell and sure enough, that almost happened. He vetoes the bill, he didn't tell Terry anything until he called him afterwards and let him know on the phone and he knew Terry would do the rest, which he did. So I think that Jim was unfair in this situation, but I believe that he is being true to what he is. He has shown that he has utter contempt for the legislature and there is one other thing that I want to tell you about. I have been studying this Watergate situation like all the rest of you have and I've noticed something that has emerged. To me it is interesting. Maybe psychologists can do more with it. When you find an individual in a country where the traditional way to give your name, is first name, middle initial and last name, and you find individuals given the first initial first, then the middle name and the last name you can wonder. These are some of the people connected with various administrations and especially Watergate. J. Edgar Hoover, as the one who set the pattern. E. Howard Hunt, G. Bradford Cook, G. Gordon Littey, now you know all those are criminals, then J. Fred Buzheart who is the new special council for Nixon, who is presently trying to explain Nixon's breaking and entering in cases of national security. Then on the local level, naturally we have J. James Exon. Thank-you.

PRESIDENT: Chair recognizes Senator Barnett, then Speaker Proud.

SENATOR BARNETT: Point of personal privilege, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT: State your point Senator.

SENATOR BARNETT: I for one am not going to make a speech like Senator Chambers did, because I'm not capable of it, but I would like to tell Terry something personally, in front of everybody. I personally have admired Terry Carpenter for a long time, unknown and we've had some personal doings together when I was in the fire marshall's office. I got to know him real well there and he supports a lot of fire bills throughout the State. The firemen have deep admiration for him. I personally will mark this is a great thing in my life to have been able to serve with Senator Terry Carpenter. I don't agree with him all of the time and thank God for that, but thank God, I have the privilege of serving with him, while he was in the Nebraska legislature.

PRESIDENT: Speaker Proud.

SENATOR PROUD: Point of order.

PRESIDENT: Yes sir.

SENATOR PROUD: We all have different views on this, these things. But I'll give you my point of view and I'm standing here like the rest of them. This is a waste of time of the legislature. Now I want the legislature to get on with its business right now.

PRESIDENT: Chair recognizes Senator Whitney. For what purpose did you wish to be recognized?
