Washington. He should have been the replacement for Senator Carl Curtis. Particularly when I see Senator Jackson yesterday stated that 5% of the oil that comes into this country has increased by these same companies and corporations. Senator Carpenter did well today, his feelings were hurt, and I can see why he made his talk and a very good talk he made, and he naturally got up to voice his opinions on certain things that the Governor has a right to speak on. And then we had the independent candidate, Senator Chambers, and he did a very fine job of having the third part in Nebraska, and it was a good speech which was torn down into the various parts that you should be speaking on, if you are going to run for Governor. George Norris and Senator Chambers. And then we have Senator Marvel, and he bewailed the fact that the Governor treated us as school children. And possibly there are times that the State of Nebraska thinks of us as school children. And I'm not taking us down in part each and every one of us. Because there are times when even Senator Mahoney up here has many occasions that he introduces particular legislation that makes him an ultra liberal instead of fiscal conservative that he tries to put on the act for back home. And I say that this Legislature this morning for the second time in two weeks has did what everyone of us said in the AP and the UP poll, would be a political year, and so today we have wasted an hour, but it has been a good hour, because it tells the people of Nebraska the truth. We have a Governor who is a strong Governor, who will continue to be a strong Governor, and he is not going to let this particular Legislature run ramshackle over him. And I think this is good for us. And we have strong Senators in here. And they include Senator Carpenter at the top of the list. Senator Chambers who looks at every nook and cranny. And Senator Marvel who does his very best over all these years to show that he is a true student of government. It is very possible that their feelings are going to get hurt. But this is the three branches of government. And I think that it's more and been a good exercise here today, and I think that you will have more of these sessions. I prophesied that to you. But I do say that I was going to try and run it so I could go exactly to 10:00, so I could say we had one full hour of exercising our lungs, but we still have a good strong Governor in that building of the State House.

PRESIDENT: The chair recognizes Senator Snyder. For what purpose do you rise Senator?

SENATOR SNYDER: Do you still have room for another point of personal privilege, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT: State your point, Senator.

SENATOR SNYDER: Well carrying on the issue today. Thank you sir. I have set I think somewhat quietly for the most part of my four years here as Senator Carpenter reminded you the other day. I do not intend to seek reelection to this body. But I would be more than remiss if I did not take this opportunity since we are on the subject to mention a couple of points that I feel very sure about regarding this body. And that is that it is a Legislature. I have been publically critical of the Legislature. I have been I hope criticizing in a constructive way. Talking to other members a couple of times. I think the Legislature has begun to grow up. There were I believe 14 of us who came in new four years ago, I believe another 11 or 12 2 years ago. I think the body is seeing a larger turnover in
