oppose the amendment because I think the bill ought to be killed in its original form. Now, may I ask a question about Senator Warner's amendment or do I finish this one first.

PRESIDENT: You ought to finish this one. Senator Syas.

SENATOR SYAS: This...the way I read this thing, it's really goofy. But that doesn't surprise me too much. You mean to say that if a railroad can't furnish cars that they've got to hire a truckline at their expense to haul something. Or if a truckline can't furnish a truck, they've got to pay the railroad to haul something.

PRESIDENT: That pertinent to your amendment, Senator Warner. Or is he on another amendment?

SENATOR WARNER: He's on the other amendment.

PRESIDENT: You're on the wrong amendment, Senator Syas. Let's finish this tomorrow and then we'll come back to that. Any further discussion? Senator Warner, do you want to close.....
