enough time finding the Capitol Building. They are going to have a terrible time finding the hearing rooms. I suggest to the members of this body that numbers work better. We can tell not only what floor it is on but even find out exactly where the room is by following the numbers and I don't mean to sound like I am against history. I think George Norris was a great individual. He was from my district and I would appreciate him being honored but not this way. Thank you.

SPEAKER MARVEL: Senator Haberman.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Mr. President, I have a question for Senator Newell.

SPEAKER MARVEL: Do you yield, Senator Newell?

SENATOR NEWELL: I do.

SENATOR HABERMAN: I have been trying to follow the debate. Did you give a cost to this?

SENATOR NEWELL: Before the amendment I gave a cost which was inaccurate for the statues. With the amendment I made some predictions about what the cost would be. I think that for those, whatever portraits we would have to contract, in other words, Senator Marsh suggested some people might donate and there would be no cost to that but for those that we might have to contract for, I think the cost will be less than $300 for each of those. We don't have that many hearing rooms so I don't think the cost is going to be all that significant.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Do you have any idea how many hearing rooms we have? I am trying to get some idea as to the cost of this. It might be unnecessary spending.

SENATOR NEWELL: I think that question...I think I can make a guesstimate but I think a more accurate...yes, well, the question of the hearing rooms...I think I can get an accurate count shortly. You know there may be additional hearing rooms and we may not in fact have political figures named in each and every one of them.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Senator Newell, until you can come and give us a cost on this I think I would have to say it is unnecessary spending at this time and taxes are going up and everything else and I would ask that we oppose the resolution.
