It goes on and on: Abortion Mill Bosses Cut Corners on Care. Now if my daughter or my granddaughter is having an abortion then I certainly would want to know that it is going to be done, when and where and by whom. We know now because of the Supreme Court's decision that abortion is legal but I certainly feel that a parent should be told and not with the best judgment of a fourteen or a fifteen year old child. In this article I have read articles from Michigan and New York where abortions were performed on fourteen year old children and in fifteen minutes they were out of the abortion clinic, back in school. Some of them got deathly sick at school, bleeding and vomiting. I think it is no more than right that the parent is told or the guardian. I know there are some that are going to say that there are those that have been raped or in the case of incest that these children should not have to be consulting with their parent or guardian. In the case of an incest I am sure that the father or the brother would want an abortion if the child or the minor child decides on abortion, then she will have it but at least it will be with the consultation of a parent or guardian. I object highly adding in there, "or in the best judgment of the woman". Thank you.
