

February 27, 1979

LB 316

physical or mental health, she can waive it. Now believe me, we have given this careful consideration and we are doing as much as we can to preserve the intent of the forty-eight hour waiting period, yet have a constitutional law and let me again remind you that that is our most fundamental responsibility is to pass laws that will work. Thank you for your attention.

SPEAKER MARVEL: The Chair recognizes Senator DeCamp for the purposes of closing and then after you close and we vote on this issue, what do we have, two more amendments? The Chair will, at the risk of criticism, will indicate to you that I propose to hold the discussion on these two amendments before we recess or adjourn today. Senator DeCamp.

SENATOR DeCAMP: Perfect. Mr. President, I will try to be brief but there are some important matters here. In fact, this is it. This is the most important. Senator Kelly brought up an interesting point. He said, well why don't we have a yellow light, a yellow light for the chickens. Right? For the ones that are afraid to commit either way. Well I guess then when this is all done, no matter what, I am the only one that is going to have both sides unhappy. Remember I am the golden pig. I am the one that the NOW organization says is unreasonable. I hurt the women's rights. I introduce insane pro-life abortion legislation and by golly, I am a golden pig. I admit getting a little fat but ...

SPEAKER MARVEL: Senator DeCamp, I am going to...

SENATOR DeCAMP: I'm getting to the point.

SPEAKER MARVEL: I am going to say to everybody from now on, please stick to the point.

SENATOR DeCAMP: I am. I am. I am. So, this is a pro-life piece of legislation as enunciated by that group. The amendment I am offering goes into direct contradiction to Mr. Cunningham. This is the twenty-first out of twenty-one amendments, this is the only one, where we finally could not agree, where we could not reach an understanding and as I say, I am a legislator. You are a legislator. You have listened to every single lawyer no matter which side they are on in this issue, say, hey look, if you are vulnerable, this is the place. If you are going to risk everything, this is where you are risking it. If you are going to risk your new definition which you want