

April 24, 1979

LB 87

body wants to continue to put fuel to the inflationary fires that are raging around us by allowing credit to continue to flow easily, or instead whether this body wishes to begin to restrict credit particularly in the consumer borrowing area, because that will have in the end a salutary effect on inflation.

SPEAKER MARVEL: The motion is....

SENATOR DeCAMP: Record....I would like the record to reflect that Senator DeCamp is a poor man, not a rich man as Senator Chambers stated.

SPEAKER MARVEL: The motion before the House is the....I've already ruled....is the moving of the bill back to strike the enacting clause, right?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: I know that we're on Final Reading, but some of the senators may have stepped out and I'm going to ask for a roll call vote, so could I see if some have had an opportunity to return by having us check in?

SPEAKER MARVEL: Do you want....okay. Record your presence, and then we will go to a roll call vote on the Chambers' motion to bring 87 back to Select File to strike the enacting clause. Please record your presence. All legislators please return to your seats, record your presence and prepare for roll call on LB....on a kill motion on LB 87 to strike the enacting clause technically. Senator Schmit, would you please record your presence? Senator Haberman, would you please record your presence? Senator Fitzgerald, would you please record your presence? Senator Simon, will you record your presence? Senator Hoagland, will you record your presence? Everybody's here I believe. The motion is to bring LB 87 back for the purpose of striking the enacting clause. Okay, alright. Senator Fitzgerald, will you please record your presence?

SENATOR FITZGERALD: Mr. Speaker, according to parliamentary procedure we're sitting in our seats on Final Reading and I've been sitting here all morning with some of the other senators, and I don't think it's a necessity that I have to push my green button.

SPEAKER MARVEL: Will you please record your presence, Senator Fitzgerald?

SENATOR FITZGERALD: On a ruling of the Chair?

SPEAKER MARVEL: Yes.

3806