

You guys had better wake up and realize if you want to violate the Constitution, change it. Senator Kahle said, Iowa does it. They do, indeed, do a different system because they changed their Constitution. If you want to use productivity, and I am full willing to do it, then change the Constitution...change your Constitution, but don't tell the home owner, screw you, we are in a privileged class, we are not going to have you treat us the same as other people, a hundred thousand dollars worth of our property is only worth twenty thousand, because we have a hokey formula that the Supreme Court has said is hokey and everybody else. And we can say that formula means anything we want. We have met the enemy and it is us. Equalization is screwed up because we won't address it. The cornerstone of everything is the standard of value, and you want to say, you have a special standard if you are Martin Kahle's farm, if you're Cal Carsten's farm, if you are Johnny DeCamp's farm, Loren Schmit's farm, we're special. Why? Because we don't want to pay on the same basis that everybody else does. We don't want to pay on the same basis that everybody else does. Then change the Constitution. Face up to it. Tell the people what we are doing. Telling them we take their fifty thousand or hundred thousand dollar houses and we value them at a hundred thousand and we tax them at a hundred thousand, all the homeowners, we do them good. But if we move outside the city limits, we have got a special program, a special definition. You are going to ultimately lose unless you face up and straighten it out. If you want to change it you can put in a constitutional amendment and put a double standard...put a double standard right into the law like some other states have done. Don't do it through hypocrisy. That is what we are doing. As I say, I know I am going to lose the amendment here because there is too many that have a special interest that are not going to change. Such is life.

SPEAKER MARVEL: The motion is the....Senator Schmit, Senator DeCamp was closing. No, debate is over. The motion before the House is the adoption of the DeCamp amendment. All those in favor vote aye, opposed no. Have you all voted? Have you all voted? Senator DeCamp.

SENATOR DeCAMP: Mr. President, because this matter will come back to haunt many people in the future, I would ask for a roll call vote, Call of the House. I think it is really important as time will tell, not today but in the future.

SPEAKER MARVEL: The question is, shall the House go under
