

April 14, 1980

This Chair can only do so much, and I made the suggestion last time that when we talk about rules in this body, we can change the rules and change the rule and change the rules, but involved in all this is some thought about the other person and some thought about courtesy. Now if some of you want to proceed to stall and stall and stall today, the rules can't solve that problem. You are going to have to solve that problem within yourselves, and I realize the Chaplain has already spoken so I will stop with that. Now, Mr. Clerk. Senator Murphy, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR MURPHY: Mr. Speaker, in conjunction with your comment about the Constitutional provisions of the bill, would you also remind this body that the Constitution, not our rules, bless them, but the Constitution provides that a bill may contain not more than one subject and that you, acting as the Chair, will act immediately to arrest any attempt to circumvent that provision of the Constitution.

SPEAKER MARVEL: It says after that language that I have already read, that no bill shall contain more than one subject and the same shall be clearly expressed in the title. Senator Kelly, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR KELLY: Mr. Speaker, I am circulating some material for the desks of the members of the Legislature, and inadvertently my name was left off when it went through Quick Copy. I am using this method to state that this is from me. It is the Joe Soukup case.