

doesn't make sense to me. Peter kind of disagrees, he thinks that is evil, but, he is willing to go along with this. I'm saying that you should be able to ride in. Bernice says so too. I take the original Lowell Johnson amendment, I incorporate that in and quite frankly so there are no secrets about what we are doing here, the Lowell Johnson amendment was pushed, its sponsor said needed by the Republican party so the Governor's office can continue to function in the way they have basically in the past. I have looked it over and I agree. It is important and necessary for legislators too, so that once the election is over you don't all die, you have got to maintain certain things, your files, your records, so on and so forth so the Lowell Johnson amendment I incorporate. I also take the original language of Senator Beutler and the others and I change it some. I change it for example where they would have eliminated anybody being in a motel room which quite frankly I don't think they realize they were doing. I straightened those things out. That is about what that does there. Tries to make the laundry list more functional. The net effect all the loopholes I've always claimed existed that people like me prove, I've closed most of them up. Heck, I may close all of them up. There is one part of the bill in the existing law that I think is unconstitutional and unworkable, unreal. I don't think that Commission has any authority to tell me, Johnny DeCamp, I can or can't vote on an issue. I may have a conflict and I may know it, but that is up to me to make that decision, I don't think they are a Gestapo sitting up there saying who can vote on what. Otherwise I think they could run the Legislature. I'm eliminating that power from them. The famous Fowler incident. I tried to straighten out that. I think if somebody says you have got public information, you are required to file it, I don't think that somebody else should go to jail because they use that information. In other words, the people that use the information against me, I can sit and argue they should go to jail. The way around that was they say, well it came out first in a newspaper. Well fine, that shouldn't make a qualifying difference, if its public information, it is public information, lets eliminate the game playing on that. So I do that. I try to cut out some of the excessive forms, for example out of state disclosure forms, so on and so forth. It is going to show up in the reports where the in money is coming from. Lobbyists, people complain about lobbyists. I'm outlawing basically lobbyists being able to contribute.
