idea, has humiliated and embarrassed every man and woman that belongs to it in the State of Nebraska. For this reason, I would vote against this resolution because I think only those would be punished that certain people would want to see punished and it might even end up to be like the Nebraska Bar Association where senators would do more to protect their own than to look out for the public interest. Thank you, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT: The motion before the House is the rereferral of this proposed rule change to the Rules Committee. Senator Beutler, do you wish to speak at this time?

SENATOR BEUTLER: Mr. President, maybe I could save us some time. It is obvious that for a number of different reasons, some having to do with the substance of the matter and some having to do with other reasons, apparently the body is not in the mood to seriously consider this proposition at this point in time and so I would agree to the referral of it to the Rules Committee, but I hope that the Rules Committee will interpret the intent of the Legislature as intending to refer a live horse, not referring a dead horse for burial, and I hope that you will saddle the horse, Senator Morehead, and return it to the floor of the Legislature in short order. Thank you.

PRESIDENT: If Senator Lamb wants to withdraw his motion, then the matter will be referred to the committee. Are you going to keep the motion on the desk? Do you want to continue with your...?

SENATOR LAMB: There is no way to refer it unless we vote.

PRESIDENT: Senator Barrett, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR BARRETT: Mr. President, my intent in asking for the floor was to move the previous question, if that will help you resolve the problem and it very well might.

PRESIDENT: It won't help because you are not in speaking order. Motion stays on the desk then to rerefer the matter to the Rules Committee. Senator Landis, do you want to speak on this point? Senator Pappas. Senator Barrett. Okay, Senator Morehead. Very well, if there is no other discussion, the vote will take place on the motion to rerefer the matter to the Rules Committee. All those in
