

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator DeCamp.

SENATOR DECAMP: I...

SENATOR HABERMAN: Just yes or no.

SENATOR DECAMP: I really find it all remarkable how confused it's gotten in such a short period of time. There were committee amendments. I take part of the blame. Let me explain. There were committee amendments. I was going to get up and explain the committee amendments. You recall, I stood up, I hesitated a little. I was trying to collect my wits. At that...

SENATOR HABERMAN: Well now you are using my time to make excuses, why wasn't it there. Just answer my question.

SENATOR DECAMP: I'm going to explain where we are, if you'd listen once, that's what got us into trouble in the first place.

SENATOR HABERMAN: I asked...

SENATOR DECAMP: We were starting out, I was going to explain the committee amendments. You wanted to explain the committee amendments. You then explained the wrong amendments. So now we are on the wrong amendments. If you'd just shut up in the first place, we would not have gotten in this trouble.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator DeCamp, may I make a suggestion?

SENATOR DECAMP: Yes.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Why don't you explain the committee amendments and then explain what the proposed Conway amendment does.

SENATOR DECAMP: Extremely good idea.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Okay, thank you.

SENATOR DECAMP: Hand me the committee amendment explanation, Senator Rex. The committee amendments would provide that interest would begin to accrue from the time that the lawsuit is placed on the trial docket. Okay? That
