

is exactly what is going to happen. It became pretty clear to me that is the direction that this nation's government wants to go and I don't think that's Democrat or Republican. I think that that is the direction that they want to go is to put the control of the food production chain in the hands of large, large corporations. I think that's the ultimate goal. They don't particularly care about the family farmer in any way, shape or form and that might be what is going to happen. That might be the direction that we ultimately go, but I think it is ridiculous for the members of the Nebraska Legislature representing those folks out there to roll over and say, well, yeah, we don't want to get involved. We don't want to change the status quo. Senator DeCamp says that Dole told us there is no cap. Well, if you've got $650 million it has been there since last September and you've only used, what, only $25 million of it. It looks to me like there must be a cap of some sort. It looks to me like there must be a cap of some sort. Maybe we're attempting here to try to somewhat relieve that cap. I guess I'm really disappointed in the change of events that we've seen in this body in the last not quite two months. As we get closer and closer to planting time, as we closer and closer to the time when those folks out there that really do need some assistance and some credit or they're going to be sold out, we lose our guts. I'm not too proud of us.

PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes Senator Conway.

SENATOR CONWAY: Mr. Speaker, I'd like to call the question, please.

PRESIDENT: The question has been called. Do I see five hands? I do. the question is, shall the debate cease? All those in favor vote aye, opposed vote no. The question has been called. The question is, shall the debate cease. Please vote aye or nay. The Chair will ask for a vote in 20 seconds. The question is, shall the debate cease? Please record your vote. The question is, shall the debate cease? Please record your vote. Time is running. Time is running on the opportunity to vote. Please record your vote. Time. The Clerk will record. Senator DeCamp.

SENATOR DECAMP: (Response inaudible.)

PRESIDENT: No, we're not.