SENATOR DECAMP: I saw him in Senator Exon's office about a year ago.

SENATOR LANDIS: Ah, all right. So the last evidence that we have that this human being exists, other than on resume form, is a known sighting of a year ago.

SENATOR DECAMP: Yes.

SENATOR LANDIS: Okay, I just wanted to know before I vote. Going to cast a knowing vote here, just thought I'd want to...Thank you.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator DeCamp, the man still is alive?

SENATOR DECAMP: James Beltzer, James Beltzer. You've all heard his name. He's a very prominent individual and he was sighted, like Senator Landis said, I sighted him in Exon's office approximately a year ago when I was running for the U.S. Senate rather unsuccessfully.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Okay, time is up. Senator Conway.

SENATOR CONWAY: Mr. Speaker, members of the body, I rise in defense of Mr. James Beltzer being actively involved in the State of Nebraska. Last Thursday I sat on a task force group where he was present and was contributing very much to the process. So in defense of the process, he was there last Thursday, right here, across the street. He's been sighted within a week.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Haberman, did you wish to speak about this, or shall we go on?

SENATOR HABERMAN: Mr. President, members of the body, Senator DeCamp, what was the committee vote on this issue?

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator DeCamp, would you respond to the question.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Senator DeCamp.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator DeCamp, would you respond.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Senator DeCamp, what was the committee
