

Pappas's time.

SENATOR HABERMAN: May I ask a question of Senator Hefner, please? Senator Hefner, it says a person making frequent delivery stops without exiting from the vehicle. Well, now when you are going down the highway with a carload of children and you have to make a frequent stop, say at a rest area, and somebody has to stay in the car because you have got a little one there so the mother has to take the child in, or the children in, so, therefore, under this amendment would this not also exclude those people who have to make frequent stops at rest areas for their children, the driver?

SENATOR HEFNER: Senator Haberman, I don't believe that we have rest areas that often.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Oh, you have never...okay, thank you. You have never traveled with as many children as I have in a car or you would know where every rest area is between here and Imperial, Nebraska. I will yield the rest of my time to Senator Pappas.

PRESIDENT: Senator Pappas, four minutes.

SENATOR PAPPAS: I would like to call the question.

PRESIDENT: No...

SENATOR PAPPAS: Wait. No, no, he gave me his time. He was next.

PRESIDENT: Senator Landis, for what purpose do you...?

SENATOR LANDIS: Point of order, Mr. Speaker. As I understand it, Senator Pappas was not called on by the Chair but was recognized by Senator Haberman to fill the rest of his time. A calling of the question has to be done at the beginning of a speaker's amount of time. I don't think it is in order for Jim to call the question at this point.

PRESIDENT: I sustain that point. The next speaker on the list then is Senator Nichol. Senator Haberman, what?

SENATOR HABERMAN: Point of order. I was after Senator Pappas and he yielded me his time, now I am next on the list.
