

you vote to move it?

SENATOR HOAGLAND: Yes, sure did.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Thank you. Senator Hoagland just got up and said this amendment hasn't had a public hearing. Beings it hasn't had a public hearing, by golly, we shouldn't do anything about it. But just this morning, before lunch, he says, we got to move this banking bill amendment, and it didn't have a public hearing. So Senator Hoagland has kind of got me confused. I guess if you want to get him one way you get him in the morning, and the other, afternoon, you ask him another question. So he kind of flip-flops back and forth a little bit. That is kind of hard to understand. But maybe that is what you learn in law school, I don't know. But, Senator Hoagland, that wasn't a very good remark to make. I just wanted to call it to the attention of this body. The amendment that we took this morning, on the banking bill, was exactly the same thing as what we are doing this afternoon. I think it is all right, so I urge you to vote against my good friend and renter, Speaker Nichol.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Chambers, then Senator Hall.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: (Response inaudible.)

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Hall, do you want to go?

SENATOR HALL: I call the question.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Question has been called. Do I see five hands? I do. The question is, shall debate cease? All those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Record, Mr. Clerk, please.

CLERK: 25 ayes, 0 nays to cease debate, Mr. President.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Debate is ceased. Let's see, Senator Chambers, would you like to close?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Yes.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Okay.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Mr. Chairman and members of the
