

the desk?

CLERK: Yes, sir. Mr. President, the next amendment I have... Senator Marsh would move to amend. Senator, may I ask, I'm not sure where this fits in?

SENATOR MARSH: This fits in on the first page. It was just skipped over, not meant to. It was supposed to have been in on Senator Beutler's amendment. Just for clarification, as it reads on page 1, I didn't put the bill number down, that's what you're having a little trouble with.

CLERK: No.

SENATOR MARSH: On the white corrected amendment?

CLERK: Right.

SENATOR MARSH: On the corrected amendment to the Beutler amendment, on line 19, strike "and homeowners". That was the intent of the amendment and it just simply got skipped over this one trip. Page 1, line 19, on the white copy.

CLERK: Yes, your amendment has that in there, that's why I'm confused.

SENATOR MARSH: But my amendment also had some other things in it.

CLERK: Oh, the only things you want then is that subsection...that subparagraph (a).

SENATOR MARSH: That one subsection.

CLERK: I see, okay. Mr. President, Senator Marsh would move to amend.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Point of clarification.

PRESIDENT: State it, Senator.

SENATOR BEUTLER: I think that...I guess I would like to know what is in subparagraph (a) of Senator Marsh's amendment because...

SENATOR MARSH: This simply clarifies the intent of what has
