

Pappas's amendment and Senator Vickers' amendment. I believe that this is a little heavy issue to lay on this body on the ending of the 20th day and I don't feel comfortable that we should try to accept something that is as far-reaching as Senator Pappas's amendment to Senator Vickers' amendment at this time. Now if the gentlemen would like to have an interim study on this issue, this would be fine, but to ask this body to vote and make a decision on an issue like this at this time, I know that they are sincere. I know that Senator Vickers is sincere in what he is trying to do and I am even going to go so far as to say, I know Senator Pappas is sincere in what he is trying to do, although it doesn't have anything to do with pigs. But at this time, I would like to say that we should not adopt Senator Vickers' amendment and then I will have to withhold my remarks, Madam President, on...not adopt Senator Pappas's amendment and I withhold my remarks on Senator Vickers' amendment. Thank you.

SENATOR MARSH: Senator Pappas.

SENATOR PAPPAS: Are there any more lights on after me?

SENATOR MARSH: Two.

SENATOR PAPPAS: Two. I think I will pass and just wait for a closing.

SENATOR MARSH: Senator Higgins.

SENATOR HIGGINS: Thank you, Madam President. We are right now addressing the Pappas amendment. Is that correct?

SENATOR MARSH: That is correct.

SENATOR HIGGINS: And not the Vickers amendment. Thank you. Senator Pappas, I have to plead ignorance to your amendment. As I understand it, the Vickers amendment says it would apply to any college, not just veterinary medicine. Could you just tell me briefly again what your amendment is going to do?

SENATOR PAPPAS: Yes. My amendment, what it does is basically the bill, 204, deals with veterinary medicine and surprisingly enough nobody has challenged Senator Vickers on a germaneness issue and my feeling is seeing this is
