

would be the driver.

SENATOR HIGGINS: But your amendment to the committee amendments says, anybody in the back seat that is drinking.

SENATOR SIECK: If they are in...

SENATOR HIGGINS: All right, if you are in a recreational vehicle and there is four people sitting around a table playing cards, and two of them are drinking Coke and two of them are drinking beer, how do the officers know who to ticket?

SENATOR SIECK: If they...he will tell...he will know which ones are drinking beer. If they have got the open container of beer in their hand...

SENATOR HIGGINS: Well, I mean, if they put them on the floor...

SENATOR SIECK: He will ask them and if they all deny it, he can't do a whole lot about it.

SENATOR HIGGINS: Well, they will all say, I was drinking...in other words, do you think this is enforceable?

SENATOR SIECK: Yes, I do. It is more enforceable than it was...it is at the present time. At the present time it is unenforceable to keep them from drinking on the public highways.

SENATOR HIGGINS: Well...

SENATOR SIECK: Because so many times you actually have to see them gulp it down in order to arrest them. And especially...(interruption).

SENATOR HIGGINS: They would actually have to see them drinking while riding in a car.

SENATOR SIECK: Right.

SENATOR HIGGINS: And the reason for your not wanting them to drink while riding, not driving but riding is what?

SENATOR SIECK: Okay, if they are drinking and there is
