LB 213

This would virtually keep the bill intact. It is just a different approach to the language. I've got a statement of intent I would like to read in. But I think I'd better ask that the motion be adopted to return. Then I'll read it when we consider the amendment itself. So I'm moving now to return the bill for that amendment.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Barrett.

SENATOR BARRETT: Thank you, Mr. President and members. I rise simply to agree with Senator Wesely, to urge the body to return the bill for the purpose of the amendment, one, a clarification of one word; secondly, to incorporate the so-called good government amendment into the bill which has been discussed by Senator Landis and myself on a previous occasion. It simply rewrites it into a more appropriate style. I urge the body to return the bill. Thank you.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Wesely, did you wish to close? Oh, excuse me, Senator DeCamp's light came on. Pardon me, Senator Wesely.

SENATOR DECAMP: Senator Wesely, before I vote to return it, and I'm in agreement as long as, so to speak, nobody jumps outside the walls of the agreement. You intend to read into the record, when it's back, a statement, right?

SENATOR WESELY: Yes.

SENATOR DECAMP: And it's...

SENATOR WESELY: I'll read it when the amendment is considered, not when the motion to return is.

SENATOR DECAMP: I realize that. You're not going to go outside that statement then?

SENATOR WESELY: No, I won't do like you did on Select File, John.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Gentlemen, gentlemen.

SENATOR WESELY: I'll read what is down there.

SENATOR DECAMP: Well, with that statement then I may get "pissy" about this and I mean it. Senator Wesely, we had an
