

Legislature and I got a...she is not chairman of the Telecommunications? Oh, Goodrich. My mistake. I have to throw that one away. But you see what I am getting at. She can vote on telecommunications issues even though Northwestern Bell has invited some of us to come in for some telecommunications conversations, but I don't see anything wrong with her doing things that help her employer. So, Senator Schmit does not have as much money as Northwestern Bell. I think I'm going to cast a vote and help Senator Schmit who has been helping his ten children. I'm going to let Senator Hoagland have the opportunity to stand up here and tell how I've been made a pretzel on this bill. I'm going to let him stand up and tell me how the "sleaze" bags who run the companies that produce these machines and pay those high-powered lobbyists who will be hired guns for anything if you make the money right, how they made my knees buckle. I'm going to give him that opportunity. How old Walt Radcliffe who worked in cahoots with Hoagland to destroy retrocession in the most treacherous fashion is back there chuckling now in his own inimitable wicked way saying, but I got Ernie on the big one, but Walt didn't get me on the big one. The "sleaze" bags who manufacture these machines didn't get me on the big one.

The thing that I hate about the bill is that the cities and the counties will still be allowed to be engaged in gambling and that I cannot brook, period. So if Senator Johnson and others can't do something about correcting that on Select File, the reasons that I have for supporting the bill at this stage are not strong enough to cause me to continue to support it, at least on Final Reading. Maybe I'll let Senator Hoagland and the World Herald shake a little bit until we get to Final Reading and then who knows what might intervene to make me change my mind then, but remember this. You allow the gambling in church, gambling for the schools and probably in the schools, gambling at Ak-Sar-Ben, gambling at Fonner, gambling at At-O-Kad, everywhere you turn there is gambling. So now this form is no more reprehensible than the others. The big problem with it as it exists now is that it will let the counties and the city...Senator Schmit, Senator Schmit, can I take a second
