

SENATOR V. JOHNSON: If they do, they can then gamble. I don't see any significant moral problem or ethical issue with that.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Hefner, then Senator DeCamp, then Senator Labeledz.

SENATOR HEFNER: Mr. Chairman, I call the question.

SPEAKER NICHOL: The question has been called. Do I see five hands? I do. The question is, shall debate cease? All those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Record, Mr. Clerk.

ASSISTANT CLERK: 26 ayes, 0 nays to cease debate, Mr. President.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Pappas to close. Okay, a call of the house has been called and Senator DeCamp is going to close. Would you please record your presence. I guess we'll take a vote on going under call, won't we? The question is, shall the house go under call? All those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Record, Mr. Clerk.

ASSISTANT CLERK: 12 ayes, 0 nays to go under call, Mr. President.

SPEAKER NICHOL: The house is under call. Would you please record your presence and those not in the Chamber, please return and record your presence. Unauthorized personnel please leave the floor. Please record your presence. Please look up at the board, ladies and gentlemen, and record your presence. Thank you. We're looking for Senator Hannibal, Senator Eret, Senator Landis, Senator Beutler, Senator Hartnett. Senator Labeledz, punch your other light, will you please. Thank you. Senator Eret. Senator Hartnett, please. Thank you. Senator Beutler and Senator Landis. Senator Landis is the only one not here. Senator DeCamp, would you like to begin closing, please.

SENATOR DECAMP: Yes. Mr. President, a few years ago a group of us got together, senators, and plotted to raid the University. We didn't have the votes and we didn't stand a chance on the votes. When we got to the floor my talk, I gave a fiery talk about property taxes and the evils of property taxes. Now the talk had nothing to do with the
