

are supposed to do. You know I heard some people saying they couldn't vote for that lottery bill because they are religious people. That statement was actually made. I can't vote for this lottery bill...I am talking about the video bill, because I am a religious person. That is what was said. But those religious have voted for Ak-Sar-Ben. So religion is one of those kind of things that can be used any way the person claiming it wants to use it. There are not many things that people will use religion to hide behind when they say they can't vote for it, but that was used on that one. So it is one of those...it is like those stretch clothes that they make that fit any size. Now I wonder how that religious individual can square that statement with what is being done...

SENATOR BARRETT PRESIDING

SENATOR BARRETT: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...here today. Strong enough to prevent a vote on the video slots, video lotteries, but not strong enough to save one from this kind of activity; boggles the mind. This won't be the only opportunity I will have to speak and Senator DeCamp is quite right in mentioning that others in the past have more successfully than I will do today used the tactic of numerous amendments, prolonged discussion, to fight issues that they felt strongly about, and I feel very strongly about this one. So I will be continuing my assault against that bill within the rules of the Legislature. And I trust that as long as Senator Barrett sits in the chair, he will be sure that the rules are enforced and I will not be allowed to talk more time than the rules allow and he has just given me the high sign letting me know that there is no question but what I have said is right on that score.

SENATOR BARRETT: The time is up, Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: See what I mean?

SENATOR BARRETT: Senator DeCamp to close.

SENATOR DECAMP: Mr. President, this is just the readvancement of the bill and I would ask at least to do that whether you are for or against it.
