

they get you into those boxes. Then later on you say, gee, I wish I hadn't done it, I wish I hadn't let John do this to me. John is behind all this. You are, John. You are very clever. I like to watch you operate. You are better than Mandrake the Magician, better than all of them put together. The thing about it, in the same way that the rings that the magician can separate and put together and a lay person cannot separate once they've been put together, or put together once they've been separated, don't even realize that they are the trick. The legislators don't realize that they are the tricks. They are the ones they manipulated. I can't manipulate you because I can't win a vote. But John is so good, and so capable that he has people walking around here thinking that what is in their head is their own thought. They think they thought that up, that they were just sitting there and four years of education at Yale culminated in that, what they call a thought. But they don't realize that John has been busy. Look at him, reinforcing now. John, you are good. I wish I could read what goes on in John's head. I probably wouldn't understand it, but anyway it would be quite an experience. Very enlightening. Nevertheless we are at a juncture now where Senator Vard Johnson is going to cave in and fold. He doesn't lift weights. He gets tired, physically. The body is the vehicle for the mind. When the vehicle is weakened and the mind and the body are so closely interrelated then the mind loses its ability to be tough, and it weakens a pace also. That is why the Greeks talked about the ideal being a sound mind and a healthy body, a sound mind and a healthy body. But around five o'clock the flesh grows weak. The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak, and the mind weakens with it. But some of us, or at least one of us stays at his post and continues the struggle which is what I am going to do. You might suspend the rules and take up Senator Warner's motion, but before you do that I would like a clarification. Mr. Clerk, I was not here, or the Chair I'll address the question to, then he can answer it. Am I to understand that the Warner motion is to suspend the rules, take up the Appropriations package and just have a vote on it without any division of the question, amendment, and whatever else? What all did they put in the basket?

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Chambers, it cannot be divided. That was your question, right? Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Can it be amended?
