

brighter light than we are right now so I'd ask all of you to not support suspension of the rules and not advance the bill at this time. There is no reason we can't go back to it tomorrow morning and take a look at the budget one more time.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Hoagland, please.

SENATOR HOAGLAND: I would make an inquiry of you, Mr. Speaker, and that is that if we advance the bill to Final Reading at this point, is it your intention not to schedule it for Final Reading until Tuesday or Wednesday so we would have no further opportunity to amend the bill?

SPEAKER NICHOL: No, sir, no, sir, not at all. We've got to get moving on these things. It is my intention to move them along as fast as possible. If you wait until Tuesday, you have no chance for override. Last day for amending is Monday.

SENATOR HOAGLAND: So one thing that occurs to me is if we move this over to Final Reading tonight and it is not scheduled again until Tuesday then we will have no opportunity to amend this again.

SPEAKER NICHOL: I don't think that would be true. I would think it would show up quite often. I don't want to promise you exactly when it would be up, but I would think it would be up for amending as soon as we need to do it.

SENATOR HOAGLAND: Which would be either Friday or Monday would be your plan?

SPEAKER NICHOL: Yes. Senator DeCamp. Were you through, Senator Hoagland?

SENATOR HOAGLAND: Yes.

SENATOR DECAMP: Question.

SPEAKER NICHOL: No, that is all. Senator Hannibal, did you wish to close?

SENATOR HANNIBAL: (Response inaudible.)

SPEAKER NICHOL: Okay. The question is the advancement of
