which days we will be working and which days we will not be working. I have run this by most of the members...most of the Chairmen of the various committees and didn't have too much opposition. So you may want to look at that so that you know when we are off and when we are on. In addition to that, today, tomorrow and the next day we will be talking about rules changes or rules and what we want to do about them, if anything, so that we can plan more carefully what we do after this week. Friday, as you know, we will be adjourning at noon and Representative Virginia Smith is having a meeting at one o'clock that some of you wish to attend. It has to do with the money that she is attempting to save for Nebraska which was originally for addition to the Vet College on the University of Nebraska Ag Campus. That, I understand, has been changed somewhat so that it is money for a food processing plant or something of that nature and she wishes to visit with those of you who are interested so that she knows whether or not we can continue to have interest in that money and are serious about putting in the portion of money from the state coffers that is necessary to maintain that money and to get that money for the Legislature. So, so much for this week's activities. Starting Monday of next week we will be back to bills that were held over from last session. Many of you had bills that were of priority nature and we didn't get to them, as you will recall, at the end of the last session. We will be taking up many of those bills beginning Monday. Friday we hope that we will be through those sufficiently so that we can have some consent calendar. Now I'm not talking about day after tomorrow, I am talking about a week from Friday at which time we will be having some consent calendar. So keep that in mind and that will probably be Friday afternoon or perhaps Friday morning, depending on what we do. Then on the 21st...the 20th is Martin Luther King Day which is a holiday and we will be taking off the 20th. The 21st, we will be starting on hearings the 21st. So, Chairmen of committees, keep that in mind so that you can plan your hearings starting the 21st of January. I don't know how long that will go because we will be discussing that today as to whether or not we limit bills and, of course, if we do limit bills, that length of time will be shorter than if we don't limit bills. So I can't give you that. You will notice that we plan to adjourn on April 15th, which is a nice, even, round day and you will want to have your income tax returns in on that day. So if we go according to schedule, we should be through by the 15th. I have been in
